B.C. Claims Continental Shelf

Offshore Squatters Foiled

By JACK FRY
Legislative Reporter

The provincial government Friday laid claim to the vast continental shelf lying underwater off the coast of B.C.

In an unprecedented move, the executive council passed an order establishing a Crown reserve on all the mineral and natural resources of the sea bed and subsoil of the continental shelf.

* * *

British Columbia has always claimed control of offshore mineral rights. The order, signed by Lieutenant-Governor Pearkes, Premier Bennett, Mines Minister Brothers and acting resources minister Eric Martin, formally recorded this claim in writing.

* * *

Meanwhile Attorney-General Bonner's reaction Friday night to a challenge by Prime Minister Pearson that changing of provincial boundaries is a federal right was blunt.

"Who has changed the provincial boundaries?" the attorney-general asked. (See right.)

Asked if the federal government stand would hold weight in a dispute between the two levels of government, Mr. Bonner said simply: "I'm not interested in federal reaction."

Did the federal stand surprise him?

"Nothing the federal government does surprises me."

He said he had anticipated reaction against the move but refused comment about the reaction.

"I've never seen an assertion that hasn't been challenged," he said.

The Attorney-General said earlier in an interview the

'Federal Right'—Pearson

HAMILTON (CP) — Prime Minister Pearson Friday challenged British Columbia's right to take over the continental shelf off the B.C. coast on grounds that the changing of provincial boundaries is a federal right.

Mr. Pearson, here to deliver an address to a Liberal dinner, noted that the matter of provincial ocean boundaries is before the Supreme Court of Canada.

"The decision of the Supreme Court will take precedence over any of Mr. Bennett's orders-in-council," he said in an interview. He declined further comment.

Hearing Next Year

OTTAWA (CP)—A cabinet-ordered reference to the Supreme Court of Canada concerning ownership of offshore mineral rights in British Columbia probably won't be heard until February, it was learned Friday.

William Burke-Robertson of Ottawa, who is to plead the B.C. case in the Supreme Court of Canada, said he wasn't aware of Friday's B.C. claim but added it was entirely consistent with the act of ownership.

"It will have no effect on the case going ahead."

Labor Minister on Scene For Dockside Emergency

By The Canadian Press

Labor Minister Nicholson was in Vancouver today in another attempt to resolve a dispute that has tied up West Coast shipping and developed into what The Commons agreed is a national emergency.

The minister, replying to opposition demands for immediate action, said an amendment to federal labor legislation may prove the only answer.

The B.C. Maritime Employers' Association has stopped calling out longshore gangs because of what it calls slowdown tactics. The dispute started Nov. 17.

In Vancouver, a spokesman for 200 dock foremen whose strike for recognition as a union, said Friday the foremen are ready to return to work as soon as the Maritimes Employers' Association agrees to open negotiations.

CALLED TALKS

Max Hearn, president of the foremen's local of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, made the statement at a news conference.

The foremen and longshoremen called the conference to outline their positions in the dispute which has brought shipping at British Columbia ports to a standstill and threatened hundreds of workers in other industries with layoffs.

There are no ships at Ogden Point awaiting loading

LINES DRAWN

A Canada Labor Relations Board ruling says that the foremen, because they are supervisory personnel, can't be given rights to bargain collectively.

"The lines are drawn," Mr. Nicholson said grimly in outlining the situation to the Commons during an emergency debate sparked by Howard Johnston (SC - Okanagan-Revelstoke).

Mr. Johnston said that by next week 10,000 forestry work-

40 Reported Involved

MPs' TV FEES SHAKE SEATS

OTTAWA (CP) — A number of MPs may have jeopardized their seats in Parliament by accepting CBC fees for broadcasting appearances and thus possibly breaking provisions of the Senate and House of Commons Act.

One published report, a story by Patrick Nicholson in the Oakville, Ont. Journal-Record, says 40 MPs may be involved.

The report said a general election next Feb. 6 "looms as more than a probability" because of the situation.

* * *

Opposition Leader Diefenbaker said Friday there is reason to believe some MPs may have acted in this way and some feel the government should introduce legislation to regularize their status.

"Retroactive legislation of that kind can't be justified in any way," he said.

The CBC is a publicly-owned corporation, financed partly by funds voted by Parliament and partly by revenues from broadcast advertising.

* * *

The Senate and House of Commons Act has provisions which originally were aimed at preventing governments from buying the votes of private MPs by making payments to them.

The penalties involved forfeiture of the MP's seat and $200 a day for every day he sits in Parliament after taking government money other than his regular salary as an MP.

A spokesman in Prime Minister Pearson's office said Mr. Pearson is aware of the whole problem associated with MPs and broadcasting fees but not of the specific situation described in the Oakville report.

* * *

The spokesman said he knows of no action planned in connection with it.

The situation has been simmering for months on Parliament Hill in the wake of questions asked last May 16 by Dr. Lewis Brand (PC — Saskatoon) but unanswered by the government.

Dr. Brand asked:

"Has any member of the present cabinet, during the past three years received an honorarium or fee from the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation

B.C.'s Bank Passes House of Commons

OTTAWA (CP) — A private member's bill incorporating the Bank of British Columbia won passage in the Commons Friday after a stormy ride through Parliament that began in 1964.

Passed earlier by the Senate, the bill now requires royal assent to make the new chartered bank legal.

Prisoner, Chief Killed in Jail

IRONTON, Ohio (AP) — The police chief of this Ohio River city of 16,000 and a prisoner were shot and killed Friday during a jailbreak that flashed into a wild gun battle.

A patrolman and another prisoner were wounded.

Only one prisoner escaped after the quarter-of-an-hour melee around the Lawrence County brick jail and courthouse.

The fugitive, 28-year-old Carl E. Halleck, surrendered Friday night about eight hours after the shooting of Police Chief Walter Eugene Markel, 41.

Police said he turned himself in to a private citizen.

Halleck, who was armed with a deputy's revolver when he fled, had been in jail on a charge of assault with intent to kill. After Friday's shooting, a charge of first-degree murder also was lodged against him.

Halleck and William (Jim) Bailey, also 28, were identified as the men who shot Markel and Patrolman Charles Jiles, 30, at close range when they entered the jail to answer a call for help.

Bailey, jailed Monday as a parole violator, started the jailbreak. He grabbed a gun when he was taken from his cell to use a telephone to call his lawyer.

He freed other prisoners. He and Halleck took guns from the officers and forced Henry to give them a submachine-gun with one clip of ammunition.

Over Talks

Cabinet Unrest In Rhodesia

SALISBURY (Reuters) — Reports of discontent inside the Rhodesian cabinet and the ruling Rhodesia Front party spread Friday as Premier Ian Smith and British Prime Minister Wilson held their Mediterranean summit talks.

The conference also was attacked by Negro politicians.

Many hard-line members of Smith's white-minority government were said to be worried just how far Smith was prepared to go in pacifying the British.

They wondered how far Smith would shift toward acceptance on British demands over the nature of the Rhodesian constitution and guarantees that advance to Negro majority rule would not be impeded.

Some reports said tough words were spoken at a special cabinet meeting earlier this week when Smith disclosed his plan to meet Wilson.

But the government officially denied reports that the law and order minister, Desmond Lardner-Burke, was hurrying to Salisbury from vacation.

Lardner - Burke, one of the strong men of the cabinet, was usually to be seen at Smith's elbow during previous parleys with the British. But he was out of town during Anglo-Rhodesian negotiations at the beginning of this week.

They're Still At Sea

GIBRALTAR (Reuters) — British Prime Minister Harold Wilson and Ian Smith, breakaway Rhodesian leader, will resume their discussions today aboard a British cruiser in the Mediterranean as they seek a way to settle the year - old deadlock over Rhodesian independence.

After cruising in choppy seas all day, the cruiser Tiger slipped briefly back into the outer harbor here Friday night and was met by a launch, probably carrying urgent mail flown from London.

China Blocks Way For Russian Arms

LONDON (UPI) — Peking has blocked the trans-shipment of all Soviet war supplies to North Viet Nam through Communist Chinese territory, diplomatic sources said Friday.

The blockade reflects a further worsening of relations between Moscow and Peking, they said. Russia has been pushing for a world summit conference to drum Communist China out of the Communist camp for its "splitting" tactics and rejection of efforts for a unified aid program for the Hanoi regime.

Military supplies from Russia and other Communist countries henceforth must be shipped by the more hazardous sea routes to Haiphong, North Viet Nam's major port city on the Gulf of Tonkin.

Only a few isolated deliveries have managed to get through China to North Viet Nam recently, but only after Hanoi had pleaded their importance and urgency with Peking, the sources said.

The latest Chinese move followed Peking's ban on the overflight of Chinese territory by Soviet planes a month ago.

U.S. LOSES SIX JETS IN DAY

SAIGON (UPI) — The United States lost six jet fighter - bombers Friday in raids against North Viet Nam, American military spokesman said today. All 11 airmen aboard five F4 Phantoms and one F105 Thunderchief were reported missing.

The loss fell short of tying the single day's record for the number of U.S. aircraft downed over North Viet Nam.

Heavy anti-aircraft fire was blamed for the losses as air force and navy jet fighter-bombers lashed targets near Hanoi.

Spokesmen said ground fire knocked down four of the jets. The other two crashed due to unknown causes.

Agency Picks 500

56,170 Cents All for Needy

The Colonist 500 Fund rolled up another record day of collections for the current year Friday as 36 separate donations brought in $561.70.

It was the highest one-day total to date and brought the fund to $3,317.05.

"Would appreciate some information as to how the recipients (the 500 most needy families in the area) are chosen," said one contributor.

In answer, the 500 families are selected by the Christmas Bureau, a Community Chest agency, from recommendations made by welfare agencies.

* * *

And there are no administration costs. Every cent of the fund goes to those who need it.

When this year's fund, the 10th annual 500 Fund, has been equally shared among the recipients, a total of 5,000 families will have benefited over the years.

When it is considered that the average family includes about four people, then it can be readily seen the fund will have been instrumental in brightening 20,000 Christmases.

People wishing to join this yuletide war on hunger and poverty may bring in or mail donations to The Daily Colonist, 2631 Douglas, or drop them off at the Avis Rent-A-Car office, 800 Douglas.

The Avis parking lot is avilable to those wishing to make a donation, and the office is open Sundays.

These people who made Friday the most victorious battle of the current campaign are listed on Page 2.

Tories Ignore Camp

Caucus Calls Policy Shots

By RON COLLISTER
Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — Alvin Hamilton, a leadership candidate on the rise, Friday nudged rebel leader Dalton Camp aside and asserted the power of the parliamentary caucus to make Conservative party policy.

* * *

He announced that the parliamentary caucus will hold a two-day policy-making session, in private, in Ottawa next weekend, Dec. 10-11.

Then he would go to Toronto, Montreal and Vancouver for meetings with policy liaison committees that he himself has organized.

* * *

And, in the spring, there may be a western provinces policy meeting at Banff.

To some, it was a naked attempt by Hamilton to push himself into the leadership vacuum caused by the decision of the national meeting to call a leadership convention.

* * *

Hamilton denied it. His concern, he said, was policies for the party, and he would drop the whole thing if people thought it was anything else.

Policy is usually initiated at the grass roots, at the national meeting of the party.

But, because of the leadership mess, the meeting scarcely touched policy. So, under Hamilton, policy will be initiated from the top, from the caucus.

There was a vacuum, he explained, because of the lack of policy dicussion at the national meeting.

* * *

"There is no discussion across the country of what the Conservative alternative is to the present government.

"We are trying to fill that vacuum."

* * *

It was the third caucus rebuke for the national meeting:

- The first was a petition signed by 71 MPs asking Mr. Diefenbaker to stay.
- The second was the purge of the party's national executive of nearly all the rebel MPs.

ers will be laid off. The B.C. fruit industry had demanded federal intervention to end the stoppage and prevent intolerable losses.

Mr. Nicholson indicated reluctantly that an amendment to the Industrial Relations and Disputes Investigation Act may be a solution.

APPEAL ALLOWED

The amendment would allow an appeal of the CLRB decision.

However, the minister still held hope that another solution would be found by today or sooner.

He told members longshoremen had offered Friday to unload ships from the Orient carrying perishable fruit and that foremen had offered to work without pay.

"That is an encouraging sign."

NOT EFFECTIVE

Opposition Leader Diefenbaker said that the Nicholson visit would be ineffective in a case where the disputants are not talking and won't accept mediation.

The Conservative leader said his party would support amendments to labor legislation at once if Mr. Nicholson thought they would help.

Roy Smith, president of the Canadian area of the ILWU, in Vancouver, repeated denials that longshoremen staged a slowdown on the waterfront in sympathy with the foremen.

Employers obtained an injunction to lift picketing by foremen Nov. 21 and cleared the way for the return to work of 4,000 longshoremen. They ceased daily hiring practices Tuesday, accusing the union of a go-slow policy.

B.C. Claims Shelf

government action "might have some effect" on an offshore oil rights jurisdictional dispute between B.C. and Ottawa but that "this has not been done with the offshore dispute in mind."

"It is a precautionary order anticipating the possibility of offshore squatting, as a result of some techniques recently developed in the United States, whereby people can roost on the ocean floor, and where in time I'm sure such activities can mine and deal with the terrain which lies beneath the water," he said.

"In our view it is purely a geological accident that the ocean tideshore happens to be where it is, and our feeling is the province of B.C. has every claim to that part of the province which happens to lie off the shoreline, as far out as it may be used by men.

"We are anticipating a considerable sub-ocean land use by people who will equip themselves with a means of living beneath the ocean," Mr. Bonner continued.

* * *

"We don't want to wake up one day to find a colony on our continental shelf over which we have no jurisdiction."

The attorney-general said British Columbia's action will in no way clash with Canada's 12-mile surface limit for fishing purposes, and he stressed that it was done to protect the future interests of British Columbians.

* * *

"If we can promote British Columbia's economy 150 feet offshore on the ocean floor, we'll do it," Mr. Bonner said.

The cabinet order set aside as Crown reserve "all those unalienated and unencumbered lands and interests in land, including the mineral and other natural resources of the sea bed and subsoil."

The new reserve includes all portions of the continental shelf "from the ordinary low-water mark" along the coastline to the limit of B.C.'s territorial waters, and beyond the territorial limit as far as the shelf "admits of use or exploitation."

Mr. Bonner conceded that the government's action, taken under the Land Act and the Petroleum and Natural Gas Act, might be challenged in the courts.

Caucus Calls Shots

● The third is Hamilton's statement, and he has enlisted some of the rebels in his search for policies.

* * *

"The moment you get down to discussing policies, the party tends to unite," he explained Friday.

But there was no doubt that Hamilton hopes the search will produce Diefenbaker policies.

Diefenbaker, he said, was "champion of the little people"—and these little people feared that Diefenbaker's principles were going to disappear from the party.

* * *

At a news conference to announce the policy blitz, Mr. Hamilton didn't mention party president Camp's name unless he was asked about him.

Had Camp been consulted? — "I have no conversations with Mr. Camp."

Who gave permission for the caucus to use party headquarters for its policy session? — "The national director" — loyalist Jim Johnstone.

Wasn't Mr. Camp talking about reviving his own Fredericton thinkers' conference? "I don't think there is any clash here," he replied.

Mr. Hamilton said next week's meeting will discuss resolutions that were submitted to the annual meeting and were not discussed there.

* * *

It would break down into five groups:

Fiscal and monetary (chaired by Waldo Monteith) and trade (George Hees).

Health, immigration and labor (Dr. P. B. Rynard, Richard Bell and R. E. Regimbal).

Urban policy (Alvin Hamilton).

Agriculture (H. W. Danforth and Warner Jorgenson).

Resources and national development (Davie Fulton and Walter Dinsdale).

* * *

Their decisions would be sent to the full caucus for ratification and Hamilton hoped there might be a concise statement on their decisions later.

Let Elderly Mother Have Her Hour of Relaxation

By JOSEPH MOLNER, MD

Your Good Health

Dear Dr. Molner: My mother, who is in her 80's, has high blood pressure and edema. She takes a pill for the latter and also a sleeping pill every night. Sometimes half an hour or so before the sleeping pill she takes a buffered aspirin or two for her arthritis. Can this do her heart any harm?

She sits in the chair about an hour after the sleeping pill and I become a nervous wreck for fear she will fall. She becomes very provoked when I try to get her to go to bed. — S.M.

Your problem — worry — is greater than hers. And the aspirin for arthritis will not harm her heart.

A sleeping pill often takes an hour to become effective and she probably knows when, and then is ready to retire.

As the aspirin relieves her painful joints and the sleeping pill helps her relax, sitting in her chair may be the best time of the day for her, short of being comfortably asleep.

At 80 she has her pattern of living rather well fixed, and trying to make her change is just an irritation to her. I assume that she has not fallen, and that it is a chair in which she can lean back.

Let her have her hour of relaxation.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 13 and every morning salt-like crystals form in my eyebrows. I would like to know what it is and what causes it. — L.B.

It sounds like a skin condition called seborrheic dermatitis. This is often associated with the scalp, too, and we call it dandruff. Consult a skin specialist.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: Could a person lose his mind from labyrinthitis? I get so dizzy at times. — C.R.

Labyrinthitis, which affects a part of the ears controlling balance, usually makes the patient dizzy but it has no effect on the mind.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: Is there a tea that cleanses the kidneys and bladder? — MRS. W.S.

No. If the organs are healthy, they cleanse themselves. If they are diseased, you need more than tea.

* * *

Note to Mrs. M.B.: Calcium in the diet appears to have no connection with gallstones. As to osteoporosis, adequate calcium in the diet plus hormones to correct altered metabolism may help.

UNanimity Beefs Up Thant Authority

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — The General Assembly gave U Thant a second five-year term as UN secretary-general Friday night by a vote of 120 to 0.

There was one invalid ballot in the 121-member assembly's secret vote.

The overwhelming endorsement was seen as a strong affirmation of Thant's authority to act on threats to world peace and to the functioning of the UN.

WORLD ISSUES

The job pays $65,000 a year, counting all allowances.

The 54-year-old Burmese diplomat had decided earlier this week to bow to requests by member governments to stay in office, giving rise to speculation that the big powers agreed to provide fuller co-operation with his action on world issues.

Thant, considered a candid and forthright man by the standards of international diplomacy, has been openly critical of U.S. policy in Viet Nam and of Soviet and French unwillingness to lend their authority and give money to UN peacekeeping operations.

When he announced Sept. 1 his intention to retire, he complained that member countries frequently looked upon the office of secretary-general as that of a glorified clerk—and sought to limit his opportunities for effective action.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur Goldberg told reporters that "the broad role of the secretary-general under the UN Charter" was the issue involved in the long consultations that led Thant to change his mind.

Win-or-Die Warning Aimed at Both Sides

AMMAN, Jordan (UPI)—King Hussein told the nation Friday Jordan will continue its "state of war" with Israel until "our right to return (to Palestine) has been won or we die for that purpose."

The young king's speech over Amman radio was aimed clearly at other Arab nations who have been supporting anti-Hussein agitation in Jordan.

CERTAIN STATES

Without naming Syria and the United Arab Republic, he accused certain fellow Arab states of trying to make Jordan a "scapegoat" for the fulfillment of designs which would play into Israel's hands.

Syrian and Egyptian broadcasts had charged Hussein with denying arms to Palestinian refugees on the Jordanian-Israeli border, thus leaving them defenceless before such Israel raids as the retaliatory incursion into Jordan Nov. 13.

WITH IRON FIST

The Jordanian king warned any troublemaking with Jordan would be dealth with "mercilessly and with an iron fist."

His warning, ostensibly directed at Israel, appeared also to be applicable to Syria, Egypt and the fire-breathing Palestine Liberation Organization, which advocates militant action against Israel.

(At the Vatican, Pope Paul, gravely concerned over threats of renewed hostilities, issued a special appeal for peace in the Holy Land.)

BURIED HEADS

Hussein said Jordan had been left alone to face Israel by erstwhile Arab allies. He recalled Jordan faced the Israli plan to divert the headwaters of the River Jordan "while most Arab officials buried their heads in the sand."

He said "those who are well-known for their misleading propaganda, believing they are far away from the Israeli danger, thus left Palestine" and devoted their attention to "their socialist and revolutionary comrades."

'NEW VICTIM'

Of Egyptian and Syrian pressure to make Jordan accept Soviet aid and arms, Hussein said "they want Jordan to be a new victim to implement their evil plan."

Hussein also hit back at Cairo and Damascus radio attacks on Jordan for refusing to allow Egyptian-led Arab commando ground forces enter his country.

SECRET MEETINGS

"They forgot," he said, "the secret meetings during which they admitted they did not have enough forces" to join the defence against Israel "because they are facing war in the Yemen."

The Yemen struggle, Hussein added, "is exhausting Arab strength and taking Arab blood away from usurped Palestine."

LEFT UNEXPECTEDLY

Informed sources in Cairo said Ahmed Shukeiry, leader of the Palestine Liberation Organization, left unexpectedly for Damascus Friday.

The sources said Shukeiry will hold "consultations on the present Arab situation and recent developments in Jordan."

Shukeiry returned to Cairo Thursday from a tour of the Gaza Strip where he gave a number of strongly-worded anti-Hussein speeches.

Refugee Aid

Canada's Million Starts It

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — Canada, leading off at a United Nations pledging conference Friday for the support of Arab refugees in Palestine, announced it will donate $1,200,000 in 1967.

The donation to the United Nations relief and works agency for Palestine refugees will take the form of $700,000 in wheat flour and $500,000 in cash, subject to parliamentary approval.

PEARSON AIDE

Canadian delegate Pierre Elliott Trudeau, parliamentary secretary to Prime Minister Pearson, said the contribution is an indication of Canada's continuing support for the agency's efforts.

Altogether, 32 governments pledged $30,100,000.

The agency is attempting to assist some 1,300,000 refugees and dependants uprooted by the 1948 Arab-Israeli conflict and partition of Palestine.

Later, Canada announced a separate contribution of $350,000 for the general program of UN assistance to refugees throughout the world in 1967.

Unknown Red

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union is to have an Unknown Soldier. Tass says the remains of a soldier killed in the December, 1941, defence of Moscow against the German Army will be buried at the foot of the Kremlin wall.

The Big Stick

THERE ARE TWO ways to interpret the reported U. S. opposition to Canada's treatment of the Mercantile Bank (owned by First National City Bank of New York) and the U.S. Federal Power Commission rejection of the contract to sell western Canadian national gas in the Pacific Northwest.

One is that these are two further examples of the U.S. using the big stick by threatening retaliation in order to superimpose its will on the Canadian government and so take another step towards complete economic and political domination of this country.

The other is that these are just normal forays into the seas of commerce whereby the two countries are using legitimate trading tactics to secure the best possible deals they can achieve by rocking the boat without overturning it in the process.

If the first of these interpretations is accepted, then it is a highly serious affair. It would be hoped in such circumstances that the Canadian government —weak on the domestic front—will have the fortitude to stand up and continue its opposition to whatever pressures Washington may see fit to apply.

On the other hand if it is merely a trading gambit, two parties can play that game and there is no doubt Canada with its vast untapped natural resources of materials which U.S. needs now, and will need to a greater degree in the future, is battling on firmer ground.

In the matter of the Mercantile Bank of Canada, the U.S. is annoyed that the institution under the proposed new Bank Act will have its growth potential severely trimmed and kept roughly at the level which it now enjoys.

This is because the Mercantile Bank is now wholly-owned by Citibank of New York, and is thus under U.S.—or more spcifically Rockefeller—control.

The Canadian government, and many others, fear that if the Mercantile Bank is not held in check, its U.S. parent could create such a sphere of domination that it could upset the controlling influences of the Bank of Canada.

It is to be noted, of course, that not all Canadian bankers feel this way. The Bank of Montreal, which since its inception has always been closely allied to the U.S., has indicated through its president, G. Arnold Hart, that it does not favor discrimination against the Mercantile Bank.

The government's strong hand is the fact that it warned the New York bank before it bought full control of Mercantile Bank from the Dutch, that some such action would be taken against them. In other words the new bank act is not strictly speaking retroactive so far as this deal is concerned.

In the matter of the natural gas deal, the Federal Power Commission's rejection of the contract which provided for the sale of B.C. gas by Westcoast Transmission to El Paso Natural Gas also suggests use of the big stick.

The FPC thinks that the price which El Paso has agreed to pay is too high, and says it will only approve if Westcoast agrees to a lower tariff. Many may feel this is fair enough although there are others who disagree with the theory that U.S. firms should be able to buy natural gas from Canada at a lower price than it is sold at in Canada. At present B.C. Hydro is paying nearly twice as much for natural gas as Westcoast is getting for exporting it to the U.S. under the old contract.

Unrelated though the two items may be, they are all part of the general package that is distributing all those who wish to see a harmonious understanding between two independent nations rather than of a feudal-vassal arrangement that can only lead to bitterness.

Neither Shall He Eat

PERHAPS MANY of us need a reminder from time to time that socialism as practiced in the Communist nations of the world and "welfare-statism" as increasingly practiced in free-enterprise democracies are less akin than they might appear.

One such reminder comes in an article in the Soviet News Bulletin on the national income of the U.S.S.R. and how it is distributed. A part of the article brings home the difference between what might be called a "brother's keeper" concept, and socialism as defined in the Concise Oxford Dictionary: the "principle that individual freedom should be completely subordinated to the interests of the community. . ."

For the first, one can look pertinently to a policy and a potential policy of Canada's federal government.

Not everyone agrees—not by any means—but nevertheless it has been set out in the new Canada Assistance Plan that even a man who refuses to work still has a right to public support: he and his family need only demonstrate a need for financial help.

The potential policy, as suggested by Welfare Minister Allen MacEachen in July, would take this right to public assistance a step farther. At that time Mr. MacEachen said consideration should be given to a guaranteed minimum income for all Canadians: "It seems to me, at least, that the guaranteed minimum income offers at one and the same time a more comprehensive approach to social security and a more acceptable measure to assist the disadvantaged members of our country."

Contrast this with these excerpts from the article on the distribution of the Soviet income:

"'He who does not work, neither shall he eat'—such is the law of socialist society. Every able-bodied member of society provides the means of subsistence for himself and his family only by personally participating in some sort of socially gainful work. Members of society who have become incapacitated because of old age or sickness are provided state pensions. . ."

"Distribution according to work done is the economic law of socialism. Under socialism there does not exist the necessary abundance of goods which would permit the distribution of the means of subsistence according to needs; besides, work as such has not yet become a prime necessity in people's lives. . . Higher labor productivity makes it possible to increase wages. Labor productivity, however, must grow faster than wages. This means a more rapid increase of the funds used for social needs..."

"Sorry, Unrecognizable Old Pal O'Mine"

German Problem at the Core

Pointers to a Cold War Thaw

By ROBERT STEPHENS from London

BRITAIN'S move towards the European Common Market, has coincided with the revival of hopes of lessening the East-West tension in Europe through new agreements between Russian and America. Both these trends raise the question of Germany's present and future role in Europe. They also underlie the government crisis in Bonn. This began over the budget and fresh taxation, but the break-up of the old coalition under Chancellor Erhard and the forming of a new coalition also reflect different views in West Germany about the country's relations with its two principal allies in the West — France and the United States — and also its dealings with the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe, especially Eastern Germany.

Although the Common Market deals so far only with the economic affairs of its members, the idea of an integrated united Europe, which originally inspired its creation, has an obvious relevance to the future of a divided Germany and the security of Europe.

First and foremost, the integration of Western Germany into the European community was seen as a way of preventing a revival of dangerous German nationalism. It was intended both to reconcile Germany with her former West European enemies, especially France, and at the same time to prevent the West Germans from embarking on any independent warlike adventure of their own, whether towards the West or the East. The aim was to complement the military integration of West Germany inside NATO with her economic and political integration inside the European community.

Looked at from the West, these aims appear to be fulfilled or to be on the way to fulfilment to a large extent. This holds good despite the withdrawal by President de Gaulle from the integrated NATO system and his opposition to supra-national integration in the Common market.

West Germany has become an ally and friend of her former enemies in the West and has settled her disputes with them, such as the Saar and the frontier with the Netherlands.

But how does it look from the other half of Europe, to Germany's neighbors in the East? Western journalists had an unusual opportunity to find an answer to this question at an East-West conference held in London.

Organized by Mr. Cecil King's Daily Mirror group of newspapers, which supports the British Labor government and has been urging Mr. Wilson into the Common Market, the conference brought together leading newspaper editors from Britain, the Netherlands, Poland and Czechoslovakia for a two-day discussion of European economic, political and security problems.

It rapidly became clear that fear and suspicion of a resurgent German nationalism still dominates Polish and Czechoslovak official thinking, even as presented in a more flexible and unofficial form by the newspaper editors. This might have been expected from past reading of Eastern European pronouncements. What was perhaps surprising was that in spite of the sharp difference of attitude towards West Germany by the Poles and the Czechs on the one side and the British and Dutch journalists on the other, there emerged a remarkable amount of agreement on what might be done to deal with the German problem and to ease tension in Europe.

The conference showed first of all that while there might be different views about the desirability of reuniting Germany, there was widespread agreement that German unity was in any case a very remote prospect. There was also general agreement that the prospect of a continued partition of Germany should not be allowed to hold up other steps to reduce East-West tension in Europe.

It was pointed out on both sides that this principle had been recently accepted by President Johnson in his New York speech of October 7 when he said that German reunification should come about as a result of an increasing detente in Europe, rather than the other way round. In his steps towards a detente President Johnson put first military measures such as a nuclear non-proliferation treaty and a reduction of troops on both sides in Europe, as well as an increase in East-West trade.

The Polish and Czech editors formulated the approach to a detente as the "normalisation" of relations between European countries of East and West. Although they have been advocates of a European security conference, unexpectedly their main emphasis at the London meeting was on political rather than military "normalisation" — except for the key question of nuclear weapons.

The Polish and Czech proposals can be summed up in five points:

1. The recognition of Germany's existing frontiers — including the controversial Oder-Neisse border between Germany and Poland.

2. Recognition that the Munich agreement of 1937, which gave Nazi Germany a large part of Czechoslovakia, is null and void. Bonn's equivocation on this point has been an obstacle to the development of closer relations between West Germany and Czechoslovakia.

3. An end of the Hallstein Doctrine of the Bonn government, which rejects diplomatic relations between West Germany and any country, except the Soviet Union, which also recognizes East Germany diplomatically. This doctrine rules out full diplomatic relations between Bonn and the East European nations.

4. A total renunciation by West Germany of the acquisition as well as the manufacture of nuclear arms.

5. Recognition by the Western Powers and Bonn of the East German state.

Of these points only the fifth aroused any strong opposition from the British and Dutch editors in the discussion. And even those who opposed formal recognition because the East German regime was not nationally representative, even to the extent of other East European Communist regimes, or because Bonn could not be expected to accept it, regarded at least de facto recognition of the East German state as inevitable.

★ ★ ★

The interesting point is that this attitude is not far from that of many people in West Germany now. The Erhard government had begun to move away from the Hallstein Doctrine, and tried to cultivate better relations with the East European states, except for East Germany. It is possible to imagine a future government in Bonn accepting the first four of these points, particularly if there were some sign of a relaxation of political conditions in East Germany and an easing of the bitter Communist propaganda attacks which constantly accuse West Germany's rulers of being revanchists and warmongers.

Indonesia's Chinese

Last Hate-Figures

By JOHN BUTLER from Jakarta

THERE is a long and unhappy history behind Indonesian hatred of the Chinese. Just now this is reaching strident intensity. The reason is that Indonesians badly need someone on whom they can vent all the frustration they feel at what is wrong with their country. And the Chinese (there are about three million in the country) are the only hate-figures left.

The traditional scapegoats — the old imperialist Dutch, the new imperialist British, the Malaysian "threat" —have all gone, and it is not possible just yet, at least while Sukarno is still president, to indulge in an all-out orgy of blaming the leadership.

That leaves the Chinese minority, economically very powerful, possessed not only of wealth but of the professional and commercial skills which have for generations made money out of Indonesia.

The Chinese record here is not one calculated to make them lovable. The Dutch used them cynically as middlemen between themselves and the local population. They enjoyed a position privileged far above the natives who regarded them as the ruthless agents of a harsh imperial power. They were — still are — fiercely exclusive, building their own schools, living in their own tight communities, refusing to identify with the local population.

Since independence in 1949 their official standing has depended on the current state of Indonesia's relations with Peking. In 1955 an agreement between the two powers decreed that within two years Chinese living in Indonesia with dual nationality must opt for either Chinese or Indonesian nationality. At the moment 1,500,000 have taken out Indonesian citizenship papers. Probably as many as 100,000 hold Chinese passports. Most of the others are technically stateless because they just never bothered with the formalities of citizenship.

Since independence, also, there has been a series of laws aimed at curbing their economic power, but the Chinese have usually managed to find a way around these. For example no Chinese is allowed by law to register a company and this led to the growth of "Ali Baba" firms: Ali for the Indonesian whose name is on the official licence, Baba for the Chinese who owns the business, makes the profits, and gives Ali his cut.

The same pattern of winking the official eye continued more or less easily until the attempted Communist coup last year, and as far as big business is concerned it still does, though the appropriate cut to the right Ali is probably larger than it has ever been.

But since last year investigations — most spectacularly in Dr. Subandrio's trial when it was revealed that China had offered to provide aid to arm "a fifth force" to be unknown to the army — have shown the extent of Chinese involvement in the attempted coup both from outside and within Indonesia. There have been some ugly incidents of mob and individual violence and the climate of popular feeling grows constantly more vengeful.

This has been particularly so in the island of Sumatra. In riots there last December 160 Chinese were killed, shops looted, property burned down. Now every day there are stories, recounted with considerable gloating in the press, of the plight of thousands of Chinese refugees kicked out of one province and shunted round from makeshift camp to camp in ever worsening conditions. The story is that these are waiting, at their own request, for repatriation to the Chinese People's Republic, but so far only one ship has arrived from China, complete with armed guards, to gather in the diaspora, and it took away a mere thousand refugees.

Large numbers who can afford to pay their won way to more congenial Chinese communities like the Philippines have already left by air and sea, and many more obviously want to go. In recent months the screws have been tightening in a series of orders which have been at worst cruelly repressive, at least humiliating.

Last month it was forbidden for Chinese shops and offices to have their name signs in Chinese characters and the homes of all Chinese are to have their names clearly displayed in Latin characters outside. Down in Glodok, the Chinese quarter of Jakarta, an increasing number of the shops are barred up during the day and few restaurants open at night. Chinese has been forbidden as a language for use on the telephone and Chinese Indonesian citizens have been warned against listening to Radio Peking.

In Jogjakarta thousands of students pulled down the name boards outside Chinese shops and the demonstration was described as "proceeding in an orderly manner."

Talking to even the most liberal Indonesians they may go out of their way to tell you that their doctor, dentist, some of their best friends are Chinese, but then they will continue with ghoulish stories of Chinese ruthless cunning which recall the anti-semitic propaganda myths used in Nazi Germany to present the Jew as the traditional Shylock grinding the native poor.

What is most alarming to the outsider is that the strident demands for "a solution to the Chinese problem" come loudest from just those forces in the country preoccupied with building a new Indonesia which will respect human rights, personal freedom, social justice, particularly of course the students. But even the new leaders, the men of the liberal enlightenment, are allowing themselves to be drawn in. Speaking in Tokyo recently Adam Malik, the foreign minister, volunteered that the Chinese population in Indonesia was a headache now and would be in the future. "What should be our attitude?" he asked. "Should we allow things to go by as in the past? They receive all the facilities, all the opportunities to exploit Indonesia."

Most depressing of all, General Suharto, usually so admirably loath to indulge in public witch-hunting and recrimination, has been provoked into talking of "the national problem of Chinese assimilation." He said that as long as the Chinese Indonesians remained an isolated group they would always be a danger as potential stooges for a foreign power.

Up to now an official distinction has been maintained between those Chinese who have become Indonesian citizens and those who remain "foreign nationals." But a Chinese face is a Chinese face and no mob bent on looting and destruction has yet been known to stop and ask for a passport.

★ ★ ★

The one question that gets well and truly begged is whether Indonesia can afford to do without her Chinese population. Since the expulsion of the Dutch businessmen in 1957, followed during confrontation by the British and Americans, they are the only substantial group with the entrepreneur skills to keep trade moving at all. And in the present disastrous state of the economy those skills are needed more than ever. This is a loaded question to put to an Indonesian. The fact that Indonesians are, at the moment at least, patently incapable of dealing with the hard facts of daily economic life like transport, distribution, marketing, is a rankling humiliation which is yet another reason for resenting the long privileged Chinese. What seems certain is that the economy, currently shaking on its all but last legs, will totter even more dangerously if the Chinese leave in vast numbers.

More Baffled Than Before

Our Readers' Views

To be considered for publication in whole or in part, letters must be on subjects of general interest and if signed with pseudonyms, must be accompanied by writer's name and address. Preference will be given to those that are brief.

I HAVE before me the chief of the defence staff's message to unit commanders and I am more baffled by "unification" of the armed forces than I was.

General Allard says that "officers and men serving in the service at the time of the proclamation of the new act will not be required to serve in a different combat environment from those associated with their original terms of engagement . . ." This implies that those who join later may be required to do so. In his speech of Oct. 3 in Toronto, Mr. Hellyer said, "The job functions will remain as always to those who are trained for them — just as they are in the separate services." One can understand interchange in many administrative jobs, but what does the general mean by "combat environment?"

The general says that army ranks will be used in the unified force but that "If . . . an individual prefers to be designated by rank traditional to his former service, he will have the option to do so." This will cause confusion compounded in the navy and air force, and how will the poor civilians sort it out?

We learn that "Occupational clothing will continue to be worn in relation to specific employment." Presumably this means that when on the job, officers and men will wear the clothing now worn. Also, "Regimental dress uniforms will remain unchanged," and, lastly, "Members of the three services . . . may continue to wear their present mess dress." On top of all this, there is to be a "walking-out dress" common to all.

Mr. Editor, this is a naval and garrison town in which dwell thousands of men of the three services. How often do you see a serviceman in uniform on our streets? You see many in cars and at bus stops, either leaving or going to the various service establishments. They are either going home to change into civilian clothes or they are going to work. Must they have a special dress for these journeys? I suspect that they will not stop to change into it before they step into their cars or buses. It would appear that the main user of the "walking-out" dress will be the sailor going ashore in harbors other than his home port.

If the men in the services are to wear their present dress during working hours and on ceremonial occasions, may wear their mess dress in the evenings and may, on most occasions, change into civilian clothes when off duty, why on earth should be taxpayers provide them with "walking-out" uniforms of a different design at an astronomical cost?

This business would be farcical were it not that these men with the "Alice-in-Wonderland" minds have in their hands the safety of our country, whose citizens are indifferent to the danger confronting it.

Unhappy Kids

I have been visiting your city for the past three months and am leaving for home. I have found it to be a very pretty place, but apart from the lovely climate, it left me cold as I have found it to be very unfriendly and dead. But what struck me most was the fact you take such great interest in everything under the sun, beautifying the city, giving senior citizens a lovely centre so they will be happy, but the most important thing that is overlooked is the young people here and nothing is done for them. There is nothing in this town for them and it seems no one gives a hoot.

After reading the account of the trouble in your paper Nov. 22 where teens tore a centre apart is evidence that they need consideration and soon. You ask why they do such things; well, the answer is very clear if you will use your eyes. They are a very unhappy bunch of kids here, from the time they are little, people are after them to keep quiet, they can't do this and they can't do that — the old people don't like it. Everything here is geared for the retired, you build big apartments for them, you want people from other provinces to come and retire here and you want a quiet city. So, you neglect the young for the old, who won't be long here anyway, but the young people will. So, they take out their frustrations by rebelling with damage and being rowdy. There is juvenile trouble that never reaches the courts, so one must assume there is more than the quoted figures.

I have seen and spoken to many youngsters while being here and nearly all of them say they will leave here when they finish school and go where there's more life.

Why cannot a centre be found for these kids, supervised by the community welfare council, the police, who would be advisers, and the young people themselves, who could select their own officers and police it and make the rules and regulations. There could be dances, socials, etc., and the parents could assist with the refreshments. I think that properly put to the young people, they would be all for it and the rowdies would soon learn to behave or else.

I come from Toronto and there's so much going for the young people, though there are the problem ones, but young people given the opportunity will quickly learn to govern themselves and I'm sure would find a great deal of happiness and a decent way to let off steam. I hope that this would be helpful and something will be done for the young people — they certainly need help. Perhaps when I come back this way again they will have a centre and they will be happy.

Teachers' Pay

I should like to congratulate the writer of the article "Bargaining degrades education."

I think that teachers' salaries should be based on a minimum of three and preferably five-year contracts with a clause which would give them an automatic increase to cover the annual cost-of-living increase if any.

I was amazed that the teachers would degrade their profession by their recent publication in the newspapers in which they compared their salaries with non-professional categories. They conveniently forgot to mention the following salient points:

1. Security of employment. One never sees an unemployed teacher. In fact the newspapers are full of advertisements for teachers.

2. Their annual holidays of at least three months. There is no profession or other category of employee who enjoys such long vacations with pay.

I think that the teachers' demands are altogether unreasonable and I hope our school trustees will stand firm in the interests of the taxpayer.

The teaching profession is one of the most important in any country and I accept the fact that they work hard and have a long training. However they are not alone in this and I feel that their present conditions with the added benefits I have enumerated, make them a very fortunate community. Only our MPs and MLAs enjoy longer vacations with pay and I blame the people for allowing them to vote themselves such conditions which are altogether unwarranted.

Today In History

By The Canadian Press

St. Francis Xavier, the Roman Catholic missionary pioneer in Asia, died 414 years ago today — in 1552 — aged 46, near Canton. At his death he was waiting, in vain, for permission to open a mission in China. Born in Spain, Francis was one of the first members of the Jesuit order and was assigned to the Portuguese Indies in 1541. He visited Japan eight years later, after meeting a Japanese citizen, and baptized 2,000 converts in two years. Francis was canonized in 1622.

1925 — George Gershwin played his Concerto in F, the first classical composition in jazz, at Carnegie Hall, New York.

First World War: Fifty years ago today — in 1916 — German submarines bombarded Funchal on the island of Madeira, killing 34 people; the Romanian 1st Army retreated beyond Titu and the 2nd Army southwest of Bucharest.

Second World War: Twenty-five years ago today — in 1941 — Germans threatened reprisals after a German soldiers' cafe in Paris was sabotaged; the third Belgian contingent reached Britain after training in Canada; German attackers on Moscow were repulsed.

Colonist King Fisherman Winners Rewarded

Big Winners Get Awards

Donors and Winners Pose with Prizes

Among trophy fish of the year in contest were these donors and winners: Fred Tanner of Victoria Photo Supply who presented prize to Mrs. Tarj Rosech of Duncan, who accepted the award for a 63-pound Tyee caught at Comox by her son, Gary; Roger Spurling of Colwood Pharmacy who presented zoom lens moving picture camera to Joe Sears for 48.3-pound spring from Secretary Island, Sooke; Richard Bower, publisher of The Daily Colonist; Cliff Rutledge, of the T. Eaton Co. Ltd. presenting outboard motor to Joe De Bodt of Cowichan Lake, who won the Coho award with 21.6 coho; and Bill Dunnett of Imperial Oil Ltd. who presented the award for the largest bass to 14-year-old Darrel Teng.

Biggest Fish Ever Weighed In

Biggest fish ever weighed into Colonist King Fisherman contest was weighed in by John Saxer, left, of Wellington, a 77-pounder; outstanding fish-of-the-year went to Eoin Sutherland, next, for 11.9 brown trout from Cowichan River on a fly; Peter Olson claimed trophy for 18.2 steelhead from San Juan River and Pioneer sleeping bag from Jeune Bros.' Graeme Scott; Bob Kennedy won trophy and prize from Jeune Bros.' Alex Dehart; four-time winner of Compleat Trophy, Sid Upton, claimant of all six buttons again this year, won special award of $100 from The Daily Colonist for a 6.8 bass caught in Elk Lake.

Varsity Pickets Defy Rain

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — Rain-coated pickets at the University of California pushed forward their classroom strike Friday, demanding speedy action on their demands from an administration seeking a "slow, thoughtful solution."

The pickets paraded in a gusty, whipping rainstorm, urging students not to attend classes until the administration meets demands springing from nine arrests during a demonstration Wednesday.

* * *

It was difficult to estimate the effect of the strike since the university does not keep attendance records.

The administration described the boycott as "minimal," but rebel leaders said nearly 9,000 of the school's 27,500 students took part when the strike began Thursday.

Two Die from Snow

Squalls, Blizzards Sweep U.S.

By UPI

Violent great lakes squalls Friday dumped traffic-bogging snows on snowbelt communities in New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio. Sub-zero and near-zero cold chilled the nation from the rockies to New England.

A new December storm battered the North Pacific coast and dumped foot-deep snows in the Oregon Cascades.

The mercury fell to 23 below zero at Glendive, Mont., Friday and the weather bureau said temperatures Saturday morning would hit zero or below in 10 states from North Dakota to Maine.

COLD WARNINGS

Cold wave warnings were up for many sections of the north Atlantic seaboard.

Snow was nearly 4 feet deep on the level at Mayville in western New York and Adams in northern New York. Up to 18 inches of snow piled into 4-foot drifts in northeastern Ohio and there was a 24-inch accumulation at Ashtabula.

The New York state thruway authority closed a blizzard-swept 41-mile section of superhighway between the Pennsylvania line and Silver Creek, N.Y. Rush hour traffic was snarled on the Buffalo Skyway.

The first hard storm of the season zeroed in on the San Francisco Bay area. Gale warnings were hoisted. Heavy snow was predicted in the California Sierras and the Oregon and Washington Cascades.

Nine to 12 inches of snow fell in the southern Oregon Cascades, and Klamath Falls, Ore., got five inches. Northern California rivers were filling from the snow melt but observers said there was no immediate danger of flooding.

More than 160 men worked around the clock to clear streets at Erie, Pa., where there was 11 inches of snow on the ground and four to five more inches expected.

TWO FEET OF SNOW

Northern Ohio counties near Lake Erie got 15 to 18 inches of snow Thursday night and Friday, increasing depths on the ground to more than two feet.

Two elder Cleveland men collapsed and died after shoveling snow, boosting the total of weather deaths in the area this week to 13.

Eight inches of snow fell in northern Vermont. Snow squalls continued there and cold wave warnings were posted for much of New England.

Gales, Rain, Seas Batter Europe

LONDON (AP) — Gales and rainstorms battered the British Isles and Europe again Friday.

Six vessels, including a lightship, were in trouble in towering seas around Britain.

The seven-man crew of a drifting channel lightship was snatched to safety in a rescue eight miles off England's Kent coast.

Lifeboats and planes stood by to aid four ships in trouble in the Irish Sea near the Isle of Man.

The storms in the British Isles left at least four dead, including a 15-year-old boy electrocuted near Liverpool when a power cable was hit by a falling tree.

Moscow reported some of the severest winter weather in years in the Soviet Far East, with traffic stalled in some areas after a six-hour blizzard.

12-foot flowers. Ghost towns. Parading whales. Spanish missions. Movie studios.

High-powered flowers. You need a ladder to measure Southern California's winter poinsettias. They reach up to roof eaves, peer over patio walls. Some geraniums grow just as tall. Or form 100-foot-long hedges. Or cover entire front yards.

Gold-rush days. At a desert mine, you can pan gold ore, walk through the spooky tunnels. At a restored ghost town, you'll ride the mine train, visit the old fire house. Many colorful mining camps will remind you of movie sets. But they're real.

Nature's greatest parade. If you've ever watched ducks or geese migrate, you should see whales do it! And they do, by the thousands, right by the Pacific shore in winter . . . whales bigger than most yachts.

Spanish California. Romantic missions, about the age of the U.S., still exist here. Often they're just off the freeway! See their massive adobe arches, hand-carved altars, and primitive Indian art.

Lights, action, camera! Go behind the scenes at a major movie-and-TV studio that conducts tours for visitors. See film sets, stars' dressing rooms, a live stunt show, movie rain, a push-button snow storm.

Southern California: the vacation at hometown prices

All four seasons are vacation seasons in Southern California. That's unusual, but good. With visitors coming out here all year, we can afford to be reasonable. Most hotels, motels, restaurants and shops charge about what you'd pay at home.

Skyline drive. Mulholland Drive, along the crest of the Santa Monica Mountains, offers breathtaking views of Los Angeles. Many homes are on stilts, or suspended on pedestals, or on lots carved out of canyon walls!

Lemonland U. S. A. When it's deep winter elsewhere, enjoy a sunny lemonade in lush groves that drowse beneath sheltering mountains. Many trees are trimmed square to produce more fruit. And do they produce: up to 3,000 lemons per year, per tree!

Man-made oases. Irrigation has turned desert sands into rich date gardens in an area called the "Arabia of America." People have backyard date palms instead of apple trees. You can try date candy or cake, a date milk shake.

Gem stone souvenirs. On a balmy winter day, picnic in a desert canyon, then look around for gem stones worth saving. Visitors often find opals, jasper, agate or petrified wood. Sometimes Indian arrowheads, unchanged a century later.

Harbor sights & sounds. Some of the West's great harbors are here. They're alive with fishing boats and ocean liners, the toots of tugboats and mournful voices of fog horns. You can see the ports from hillsides taller than any mast; then take a boat ride for nautical close-ups.

Oriental visit. Winding paths and tiny red bridges take you into the Far East at the Oriental Garden of Huntington Library. A Japanese garden features shoji screens, authentic carvings, exotic flower arrangements.

Enjoy all this — and lots more! When you get here, visit the All-Year Club Information Center at 705 W. 7th St., Los Angeles, for free official vacation-planning help.

Diefenbaker

John D Calls U.S. Note:

Threat Over Bank

By RON COLLISTER
Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA—Opposition Leader Diefenbaker charged Friday that Washington is threatening Canada over pending legislation effecting the U.S.-owned Mercantile Bank.

Two state department notes, he said, were "an obvious invasion of Canadian sovereignty," carrying the threat of U.S. legislation if Canada did not comply.

A Commons committee is studying banking legislation that would stop the growth of the Mercantile, a subsidiary of the First National City Bank of New York.

In the U.S., it has been called discriminatory, and this week, Arnold Hart, chairman of the Bank of Montreal, agreed with that view.

★ ★ ★

The committee will hear witnesses on the Mercantile affair next week. If approved, the legislation would limit the bank's growth to 20 times its authorized capital.

Its assets passed that level—$200,000,000—more than a year ago.

Finance Minister Sharp indicated he does not intend to budge on the legislation.

He told an MP who questioned him: "I do not think you have seen any evidence of any proposed changes or any announcement of proposed changes."

★ ★ ★

Mr. Sharp disagreed with Mr. Diefenbaker's view that the U.S. should not make representations about legislation pending in Canada's parliament.

"It is not unusual," he said, "for the Canadian government to make the same kind of representations about legislation pending in the U.S. Congress or proposed by the U.S. government."

But he assured parliament the government would make its decision in Canadian interests, without any pressure from outside sources.

Bombs on Targets Near Hanoi Closest Since June

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. command checked bomb damage reports from daylight raids Friday by dozens of navy and air force jet planes on an oil depot and truck park close to Hanoi, North Viet Nam's capital.

Briefing officers said about 20 carrier-based navy planes, in a clear sky after three weeks of monsoon clouds, attacked the Van Dien vehicle depot five miles south of Hanoi. From 50 to 70 air force Phantoms and Thunderchiefs simultaneously struck with bombs and rockets at the Ha Gia oil depot, 14 miles north of Hanoi.

SINCE JUNE

These attacks were the closest to the capital city since a raid three miles away June 29, coupled with a strike in the dock area of Haiphong, that touched off Communist charges that the United States was escalating the war.

Hours after the new raids, a U.S. spokesman said it was not known whether any American planes were lost.

A Hanoi broadcast, however, said 11 were shot down and "a sizable number of American aggressor pilots were captured."

North Viet Nam's official news agency also charged the jets "recklessly attacked a populated area on the southern outskirts of Hanoi and two populous places inside the capital."

In South Viet Nam Friday, a detachment of U.S. 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment thwarted a massive Viet Cong guerrilla ambush with help from artillery and warplanes. A spokesman announced that while the Americans suffered some wounded they counted 88 Communist dead.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — Friday was more than happy birthday for Grant and Sherman Evans: it was also happy century. The oldest twins in the U.S., Grant lives in a home for the aged here, Sherman in his own home at nearby Winter Haven.

Florence Fears Fading

ROME (AP) — A new flood tide poured over St. Mark's Square in Venice Friday and rising waters of the muddy Arno frightened residents of flood-devastated Florence. They moved their salvaged goods out of ground floor shops and homes.

The new threats to the major Italian cities stricken by the Nov. 4 flood came as rains splattered Italy from the Alps to Sicily.

Officials both at Venice and Florence said, however, the rising waters were not an immediate danger and were expected to subside without serious damage.

IF YOU THINK ABOUT THE FUTURE

you'll realize that for years Victoria has been accumulating problems. Our harbour has been allowed to decline in importance while others are built up with Federal money. The Gorge waterway cries out for development, yet nothing much has been accomplished. We need a mayor with experience and knowledge, who can get action with economy. Think about this election, then

EXCITINGLY NEW PEEL AND STICK VINYL ASBESTOS FLINTKOTE FLOOR TILES

"INSTANT FLOORS"

The world's easiest way to a sparkling new floor. All you do is peel the backing paper off each tile. That exposes the tile's self-adhering surface. Then just stick the tile to the floor. No installation tools, no glue, no messy clean-up. It's fantastic! Peel and Stick Vinyl Asbestos Floor Tiles can be applied to almost any floor, e.g., wood, concrete, over old tile, over old linoleum, etc.

Quebec Council May Vanish

QUEBEC (CP)— Premier Daniel Johnson Friday proposed the establishment of a committee of the legislative assembly which would study, among other things, the abolition of Quebec's upper house.

The premier proposed that the 14-man committee should "examine the possibility of establishing, in the place of the legislative council, an organization representing intermediary bodies, Quebec's minorities, representatives of the economy and the professions and having administrative structures and powers in keeping with the needs of our time."

NEW SYSTEM

Other business which would be placed in the hands of this special committee on the constitution would be to "specify the objectives of Quebec and the French-Canadian nation in the drawing up of a new Canadian constitutional system."

Jean Lesage, leader of the Liberal opposition, has also spoken in favor of the abolition of this house and presented a motion to that effect Friday.

IN FAVOR

Mr. Lesage, interviewed at the end of the sitting, repeated that he favors abolition of the upper house but does not see the necessity of replacing it with a group representing intermediary bodies.

"There is no need for that as the government can consult the intermediary bodies through its houses committees," he said.

He added that Mr. Johnson's proposal was not in line with the Union Nationale electoral platform which promises abolition of the legislative council but does not mention replacing it with any other body.

Downtrend Continues

TORONTO (CP) — The market continued lower in slow trading, as industrials slumped for the fourth consecutive session.

Royal Bank dropped ⅞ to 67, General Motors 2 to 72, Woodward A 1 to 23¼ and Algoma Steel ½ to 21.

Base metals sagged. Denison fell 1⅛ to 54⅝, Hudson Bay ⅝ to 63⅛ and Roman Corp., whose chief asset is Denison shares, ⅞ to 13⅝. Dome advanced 1 to 41 in golds.

Rise for Endako

VANCOUVER — Trading was again active but prices presented a confused pattern.

Among the mines making good gains were Endako at 12.00 up .75 and Lornex at 5.60 up .30. Atlas, Cariboo Bell and Silver Arrow were among the main losers.

Steels Weaken

MONTREAL (CP) — Investors showed little active buying interest and prices continued to drift.

Senior mines and steels led the decline. Denison dropped 2 points to 55½ and Algoma Steel 1 to 21. Cominco was off ½ at 30½ and Hudson Bay ⅝ at 63⅝. Brinco dropped five cents to $4.00.

Westcoast Transmission, a heavy loser in recent sessions, was up ⅜ at 24⅝.

Prices were generally lower on the Canadian Stock Exchange. Midepsa fell 65 cents to $1.90 and East Sullivan 20 cents to $5.80. Peace River declined 30 cents to $7.80 and Greenbury five cents to $4.10.

Motors Respond

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market seemed hesitant to move and the result was a small loss — the fifth in as many sessions.

Motors had a good day with General Motors and Chrysler advancing 1 and ⅝, respectively. Ford tacked on ⅛ and American Motors remained unchanged. Steels also showed promise with Allegheny Ludlum jumping 1¼. Bethlehem and Republic each rose ⅛ but U.S. Steel gave up.

Chemicals moved lower in most cases. Eastman Kodak paced the losers, falling 1⅝, but Du Pont bucked the trend with a pickup of ⅛.

Airlines met demand, led by Pan American which rose 2⅜. Braniff advanced 1⅝, United 1⅝.

Good to Poor

Metals Look Ahead

By HARRY YOUNG
Business Editor

What does the future hold for Canada's vast mining and metals industries?

The outlook is good for nickel and copper, reasonable for aluminum and steel, and poor for lead and zinc.

The ratings came from leading metal executives who were participating in a University of Toronto business outlook forum.

MODERATELY TIGHT

R. H. Waddington, senior vice-president of International Nickel of Canada, said nickel and copper would continue to be in moderately tight supply during 1967. He expected lead and zinc production would be capable of meeting all requirements and prices might further soften.

Aluminum demand should remain adequate and prices might be revised upward during 1967.

CONSUMPTION DOWN

H. M. Griffith, president of Steel of Canada said steel production in Canada in 1967 was expected to rise two per cent to 10,400,000 tons but consumption would be down 2.6 per cent to 11,300,000 tons (including imports). This year it was estimated steel production would be 10,200,000 tons, up 3 per cent from 9,900,000 in 1965.

Mr. Waddington said that, if softness shows in the general industrial picture, the metals industry would be among the last to be seriously affected.

MOLY'S NEW OWNERS

Scurry Rainbow Ltd., one of the independent oil companies with extensive interests in the Rainbow-Zama Lake oilfields of Northwestern Alberta, has announced the acquisition of Cascade Molybdenum Ltd. for an undisclosed price.

The move came as a surprise despite the fact Scurry has recently been diversifying its interests, and is involved in a big potash development in Saskatchewan.

SUSPENDED TWICE

Cascade Molybdenum holds the dubious distinction of having had its shares twice suspended from trading on the Vancouver Stock Exchange.

It was bought several months ago by a U.S. group, which later fell foul of the Vancouver Stock Exchange when it announced it planned to purchase Vancouver Iron and Engineering Works for Cascade.

NEW RUMORS

When the purchase plans were dropped, Cascade was restored to trading on the Vancouver Stock Exchange, but it again fell under the ban of that organization when new financing rumors came into circulation.

The U.S. group now has retired from the Cascade Moly board and been replaced by Scurry Rainbow nominees.

Cascade Moly has a molybdenum property near Rossland.

President Charged With Theft

TORONTO (CP) — Joseph Benoit Brien, 51, president of Prudential Finance Corp. Ltd. and secretary-treasurer of O'Brien Gold Mines Ltd. was arrested Friday on five charges following an investigation by the Ontario Securities commission into the collapse of the finance company.

* * *

He was remanded on $10,000 bail to Dec. 8.

Harry Bray, a director of the OSC, said one of the charges is of the theft of 24,800 shares of Dominion Glass Co. The shares sold recently on the Toronto Stock Exchange at about $12 each.

* * *

Mr. Bray said other charges include uttering false documents, forgery, making false financial returns to Wood Gundy Co. and making a false statement to Metropolitan Trust Co., appointed trustee for Prudential Finance's 8,200 creditors after the company ran into difficulties two weeks ago.

Prudential Finance's losses were first estimated at $2,500,000, but Metropolitan Trust said Nov. 30 they would be substantially higher.

THE WORLD POPULATION WILL DOUBLE IN 36 YEARS

Obviously this will be good for our young Canadian economy, calling on its huge unlocked resources to meet the ever increasing demands of all countries.

In the resulting flush of enterprise [illegible] services will [illegible] ventures [illegible] appear. Some will last, some will [illegible] and stay on to become institutional. Many businesses, old and new, will continue as before to experience the irregular ebb and flow of success in their respective classes and in the "long haul" provide a reasonably assured growth for the investor.

But, through it all, the Mortgage business will carry on within its own [illegible] average yield year after year.

It is for the investor who requires, economically or psychologically, the assurance of a steady income or growth, without fluctuation, that mortgage investments serve best.

Victoria Mortgage Corporation offers 7½% on 5-year debentures; [illegible] (all payable before maturity in event of death). Interest paid quarterly (or compounded on request). Current Mortgages average [illegible] of appraised security. Share Capital further secures the debenture holder. No acquisition cost. For prospectus to be mailed to you, phone Douglas Mouhlen, EV 4-[illegible].

Party Line Reflected in Story

Russian Views Football

The Los Angeles Times

MOSCOW (LAT) — Soccer is the big spectator sport in the Soviet Union. The Russians call it "Foot-ball."

Among Soviet soccer fans there is some curiosity about American football.

One year ago a group of Soviet "cultural workers" touring America was taken to see a professional football game in Chicago. The mayor arranged front-row seats for them.

One of them, Sergei Vasilyev, a prominent Soviet writer and poet, who hews closely to the Communist party line, never writing anything controversial, has now published his impressions.

The account indicates that Vasilyev never got straight on how touchdowns are scored.

No matter. His account accurately reflects the Soviet party line on American football (and boxing). They are manifestations of a cruel, ruthless capitalist society in which even the contestants are creatures of the heartless ruling class.

Although the teams that Vasilyev saw were racially integrated, he managed to find a racial angle.

Vasilyev's account follows:

"American football . . . reminds one of a bloody battle. . . .

"Experts will say this is rugby. Nothing of the kind. In comparison with what I have seen, rugby is like pingpong in a kindergarten.

"The ball is made of leather, but it is melon-like—oblong rather than round.

"There are no (soccer) gates as such on the green field. Instead, there are special white stripes over which the attacking players have to throw the ball.

"The players, white and Negro, are youths of athletic build and gigantic size — not less than two meters (six foot, six inches) tall. Their shoulders are protected with pads. They wear cork hats with rubber protectors for their skulls. Thanks to this protective equipment, the players become taller and wider and resemble fantastic beings from some other world.

"Football is not just a sporting game. Football is a commercial enterprise. Each player is bought from the very beginning. On his performance depends his future.

EVEN AFTER WHISTLE

"After the whistle the adversaries are coming near so that they could get possession of this melon. Not coming nearer, but rushing nearer. And even not rushing nearer but smashing one group into another. But still more correctly, perhaps I should say, biting one group into another.

"Everything is allowed: to strike one's foot into the groin, to clutch at the throat of the opponent, to twist his arms back, to knock one's head into somebody's stomach, to cripple, crush down to break everything, to crawl on one's hands and knees, to heap up the whole group onto one player.

"Players sniff, growl, bellow in a real sense of the word ribs are cracking. Sweat and blood are shed . . .

VISIONS RACED

"Through my mind raced visions of bulls killed by toreadors and gladiators fallen . . . under the stroke of a sword, and wolves during the round-up.

"The stadium was very noisy. People were stamping their feet, waving umbrellas and sticks, screaming, whistling, shouting and the Negro player, hardly conscious with his pain, was lonely in the shouts, lonely like one who has lost his way in the desert . . ."

Prolonged Win Streak A Must for Chinooks

Victoria Chinooks, who have to get started soon if they are to make the Inter-City Junior Men's Basketball League playdowns, get tonight one of the few breaks they have had all season.

Winless in their last six games, several of them close affairs, Chinooks may be out of the running for the league title but if they can get a winning streak started a playoff spot is still possible.

FULL STRENGTH

Not only did Chinooks show signs of old form in their last two games but they expect to be at full strength tonight for their game against Killarney Municipal Centre at Central Junior High School.

Will Killarney winless after eight games, Chinooks have every chance to get their second win. And for the rest of the season they will have Mike Taafe, former Courtenay high school star, to bolster their late bid.

Taafe will be unable to play tonight but will be with Chinooks for their other remaining games.

UBC WINS AGAIN

Last night in Vancouver, UBC Jayvees won their second game in as many nights and their eighth without defeat this season by trimming Killarney, 106-29.

Ron Enrig and Sam Vandermeulen led the winners with 23 and 21 points, respectively.

On friday night, the Canadian champions defeated Kerrisdale, 65-33, to move into a first-place tie with the Merchants.

Thunderbirds Roll To 6-2 Victory

Kevin McGladery picked up two goals and an assist as he paced UBC Thunderbirds to a 6-2 win over University of Victoria Vikings in an exhibition hockey game at Esquimalt Friday night.

The Vikings grabbed the first goal, Paul Bion unassisted at 2:57 of the first period, and were then swamped by the powerful Thunderbirds.

McGladery's goal, nearly three minutes later, tied the game and his assist came on the winning goal scored by Mick McDowell at 8:20 of the first period.

McDowell was also hot, getting two assists on top of his goal.

Victoria Juniors will be trying to bring New Westminster Royals' undefeated string in Inter-City Junior Soccer League play to an end Sunday when they meet the mainlanders at Carnarvon Park at 2 p.m.

Royals have accounted for a half of the goals scored against league-leading goalkeeper Jerry Lister when the teams battled to a 3-3 draw at the start of the season.

Victoria ended the first half of the season in third place just one point behind co-leaders Columbus and Royals.

Leafs' Country Cousins Come Calling Tonight

SEATTLE 4, VICTORIA 3

Have Victoria Maple Leafs retained last season's ability to come up with their best game when the challenge is the greatest.

At least part of the answer will be made at Memorial Arena tonight when Portland Buckaroos, threatening to make a cakewalk of the Western Hockey League race, pay their second visit.

Weakened by injuries to Larry Keenan and Fred Hucul, the Leafs missed a great chance to stay in the race for the league championship with seven games against Seattle Totems and Vancouver Canucks.

	GP	W	L	T	F	A	Pts
Portland	18	15	3	0	101	51	33
Vancouver	20	11	6	3	74	60	25
Los Angeles	24	9	13	2	86	100	20
Oakland	19	8	8	3	63	64	19
Seattle	20	8	11	3	60	67	19
VICTORIA	20	6	10	4	61	66	16
San Diego	20	6	13	1	64	80	13

Next games: Tonight — Portland at VICTORIA, San Diego at Los Angeles, Vancouver at Oakland.

But the Leafs managed to lose all seven games and now enjoy (or is that the right word) sole possession of sixth place in the seven team league.

UP FOR GAME

So, tonight provides the challenge.

If it turns out to be like last season, the Leafs will be "up" for this one. The Buckaroos have always brought out the best in the Victoria club, and it has cost them dearly.

Last season, the Leafs were the only club that held an edge on the defending league champions. The Islanders won five of six games at Memorial Arena and got a win and two ties in Portland to win the season series, 6-4-2. And they followed that up with a 4-3 win in the best-of-seven playoff final.

Nor did it end there. This season, the Buckaroos took a 5-0 calcimining on their first visit here and then settled for a 1-1 tie on their home ice in the only other game the clubs have played this season.

But the Buckaroos could be quite a different outfit this time out. They had a November which brought them nine victories and four ties in 14 games and they scored 65 goals and yielded only 29 in the 14 games.

GOOD MIXTURE

It took a veteran and a relative newcomer to the WHL to sink the Leafs last night in Seattle.

Guyle Fielder got the tying goal and Earl Heiskala scored the winner as the Leafs lost, 4-3.

Victoria took a 2-0 first period lead and appeared headed to victory. Seattle came back with Don Chiz scoring early in the second period. Chiz was set up by Jim Powers and Jean Gauthier and Leaf goalkeeper, Al Smith had no chance to stop the shot.

Bruce Carmichael widened the Victoria margin to 3-1 in the third period.

Larry Lund scored midway through the third to again put the Totems back in the game and Fielder sent the game into overtime with his goal at the 14:20 mark of the last period.

With just 2 minutes 48 seconds gone in the ten-minute overtime period Heiskala fired the winning goal past Smith.

Another Win For Canucks

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Vancouver's Canucks ran over the California Seals 5-3 Friday night for their seventh Western Hockey League win in a row and their 12th of the season.

The victory gave them a six-point hold on second place ahead of Los Angeles. The loss was the Seals' eighth and evened their season record at 8-8-3. The Seals remain in fourth place.

Gord Vejprava of Vancouver opened the scoring only 20 seconds into the first period. It was the 14th time this year against all opposition in which Vancouver had scored the first goal.

Seal Tom Thurlby tied it up at 9:09 but Ken Block put the Canucks back in the lead at 17:06.

Vancouver ran in three more consecutive goals, by Larry Popein in the second and by Ray Brunel and Bob Cook in the third. Cook had two assists in addition to his goal.

Too late, the Seals added two, by Charlie Burns and George Swarbrick.

FIRST PERIOD
1. Vancouver, Vejprava (Popein) :20.
2. Oakland, Thurlby (McCloskey) 9:09.
3. Vancouver, Block (Cook) 17:06.

More Lopsided Win Hope of O'Keefes

Soccer is a winter game—as Victoria O'Keefe's and St. Andrew's of Vancouver will find out today in the Pacific Coast League clash at Macdonald Park.

This week's rain has turned the pitch into a mudhole which, however, shouldn't do anything to dampen O'Keef's fire. The Victoria squad wants to improve on the 1-0 defeat it handed St. Andrew's last outing.

Concerned over their lack of cohesion in recent games between the backs and forwards, coach Frank Grealy and the O'Keefe's will be putting much of the load on the link men Tom Waster and Peter Brett.

With centre-forward Jim Schulz away on a training session with the army for two weeks O'Keef's will feature a four-two-four system with Ike MacKay and Jim Menzies as strikers.

Dune McCaig and Marty Taylor are probable starters on the wings with Don MacIntosh, Bill Hamilton, Dave Stothard and George Paul lining up in front of Barry Sadler.

WIN A MUST

A win is a must for O'Keefe's if they are to stay in first place. North Shore also plays on Saturday, meeting Burnaby Villa and the fast rising Columbus meets UBC on Sunday.

Also on Sunday Firefighters play at New Westminster. All games start at 2 p.m.

League-leading Tally-Ho meets Red Lion in a district league first division match at Bullen Park Sunday.

Tally-Ho is bolstered by two commuters from Ladysmith, right half-back Jim Irvine and right-wing Ralph Marwood. Marwood is coming back to form after a lay-off.

Cliff Will Join Island Teammates

John Cliff will be in two races today. Firstly, he will race from his job to Colwood and then he will race to Naden gates.

Cliff, this year's provincial marathon champion and last year's Canadian crosscountry titleholder, will be anchor man for the Islanders in today's Nanaimo-Victoria road relay race.

Cliff was uncertain whether he would be able to compete but Friday told coach Ollie Sarakannas he will finish work at 4 p.m. and head for the race.

He will cover the final 4.3 miles of the 68-mile centennial race. First runners are expected to finish at about 4:30 p.m.

Rawlings Lose Another

Victoria Rawlings lost their first game, to UBC 50-41, in the women's basketball matches in Vancouver Friday to select British Columbia's representative at next year's Winter Games.

Disaster hit Rawlings when Sylvia Campbell reinjured her knee ligaments after the first four minutes of play and couldn't continue. Rawlings trailed 24-13 at halftime and at one stage in the second spell trailed by four.

In the other game, Molsons beat Mt. Pleasant 51-27. Rawlings play again tonight and Sunday.

UBC (50) — Williams 4, Johnston 8, Webster 2, Douglas, Barr 2, Wells, Genick 16, Stewart 4, Ross 8, Stevens, Pederson, Peterson 6.
Rawlings (41) — Mundy 2, Tribe 4, Turner 4, Campbell 2, Reid, Coutts 27, McHattie, Johnson, Bourne, Bonner 2.

Brierly Rewarded For Contributions

The Victoria and District Cricket Association held its annual banquet Friday night. Guest speaker was Dr. Ted Allen who spoke about South Africa.

Cowichan was presented with the Colonist Cup for winning the league championship, and the Knockout Cup.

Tom Brierly of Cowichan received the Gillespie Trophy for contributing most to cricket. Cowichan and Albions shared the Holiday Trophy for the Wednesday evening league.

Trevor Holgate got back the ball he used in a hat-trick last September. It was presented to him incorporated in a desk set.

Red Lions Prepare With Sweep

Red Lions, getting ready for the senior "B" men's basketball season, swept a doubleheader last night at Mount View High School.

They defeated the Mount View school team, 84-32, in one game and beated the Pedagogues, a pick-up team of teachers, 90-68, in the other game. Only Dave Emery, Terry Kochems and Willie Wong played in both games.

Jim Cunningham scored 28 points against the Pedagogues, who got 26 points from Mike Taafe. Robin Allen led the senior "B" club against the students with 20 points. John Lane topped Mount View with 12 points.

Bowling Roundup

Expo Trip Being Eyed

By BRIAN DOHERTY

Victoria bowlers are swinging these days hoping for a trip next spring to Expo '67 in Montreal and a chance at a mammoth prize list.

The subject is the Tournament of Roses, sponsored by an Eastern Canada bowling firm.

It includes tenpins, fivepins, candle pins and duck pins. Bowlers are rolling off now in their leagues and the top 50 per cent of the leading scores will go on to the house roll-offs.

That top 10 per cent will go onto the zone roll-offs and from these the leading 10 per cent will get an expenses-paid trip to Expo.

The tournament is open to all league players at all centres. Capital City is holding a 25-game play-off Sunday with entry into the tournament the first prize.

Mayfair hosted six teams from Nanaimo last week and will return the visit Sunday. Doris Sedola of Nanaimo scored a triplicate 171 to earn an ABC award.

Also at Mayfair, Peggy Trickett had an all-spare game of 183 Monday in the women's unity league . . . Mayfair has its fourth annual Christmas men's, women's and mixed doubles tournament Dec. 21.

* * *

Fred Waters had a 920 at Town and Country and Norm Goldie a 909 . . . Vi Squires rolled 824 and Hugh Cowan had a single game of 388 in fivepins. Town and Country is holding, every Friday, Scotch triples for men and women.

* * *

In the bantam fivepin league Dean Stewart had 278 and Michael Lance 261. Tom Shea (406) and Don Wright (400) were prominent in the junior and senior leagues.

Four-Man Deal Completed By Twins, Angels

PITTSBURGH — Major league baseball clubs continued their trading activity yesterday as California Angels sent righthander Dean Chance to Minnesota Twins in a three-for-one swap.

Going to the Angels are first-baseman Don Mincher, outfielder Jimmy Hall and relief-pitcher Pete Cimino.

ANOTHER COMING

The deal, it is believed, will set up another trade involving the Twins. They are said to be willing to deal either of righthanders Jim Grant or Camilo Pascual and the acquisition of Chance increases the possibility of a trade involving one of the holdover righthanders.

Chance, 25, won the Cy Young Award in 1964 when he won 20 and lost only nine games and had a 1.65 earned-run average but he has been unable to match that performance in the past two seasons.

He won 15 games in 1965 and last season had a 12-17 record although showing much of his old form, particularly near the end of the schedule.

ADDED POWER

In return for their ace, the Angels got two lefthanded power hitters expected to fill voids at two positions.

Hall, platooned much of the time, hit 20 home runs last season but only had a .239 batting average. Mincher, also platooned, batted .251 with 14 home runs.

Lions, Argonauts Complete Deal

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto Argonauts, doormats of the Eastern Football Conference, today announced they have completed a two-for-one deal with British Columbia Lions, last-place club in the West.

The deal sends defensive end Dick Fouts and halfback Bill Symons from Lions to Argos in exchange for Canadian rights to halfback Jim Young, the Toronto team's top choice in the Canadian college draft in 1965.

Young, from Queen's University, Kingston, is on the roster of Minnesota Vikings of the National Football League.

For Fouts, six-foot-six and 250 pounds, this will be a second try with the Argos. He left in 1961 after six years.

Symons, a sixth draft choice of Green Bay Packers of the NFL, joined the Lions midway through the 1966 season. He is six feet, 200 pounds and, at 24 years old, plays both offensive and defensive halfback.

Fouts, heading into his 12th season in professional football, played college ball at Missouri, Kansas and Illinois, moving to Argos in 1956 after missing out with Los Angeles Rams of the NFL. He was twice an eastern conference all-star with Argos but was traded to the Lions following the 1961 season in exchange for defensive halfback Bill Britton.

Fouts, whose move to the Lions came following reports of friction with the Argo coaching staff, went on to become all-Western and all-Canadian for three consecutive years. He won the Beckett-DeMarco Trophy as top lineman in the West in 1965.

Minor Hockey Needs Sponsors

Coun. Alan Newberry appealed Thursday for sponsors for boys in the Saanich Minor Hockey Association.

The association, organized this year, originally planned to begin its operations next year.

"However, when it was learned that Saanich youngsters would be excluded from the Esquimalt and Victoria minor hockey clubs unless they played hockey the previous season, the Saanich group moved its plans ahead one year to take care of the boys," he said.

Coun. Newberry said sponsorship involved a contribution of $15 for the purchase of ice time and equipment.

He also told the Ss. Beaver Kiwanis Club he expected Saanich ratepayers early next year would be voting on a referendum on the construction of recreational facilities.

He said Saanich council was "moving ahead positively" toward providing those facilities.

Spurrier To Seek $500,000

NEW YORK (AP) — Quarterback Steve Spurrier of University of Florida arrived in New York yesterday accompanied by his father and a lawyer to help him in his avowed intention of seeking a $500,000 reimbursement for turning professional.

The Heisman Trophy winner is reportedly ticketed for New York Giants under terms made in the amalgamation of the National and American Football Leagues. But Spurrier said that a Canadian team was also bidding and willing, he had heard, to go as high as $500,000.

However, the Canadian field was immediately cut as officials of both Toronto Argonauts and Hamilton Tiger-Cats denied having made any offer to Spurrier.

Brewer Eligible for Reinstatement May Join Nationals by Tuesday

TORONTO (CP) — Defenceman Carl Brewer, after three months of fighting to regain his amateur status, may be playing with Canada's national team by Tuesday.

Allan Eagleson, Brewer's lawyer, said the former Toronto Maple Leafs star "could be in the Nationals' colors by Tuesday."

Eagleson's comment Friday came following an announcement by the National Hockey League that Brewer had been notified he now is eligible to apply for reinstatement as an amateur.

OUTLINES RULE

Said Eagleson:

"The new ruling states that a professional hockey player must stay out of professional hockey for one year before he may apply to the NHL board of governors for reinstatement as an amateur.

"If the board approves, the player then applies to the central registry of the NHL, which informs the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association it may give the applicant his amateur card."

Once the applicant has been reinstated as an amateur he must stay out of hockey for two years before applying to return to professional ranks.

In Brewer's case, Eagleson said, the NHL governors has approved his reinstatement.

"Now he must make formal application for reinstatement, which must be countersigned by Maple Leaf Gardens and sent on to the central registry.

"Twenty-four hours after the central registry receives his application, he should have clearance."

Eagleson said Brewer "has been selling tickets for the centennial hockey tournament" in Winnipeg and working for the Ontario government out of Kenora, Ont., two days a week as an Indian affairs officer.

"There is no problem about him getting time off to play for the Nationals."

Brewer, 28, ended a seven-year career with the Leafs at the start of the 1965 training camp at Peterborough, Ont. He walked out after a dispute with club officials and has remained out of hockey since. He used the year's absence to complete a bachelor of arts degree from the University of Toronto.

WAS ALL-STAR

During his stint with the Leafs, Brewer was selected to three all-star teams. He made the first squad for his play in the 1962-63 season and was selected to the second team one year earlier and again in 1964-65.

While with the Leafs, Brewer appeared in 453 regular season games, scoring 19 goals and assisting in 131 others. He amassed 915 penalty minutes during that time and led the league in that department twice.

He served 177 minutes in penalties in his last season with the Leafs and had 150 minutes enforced rest during the 1959-60 schedule.

NFL-AFL Playoff

Record Payoff Expected

NEW YORK (AP) — Each player on the team winning the professional football championship may receive a bonanza of $23,000, a record for a team sport.

The pay for two games would almost double the all-time high of $12,794 for a baseball World Series winner for a minimum of four games. Los Angeles Dodgers of the National League set the baseball record in 1963.

AT COLISEUM

When the National Football League winners meet in the first Super Bowl at the 93,000-capacity Los Angeles Coliseum in early January, each winner will get a guaranteed $15,000 and each loser $7,500. That breaks down to $250 a minute for each of the winners.

If the NFL game is played in the big Cotton Bowl in Dallas, the winning share should match the record of $8,052 by Cleveland Browns for beating Baltimore Colts in 1964. The AFL share would be smaller but the league set an all-time high a year ago when Buffalo Bills got $5,189.

The mechanics of the Super Bowl game were announced Thursday night by commissioner Pete Rozelle after both leagues accepted unanimously the recommendations of a joint committee.

AWAITING TALKS

"The weekend of Jan. 7-8 or the weekend of Jan. 15 are the likely dates," said Rozelle. "We are not able to announce a definite date at this time until we have talked more to the television people."

It is possible that the new league title games will be played on the same date, Sunday, Jan. 1, as part of a unique doubleheader, starting in Buffalo or Boston and ending in Dallas or St. Louis.

As of now, the AFL game is to be played Monday, Dec. 26, in the home park of the Eastern Division winner. The NFL game is to be played Sunday, Jan. 1, in the home park of the Eastern Conference champ. It is expected the AFL date will be moved up to avoid a long layoff before the Super Bowl.

When a TV contract is signed for the Super Bowl, the receipts will be thrown into the entire pool. After th game expenses and rent, and the player pool have been taken out, 40 per cent of the remainder will go into the two league's player benefit pension fund. Each league office will get 15 per cent and each of the competing teams will get 15 per cent.

Tattoo to Tell Armed Forces' Story

Right here on our stage — 1,700 actors, musicians and gymnasts.

Rudy Bros. Shrine Circus? A Cecil B. DeMille movie? The Ed Sullivan Show?

None of these, but it's really big. It's the Canadian Armed Forces Tattoo.

The color, music and general spectacle of the show scheduled in Victoria for May of next year were outlined Thursday in a snappy, businesslike way by tattoo information officer Sqdn.-Ldr. Jean Boulet who leaves no doubt about the way the show is organized.

As tape-recorded excerpts from the music that will accompany the action rang out and colored slides of the artist's conception of what will be going on flashed across the screen, there was little doubt that this would be a show to see.

The show begins with a sequence of 20 minutes of taped music to set the mood of the tattoo while the audience is being seated in the new Centennial stadium.

MASSED BANDS

A two-part overture with the latter part representing a journey across Canada in light, music and sound will be followed by the first scene with massed bands in marching patterns in the spotlight.

The second scene will involve early French settlers and a contingent of Carignan Salliere giving the impression of being outside an early French garrison in Quebec in 1665. Troops and civilians are clad in authentic costumes. The scene lighting gives the impression of a period from dawn until dusk.

OLD GARRISONS

Next scene depicts the British in Canada in 1782 with the showing of a Scottish garrison. Massed pipes and drums and highland dancers will be used to set the mood.

Now comes a scene in which two naval gun teams carry out a race as the field takes on the impression of a dockyard on the east coast or the Great Lakes in 1812.

The 1885 period will be depicted in a wooden soldier fantasy sequence illustrating a drummer boy's idea of what war in the period would be like. The scene will include a toy soldier battle.

SONGS OF ERA

The Boer War period will be illustrated with massed bands marching and countermarching, playing songs of the era. The scene includes a navy band and sailors dancing the hornpipe and carrying out cutlass drill in time to the music.

The First and Second World wars will be combined with emphasis played on popular music of each war. The First World War segment will feature the departure of the Canadian Expeditionary Force, fighting on the western front and the introduction of Canadian flying with the Royal Flying Corps.

The Second World War will emphasize The British Commonwealth Air Training Plan and Canada's participation in the Battle of Britain.

Operations of the services will include a pom pom gun in action and the work of an infantry platoon, which includes the stripping and assembly of a jeep in under five minutes.

MUSIC, OPERATIONS

The modern period will be illustrated by massed bands playing marches and military arrangements of popular modern music leading into a gymnastic display and a sound and action scene showing integrated services in an operational role.

Then comes the grand finale with 1,700 — count 'em — 1,700 troops on the field.

Moving this mob and the props and equipment around will be two trains which will be completely self-sufficient supplying accommodation, messing and recreation facilities and trucks to ferry all the equipment from the train to each performance place.

There's no doubt about it. It will be a really big show — who is this guy Ed Sullivan anyway?

Witty Lyric Tenor Pleases Audience

By BERT BINNY

Lyric tenor Rikard Floer gave the first of three recitals in Victoria at the University Friday before a large and appreciative audience.

Mr. Floer, who possesses an excellent voice and exemplary control, is also a guitarist and a linguist.

Enhancing his talents and contributing, no doubt, to his success, is his pleasant personality and wit.

* * *

Mr. Floer sang classical items from Rosa, Pergolesi, Bassani, Mozart and Grieg.

Pianist and conductor Bryan Gooch provided a sensitive accompaniment for these while, for his program of folk songs and serenades, Mr. Floer accompanied himself on the guitar.

Mr. Floer will present recitals Sunday at 2:30 and Monday at 8:30, both in the McPherson Playhouse.

Bastion Busy Busy

Bastion Theatre has set a record with three productions running simultaneously.

Boeing, Boeing will have its final performance in the McPherson Playhouse at 8:30 p.m. today. This afternoon the Pied Piper starts at 2 p.m. while a studio production of Red Eye of Love plays at 1322A Government Street.

Red Eye of Love will run today and Sunday. It will be repeated Dec. 9, 10 and 11 and then Dec. 16, 17 and 18.

Avant-Garde Comedy Finely Acted, But...

By WILLIAM THOMAS

At one point in the Red Eye of Love a character says "I fail to see what's funny" and that about sums it up for me, too.

This production by the Bashion Theatre workshop group opened Friday at 1322-A Government before a slim house.

The play may be boring in the extreme to those who cannot tune in to theatre of the avant-garde but it did seem quite well done.

★ ★ ★

Needless to say everything and everyone is sympolic but I find symbols rather dull at the best of times.

In this instance Arnold Weinstein, who wrote this travesty, is looking for the Key. To what, you may ask, and so did I — but without satisfaction.

If the play seemed to lack purpose the reverse was true of the actors.

A department store magnate, O. O. Martinas, played by Dan Christian, seemed an excellent caricature of business. The idea of 13 floors each dedicated to a different type of meat seems ludicrous but Mr. Christian gave it all he had — heart, brain and guts.

At the other end of the spectrum stands Wilmer Flange, played by John Heath, a sad little man seeking the way to wealth and of course, happiness through the sale of dolls he hopes will die.

In the middle is Selma Chargeese, a loving young thing, played by Barbara Waldner.

★ ★ ★

Poor Selma has trouble deciding just whom to love.

The production is on again tonight, Sunday and Dec. 2, 10, 11, 16, 17 and 18. It is certainly worth seeing for serious students of theatre.

Hidden Bottles Banned

Cabaret Conditions Defined

New Liquor Control Board regulations aimed at curbing the under-the-table-bottle practices in some Vancouver night spots, were passed by the provincial cabinet Friday.

★ ★ ★

Amendments were made to the Government Liquor Act to give a better definition of cabarets, in connection with bringing about basic standards for licensing purposes.

Attorney-General Bonner said the new regulations, based on recommendations made by Vancouver city council, "will encourage people to get into the night club business properly or get out of it."

He said the changes will strike that "grey area of bottle-under-the-table" operations because in future the city of Vancouver will not issue any more cabaret licences unless the proprietors have a liquor licence from the government.

★ ★ ★

The new regulations require that every lounge listed as a cabaret have table cloths, chinaware and table service, meals and menus, a dance floor and paid entertainment, and a minimum cover charge of one dollar.

The also state that liquor shall be served only to persons who are seated at tables.

Mr. Bonner said the changes will be good for tourism and will be welcomed by residents who enjoy this type of entertainment.

Christmas Goodies

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. employees will share in a Christmas bonus of more than $7,800,000, it was reported Friday by Ken Bannon, Ford director of the United Auto Workers Union. Bannon said the amount will be about $50 for each man.

BLOW UP A STORM

A symphony orchestra of 100 instruments can produce about 75 decibels of sound.

Lichen Trip Today

The younger section of the junior branch of the Victoria Natural History Society will meet at 1:30 p.m. today at Douglas and Hillside for a lichen collecting trip around the rain forest trail at Francis Park.

Northwest Dilemma

Late Viewers In B.C. Lose Sex Show

PRINCE RUPERT (CP) — An estimated 70,000 television viewers in B.C.'s northwest will be in a dilemma this weekend.

The CBC programming office in Toronto has ruled the Sunday program which shows a man and woman in bed discussing sex will not be telecast Dec. 4 over CFTK-TV. Instead, viewers will watch a 60 - minute film called Dilemma.

* * *

The sex show caused an uproar when it was televised last Sunday over the main CBC network. Because Prince Rupert is not on the main line, it gets network shows a week later.

Wayne Seabrook, manager of CFTK-TV, said Friday that, although he originally objected to the Sunday sex show, he also objected to the CBC movie to replace it.

* * *

"Many of our viewers . . . will feel that if viewers saw it elsewhere they should also be entitled to see it here," he said.

The Knights of Columbus in Prince Rupert passed a resolution Thursday night asking the Board of Broadcast Governors to forbid the showing of the controversial program on CFTK this Sunday.

TV Fees

for appearances on television or radio?

"If so (a) who and (b) in what amounts."

QUESTION REPEATED

This written question was listed among those which under Commons rules are supposed to be replied to within three days.

Last Sept. 8, Dr. Brand submitted another written question, asking:

"Have any ministers of the Crown who may have received an honorarium or fee from the CBC in the past three years for appearances on TV and radio, returned such fee to the corporation?

"If so, which ministers and on what dates were the cheques received and on what dates were payments made?"

HINTS AT REASON

Mr. Diefenbaker, commenting on an Oakville report, said that if the government "had a legal opinion favorable to this being done, they wouldn't have delayed the answer (to Dr. Brand's questions) so long."

The Oakville report says 21 Liberal MPs, including two cabinet ministers, 11 Progressive Conservatives and seven from other parties have accepted CBC fees.

Tourists Can Hunt for Inca Ruins

This wooden riverboat equipped with outboard motor was used by Gene Savoy on fearsome Huallaga River to discover Gran Pajaten ruins in Peru.

TRUMAN BECKER

LIMA (CNS) — If you are the adventurous type who would like to tramp about in the jungle in search of a lost Incan ruin, the place to go is Peru.

Latin America's fourth largest country, Peru was once the stronghold of the Incan empire, which extended from Ecuador to Chile.

LOST CITIES

Today, the remains of the Incan empire include a network of ruins and lost cities tucked away in the jungle and the Andean highlands. Brimming with archaeological significance, the ruins are likely to unveil the mysteries of the past.

Realizing this, the Peruvian government, with the assistance of the Andean Explorers Club, is promoting exploration expeditions to find hidden ruins. The ruin-hunts will be organized by Gene Savoy, an American explorer internationally known for his archaeolgical findings in Peru.

ALL WELCOME

Savoy said that because Peru has a lack of explorers but is loaded with ruins, the government hopes that foreigners will join the expeditions.

"Anyone — including tourists — who has an interest in archaeology, photography, wildlife, writing or adventure is welcome to join," Savoy said.

"The purpose of the expeditions will be to explore the backlands and find ruins," he added. "We'll then carefully investigate our findings and record them with cameras and written reports. In this way, we'll serve professional archaeologists and historians, as well as the public."

Savoy noted that the Peruvian air force has spotted several lost cities perched in the jungle and in the highlands, but up to now no one has gone in by land to officially discover them.

RUMOR RIFE

Rumors also have trickled in from "jungle tramps" (traders) and Indians who've said they've come across ancient cities "back in the bush."

"The Andean Explorers Club has several 'Lost Cities' pinpointed on the map," Savoy said. "It's just a matter of forming an expedition and tracking them down."

He added all expeditions will be led by professional explorers and will have at their disposal canoes, river launches, mules, helicopters, tents, climbing ropes and other exploration equipment.

Stan Delaplane Tips You Off

MEXICO CITY — Here's a new little free enterprise nudge in one of Mexico's bigger hotels: The bell-boy holds your checkout tip in his open hand and says, "This is very generous, sir. Would you like to have me give part of it to the room maid?"

Ah! Confusion. You aren't accustomed to tipping room maids. So you exit — a real sport — saying, "Here's 10 pesos more. Give THAT to the maid." He pockets it gratefully.

Don't do it. Tell him, "That's thoughtful of you, but I've already tipped her." There's no hard and fast custom on this. Mexicans often don't tip maids either.

★ ★ ★

"Who and when should we tip in Mexico this Christmas?"

The peso (equals eight cents U.S.) is the quarter tip of Mexico. A peso for the man who watches your car. A peso for the hatcheck girl. A peso a bag in and out of hotels — but I'd make it pesos five minimum. A peso on a four-peso taxi ride. Fifteen per cent on restaurant bills. Pesos are written with the $ sign. Don't panic when dinner comes to $100. That's $8.

I tip the room maid three to five pesos on arrival. Keeps your room neater and the drinking water changed in the jug. Also, she only gets a dollar a day. And it's Christmas.

★ ★ ★

"We will be in London at Christmas and would appreciate any suggestions . . ."

I'd try to get a pub atmosphere — a good pub with a good restaurant. If I were doing this, I'd rent a car Christmas Eve and get an overnight room at Broadway in the Shakespeare country. A Cotswold village of creamy stone. The excellent pub hotel is the Lygon Arms. All polished copper and dark panelling and blazing fireplaces.

★ ★ ★

". . . suggestions for Christmas in Hawaii?"

For the coco palm and surf Christmas, the Royal Hawaiian is still the elegant hotel at Waikiki. Buy your wahine three strands of fragrant pikaki lei. Have a couple of rummy mai tais. And sit back and let the trade wind blow on you.

"Appreciate your choice on hotels for Dublin . . ."

I'm inclined to the old world, gracious Shelbourne. (From whose windows the British shelled the Post Office during the Easter Rebellion.) The Gresham is considered No. 1. But it gets much passing by traffic. Go there for lunch or dinner. The Russell is very good. For modest prices, go to Jury's.

If you like the modern Hilton-style that are springing up all over the world, you want the new Dublin Intercontinental. (These are fine hotels. But I feel sort of insulated from the country. They're All-American.)

I should say in favor of the Hiltons and Intercontinentals, they'll book you safely worldwide from one to another. Like Eliza crossing the river on the ice cakes.

★ ★ ★

"Flying out to Japan. What about this 'jet lag.' I mean the time change feeling."

Stay over in Honolulu two days. When you get into Tokyo, get a massage. (They send them right to your room in any hotel. About $2.) Take a sleeping pill. And don't spin your wheels in the Ginza night clubs for two days more. That's a killer of a time change from here to Japan.

★ ★ ★

"We are undecided about our hotel in Hong Kong . . ."

I'm partial to the Mandarin. (It's Intercontinental. But you don't get "native" hotels in Hong Kong.) The view of the harbor is magnificent. The sunset water traffic is something you'll remember forever.

'One Man Court for Ideals'

Great Canadian Journalist Ralph Allen Dies at 53

TORONTO (CP)—Ralph Allen, a modern great of Canadian journalism and writing, died Friday at 53.

The red-haired, freckled editor and author, died in hospital from a hemorrhage, an unexpected complication of an operation Sept. 30 for removal of a malignant growth in his windpipe.

He had been managing editor of the Toronto Star for two years. His drive, imagination and organization led to such exclusive stories as the finding in Brooklyn of labor leader Hal Banks and in Munich of Gerda Munsinger, the German girl who stirred a sex-and-security scandal in Canada.

BEST REMEMBERED

In editorial tribute recalling Mr. Allen's career as reporter, foreign correspondent, editor, historian and novelist, The Star said "it is probably as a newspaper man that he will be best remembered."

"In the long list of famous journalists whom the Prairies have contributed to Canada, his named is one of the greatest. . . . He was a most impressive human being — warm, humorous, kindly and wise and to those of us who knew him, his passing leaves a gap that can never be filled."

Allen

* * *

Despite his newspaper and magazine assignments he found time to write novels, one of which, Ask the Name of the Lion, won a $10,000 Doubleday fiction award, a history of 20th-century Canada, Ordeal by Fire. For many years, too, he appeared regularly on CBC panel shows.

Mr. Allen was never far removed from the down-to-earth reporting functions of his profession. He refused to be bound by a desk and in recent years went to Cyprus, where Canadian troops are stationed with the United Nations forces, to The Congo and, last year, to South Viet Nam.

AT HOME IN FIELD

He twice interviewed Archbishop Makarios, the Cypriot leader, but was most at home with the men in the field. He once wrote:

"I never see or talk to a frontline soldier without being amazed by the boundless store of greatness that is wrapped up in the human race, often hidden and unsuspected but still there waiting to be tapped."

Mr. Allen, appointed an officer of the Order of the British Empire for his wartime reporting, gained his knowledge of fighting men from service with the Sportsmen's Battery, which Maj. Conn Smythe commanded in the Second World War.

IN EVERYTHING

The Toronto sportsman, in tribute Friday, said of his former gunner: "He was a great man in everything he did, a top man in the writing field, a top soldier."

Mr. Allen is survived by his wife, the former Birdeen Lawrence of Regina; two sons, Glen, a reporter on the Victoria Times, and Gene; and a daughter Gail.

His funeral will be private and his family has requested that persons wishing to remember him send donations to the Canadian Cancer Society instead of flowers.

The Telegram, for which he once wrote a sports column, called Mr. Allen "a sort of one-man supreme court for high journalistic ideals" and said the real honor he earned in nearly 40 years of journalism "was the universal respect and affection he received."

The Globe and Mail, which he served as a war correspondent said that "as a teacher and mentor he helped to shape a whole generation of Canadian journalists and writers, and so long as one of them still hunches behind a typewriter, he will be remembered with affection and respect, and heard."

STATION AGENT

Mr. Allen was born at Winnipeg, son of Glen Allen, a CPR station agent. The family later moved to Oxbow, Sask., where he lived until he was 16 and joined the Winnipeg Tribune as a reporter, on six months trial at $15 a week.

From the start, his career included periods as sports writer and columnist in Winnipeg and Toronto; service overseas in the Second World War, first as a soldier and then as correspondent for the Toronto Globe and Mail; as associate editor and later editor of Maclean's magazine, and finally as managing editor of The Star.

Scout Fair Today

The only Scout troop in Victoria not sponsored by a church or other organization—the 2nd Fort Victoria Cubs, Scouts and Rovers—will hold its annual fall fair in the Scout Hall on Chester Street from 7 to 9 p.m. today.

There will be a sale of home cooking, candy, hot dogs and soft drinks.

Camera Stolen

A $447 camera was reported stolen from a show case at Williamson Camera shop, 664 Fort, between noon Wednesday and about 3 p.m. Thursday. Police said the show case was not locked.

Berlin Escape

BERLIN (Reuters) — A 16-year-old East German boy escaped to West Berlin by scaling barbed wire fortifications west of the city.

Psychedelic Drugs On Agenda

Psychedelic drugs will be discussed Saturday in Victoria by a long-time researcher in the field.

Ted Poole of Grantham's Landing will speak at 1 p.m. in the Social Education Centre, 1054 McGregor Street. Lynn Curtis, organizer of the centre and sponsor of the lecture, said Friday Mr. Poole has been investigating hallucination-producing drugs for 10 years.

"Bring your own chairs," said Mr. Curtis. The centre was hit by vandals two weeks ago and lacks furniture.

Collision Hurts Woman

A 73-year-old Victoria woman, Mrs. Grace Watt of 518 Ellice, is in fairly good condition in Royal Jubilee Hospital after suffering shoulder injuries in a two-car collision about 10:45 p.m. Thursday at Kings and Victor.

Treated and released from the hospital as a result of the accident were Mrs. Marjorie Dawson, 518 Ellice, and Mrs. Agnes McMillan, 1231 Lockley.

Police identified the drivers as Mrs. Dawson and Richard Ballard, of 1022 Summit.

Most Pot Puffers 'Weak Slobs'

VANCOUVER (CP) — The head of the RCMP's Vancouver narcotics squad says most marijuana smokers "are degenerate slobs whose use of pot is just a symptom of character weakness."

Staff Sgt. D. J. Webster said marijuana smokers "are a menace to nobody but themselves — except that their generally low morals tend to degrade the neighborhood."

He said the average marijuana user, according to police files, is 21 years old, is unemployed, avoids haircuts, bathtubs and responsibility. He said the average user is no genius, but is smart enough to be unable to excuse his foolishness by claiming he was tricked into starting.

Staff Sergeant Webster said there is no point in using marijuana other than for perverted self-indulgence and, in some cases, a childish desire to express rebellious feelings.

He likened users to "an infant who doesn't like toilet-training and tries to show it by banging his head against the wall."

He said marijuana is a fast-growing problem in Vancouver. So far in 1966, 65 users have been arrested compared with 30 the previous year.

The staff sergeant said the average user lives in a dirty, cheap room and gets his money by borrowing, begging or collecting welfare.

Lani Bird Goes To Work Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communications Satellite Corp. said Friday its new satellite over the Pacific has been jockeyed into a better orbit and will go into commercial service today between North America, Hawaii and Japan.

It also will serve Australia when a ground station is ready there.

The satellite, launched Oct. 26, still officially is called Intelsat I. To many North Americans it is Lani Bird. In Britain it's called Early Bird II.

Comsat filed new phone rates only half as high as would have been imposed had the satellite gone into its assigned synchronous orbit 22,300 miles above the equatorial Pacific at the international date line.

Gilbey's find merry mixed gin drinks in old English Inns

The Cat and Fiddle mixes an excellent Gilbey's Gimlet. Photo courtesy of British Travel Association.

ENGLAND'S OLDEST INNS have been around long enough to learn that Gilbey's London Dry has a perfect balance for mixed drinks. You can count on it to give you a fresh, clean tasting drink. Just like the Gimlet that they mix in the Cat and Fiddle at Hinton Admiral, a village on the edge of the New Forest.

Cat and Fiddle—Gimlet

The Cat and Fiddle is justly famous for its Gimlet, a refreshing drink made from Gilbey's London Dry and fresh lime juice. Close by in Wiltshire, at the Sign of the Angel, we discovered how to give a Gilbey's and orange juice a "frosty" edge. Wet a glass, then put it upside down in the freezer compartment. After half an hour it will have a sparkling "frosty" edge.

Eagle—Gilbey's Weasel

At the Eagle in London they mix a superb Gilbey's Weasel (made from Gilbey's and Bitter Lemon). They say the drink was named after a saddler's weasel (used for making holes in leather). A saddler who had premises at the rear of the Eagle enjoyed the drink so much that he would 'pop' or pledge his weasel when he was short of money.

Pop goes the Weasel

You can rely on Gilbey's London Dry, a perfectly balanced gin that gives you a fresh, clean tasting drink. This gin is an international favourite, sold in 92 countries. It's been made by the Gilbey family for 109 years.

Ottawa:

Dodger Hunt Unsure

OTTAWA (CP) —A Vancouver investigation has brought only inconclusive results about whether FBI agents are going after Americans who have come to Canada to avoid the draft, Solicitor - General Pennell told the Commons Friday.

Opposition Leader Diefenbaker asked whether Mr. Pennell was able to furnish information from the RCMP about whether U.S. police are coming into Canada without RCMP assistance in their searches.

GO STRAIGHT

Mr. Pennell said RCMP have questioned the people who made the reports, but haven't been able to get conclusive answers.

Mr. Diefenbaker suggested that the government go straight to Washington and ask if the FBI had agents "snooping about" in Canada.

"Certainly this is something that shouldn't take place."

Robert Prittie (NDP—Burnaby-Richmond) wanted to know whether any Americans who have refused to fight in Viet Nam have sought political asylum here.

GROUPS IN B.C.

External Affairs Minister Martin said he didn't know of any.

Mr. Diefenbaker said there are groups in Ontario and B.C. that are welcoming deserters. He asked whether anyone "not willing to assume the responsibility of their own citizenship" should be welcomed here.

"Let them stay," interjected an NDP member.

Fund Launched

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian Flood Relief for Italy campaign has been officially launched. Organizers have set a $300,000 goal for Ontario. Flood victims in Florence and Venice would get $200,000 while the remaining $100,000 would go to pay for restoration for damaged art treasures.

IF YOU THINK ABOUT TAXES

you'll reflect that only the Homeowners' Grants have made Victoria's tax increases supportable by the ordinary man. The free-spending policies of past years must be restrained right now. No honest candidate could promise tax reductions — but Frank Hunter promises a shrewd look at every city expense budget—and who can do it better than the man who has 38 years' experience as City Clerk? Think about this election, then

Co-op Scouts Possible For New NHL

OSHAWA (CP) — Wren Blair, general manager of the Minnesota club that will begin operation in next season's expanded National Hockey League, says the new six-team division will probably adopt a central scouting system within the next few years.

"The six new clubs will probably hire a four-man team, which will rate the 72 junior players that become eligible in June each year for the NHL draft," Blair said from his home here Thursday night.

Under the terms of a new NHL-Canadian Amateur Hockey Association agreement, professional hockey clubs no longer sponsor amateur clubs and have no priority rights to an individual player.

Centennial Ball Features Fiddling Trio

By BERT BINNY

There were hi-jinks all the way at the Oldtimers' Centennial Ball Friday night at the Victoria Ballroom.

As a matter of fact the ballroom itself hadn't seen a crowd anywhere near as large for years. Close to 500 oldtimers (65 or older) were present and the dance floor was crowded all the time.

Polkas, waltzes, minuets, two-steps, squares and the rest occupied the whole evening except for the intermission when the crowd was thoroughly entertained by three fiddlers, all entrants in next year's fiddling contest.

* * *

The youngest of the forthcoming contestants was John Rigby. John is 14 and one of his rivals, Bert White, is just five times as old — 70.

Bert, incidentally, performed on a rather unorthodox fiddle manufactured from a chocolate box, a broom handle and a length of discarded fishline. Also he played a regulation instrument behind his back.

* * *

John received prolonged applause for his Reel de Grandmere, Humming Bird Waltz and the Orange Blossom special.

The third performer was Fred McDermott who likewise thoroughly pleased the audience with his spirited polka, Don Messer reel and waltz.

* * *

It was quite a floor show. The hall was delightfully decorated by the Chinatown Lions Club, led by Ed Chow. Music was supplied in the proper vein and spirit by the Pioneers' Orchestra led by Geoff Venables.

The whole affair was a thorough going success and a resplendent feather in the cap of the Victoria Centennial Society.

* * *

However, there was one asset which the society could not supply and this was the enthusiasm and terrific energy displayed by the Oldtimers themselves.

Ogden Nash speaks of the "forgoten glee" which the older citizens bequeath to the younger. Certainly 500 of Victoria's older citizens proved beyond doubt that they haven't forgotten how to be gleeful.

Passengers Delayed

Crippled Queen Returns to Slip

B.C. Ferries' Queen of Saanich had a breakdown in her steering mechanism half-an-hour out of Tsawassen landing Friday night about 6:30 p.m. and returned to the landing to unload her Island-bound passengers.

Too late to catch the 7 p.m. sailing for the Island, her passengers were given priority in boarding the 8 p.m. sailing.

The priority was not needed however as the 8 p.m. sailing was able to accomodate both the stranded Queen of Saanich passengers and all vehicles intending to take the sailing.

Closed Vote Caps Witty Seizure

By A. H. MURPHY
City Hall Reporter

In its most decisive action yet in the acquisition of parkland, the capital district regional board has given third and final reading to a bylaw to expropriate 40 acres of land owned by the Witty brothers.

The reading occurred Thursday and was disclosed Friday.

The action to expropriate came as a climax to months of negotiation between the board and the brothers, Stanley and Leslie, members of a pioneer family which has owned land in the district for generations.

The regional board, which already owns eight acres of sandspit and on Witty's Lagoon, has offered $100,000 for the 44 acres.

The offer was refused by the brothers who say they have already received an offer of $175,000 for the valuable property. The Wittys' asking price for the land was reported Friday to be well above $175,000.

The decision to expropriate was made by the regional board meeting in camera, in committee-of-the-whole, following the regular board meeting Thursday.

Reeve Hugh Curtis of Saanich, the board chairman, said the decision was made on the unanimous vote of the board. There were no dissenters or abstainers among the directors.

He pointed out, however, expropriation proceedings could be halted at any time if hope is revived that the matter might be settled by negotiation.

* * *

A 'Death' Sentence And Where to Go?

"I feel as if I have received my death sentence," was the reaction of Stanley Witty to the news that the regional board had acted to expropriate his property for parkland.

"I have worked for years to be able to come back here and retire.

* * *

"I sold my logging business in Terrace, but I left my young son up there. He wants to come and live on the family property, but I don't want to bring him into this mess," he said.

Mr. Witty said that, when he first returned to Metchosin, he thought of building a trailer park on the property but gave up the idea when he saw public opinion was against him.

* * *

"The board has taken the full 44 acres, without any consideration as to where the family will live.

"It was the Wittys who looked after that land," added Mr. Witty, "so that it is coveted today."

Witty

Metchosin Opinion:

Odd Way To Hail Pioneers

By NANCY BROWN

Expropriation of a family's land is a strange way to honor pioneers in a centennial year, angry Metchosin residents say.

Land which had belonged to the Witty family for 101 years was ordered expropriated for park purposes by the capital regional board Thursday.

"The rest of B.C. is honoring its pioneers, but here in Metchosin we are taking their land away," was the comment of Mrs. Anna Ranns.

"We are not gaining anything —anyone has been free to go onto their property at any time. How could the board do such a thing?"

MITCHELL CRITICIZED

The treasurer of the Metchosin ratepayers association, Dan Stansall was perturbed at the action of Metchosin representative Geoffrey Mitchell in voting for expropriation.

"He was at a ratepayers' meeting here Monday, and he heard our opinion. Nearly everyone at that meeting voted against expropriation.

"Mr. Mitchell should represent us on that board, whatever his personal feelings might be."

NO ONE SAFE

"This expropriation can set a precedent right across B.C. No one will be safe. They can go ahead and take anything they want."

Mr. Stansall expects the ratepayers' group to take its story to other organizations so residents of other areas can realize the danger.

TIMING STRANGE

Another long-time resident said she felt the timing was strange.

"Other districts are going all out to honor their pioneers, and here in one of the oldest settlements we are taking away the birthright of ours.

"Desirable though the property might be for parkland, this was the wrong time and the wrong method."

Fluoridation

Renters Vote Too

Everyone on the voters' list will have a voice next week in Oak Bay's fluoridation referendum.

Dr. Harold R. Carter said Friday the Dec. 10 fluoridation referendum is unlike money bylaws, on which only property-owners are qualified to vote.

NARROW MARGIN

He said he proposed the issue be taken to the people again this year because of the narrow margin by which it was defeated in 1965.

Last year's referendum fell short of the required 60 per cent majority by 17 votes.

ALL IN FAVOR

"Every councillor in Oak Bay has repeatedly voted in favor of fluoridating the water supply," said Dr. Carter.

He said the statements and inferences of anti-fluoridationists often are "outright misrepresentation" and he intends checking out each of their sources.

City Appeal Going All the Way

With success less than one percentage point away, the co-chairman of the United Appeal, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Noble, have decided to extend the campaign until the target of $452,000 is reached.

The appeal has raised $448,018 so far, just $3,982 short of the goal set for 1967 funds.

A final canvass will be made in an effort to reach the objective.

Hugh Stephen:

Sunday Sport Hardly an Issue

With jurisdiction entirely outside the municipal sphere, the question of Sunday sport is hardly an issue in the Victoria mayoralty election, Ald. Hugh Stephen said Friday.

* * *

One of three candidates for the top office, Ald. Stephen said that in any case he felt the matter of charging admission for Sunday sporting events was a matter for each person's conscience.

"I am certainly not in favor of wholesale commercialization of the Sabbath — a day meant for rest and repose — but if a referendum was held and 60 per cent of the voters wanted to alter the Municipal Act to make this possible, I, of course, would respect the decision at the polls," the alderman added.

* * *

Candidate Frank Hunter has come out against the charging of admissions for Sunday sport and Ald. Clyde Savage, also an aspirant, said legalizing Sunday sport was simply a matter of recognizing a condition which already exists.

Candidates Meet Tuesday

An Esquimalt all-candidates' meeting will be held in the Jubilee Hall on Fraser Street at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

The meeting will be sponsored by the Association of Women electors, and all six candidates for the three seats on council have been invited.

Although unopposed for his third term on the school board, Leslie Karagianis has also been invited to address the meeting.

For Carrier Robbers

$200 Reward Posted

Victoria Press Ltd. Friday offered a $200 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of two teen-agers responsible for the theft of $30 from a 13-year-old newspaper carrier.

* * *

Robbed of his collection money in the 400 block Garbally early Thursday evening was Brian Stewart, 454 Gorge Road East.

"Deep concern" at the incident was expressed by an official of Victoria Press Ltd. in offering the reward "to any person or persons giving information which leads to the apprehension and conviction of the guilty person or persons."

Chief Constable George Gregory of Victoria has agreed to assist Victoria Press in the proper allocation of the reward money.

Description of the two boys follows:

One, aged about 15, had long dark hair, was five feet eight inches tall, and was wearing tight grey pants and a brown leather jacket with fancy studs on it.

* * *

The second, also about 15, had long dark hair, was five feet five inches tall, and was wearing black cord pants and blue ski jacket.

Victorian Dies After Fire

Charles Dundas, 71, of 1216 Fort, found Friday in a room filled with smoke and some flame, was pronounced dead on arrival at Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Firemen found him in bed in the room and reports said he had been smoking. The firemen said they believe he was dead before they reached the scene. The landlady discovered the blaze.

December's Dark Days Still Carry Their Delights

These are grey days, damp days, December days, when headlights are needed by 4 p.m. and Victorians go to work and come home in the dark. Scene is wind and rain-swept Douglas Street. Safe-driving week, on right now, helps to point out hidden dangers. — (Kinsman).

But there are bright spots at midday when the sun breaks through and chrysanthemums bloom. Taking bright spot break in garden is University of Victoria student Wilf Nenzi, 2502 Garden.

Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: The best way I know to get a vital message across to millions of people is to write to Ann Landers. Here it is—an open letter to grandparents:

Why, oh why, don't you treat your grandchildren the way you treated your own children when they were growing up? Did you stuff your own youngsters with ice cream, candy and popcorn? Did you let them stay up beyond their normal bed time just to have a little extra fun? Did you let your own kids talk back to you? Did you make excuses for them when they misbehaved? Did you laugh at their bad manners and call it cute? Why, then, do you do this to your grandchildren?

We — the parents — have to undo all your spoiling when we take our children home from your place — or after you leave our place. Please give your grandchildren a break. Stick to the rules their parents have set up for them.

And please don't take your grandchild's side against his mother and dad. We have enough trouble raising kids today. Thank you very much. — BATTLE WEARY PETITIONER

Dear Petitioner: Some grandparents rationalize their permissiveness by telling themselves they are not going to train their grandchildren — that they simply want to enjoy them.

This of course is fourth-rate reasoning. Grandparents undermine their children's hard work when they let their grandchildren get away with a lot of nonsense and please don't say, "wait till you have grandchildren of your own." I HAVE grandchildren of my own and I am a pretty tough ol' cookie.

★ ★ ★

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 17-year-old school senior who read in a magazine that $10 a month will support an abandoned Korean child. The magazine piece said the child's case history will be sent and the child will write to his adoptive parents.

I have a fairly generous allowance and I do baby-sitting weekends. Would I qualify even though I am only 17? Please tell me where to write if I am eligible. Thank you. — WANT TO HELP

Dear Want To: Whenever I hear someone putting down today's teen-agers, I like to haul out a letter like yours and show them how wrong they are.

There is no age limit on this adoptive plan. Write to Compassion, 7774 West Irving Park Road, Chicago, Illinois 60634. In Canada the address is Box No. 880, Blenheim, Ontario. It's a wonderful thing to do and I admire you for wanting to do it.

★ ★ ★

Dear Ann Landers: I have a young friend who talks of death constantly. He is bright and sensitive and has much to offer. It makes me terribly sad to hear him say he wants to die because he can't stand all the horrible things that are happening in the world today.

Three weeks ago this young man had his third automobile accident. He managed to escape again with only minor injuries. I have the feeling he is trying to kill himself. Is this possible? What can I do to help him? — CONCERNED

Dear Concerned: It sounds as if your friend is indeed trying to kill himself. The only thing you can do is try to get him to seek professional help before he succeeds and takes somebody with him.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hamilton Paterson of 119 Olive Street were honored on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary at a family party for 15 in Persian Room at Century Inn. Carnations, candles and three-tier cake graced banquet table for a happy occasion. Dr. E. Smiley proposed toast to honored couple who were married in Christ Church Cathedral, Luton, England, Nov. 25, 1916. Mr. and Mrs. Paterson came to Canada in 1919, living on a farm at Nanaimo until 1939 when they moved to Victoria. They have three sons, and three daughters, all living in city, and 22 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. Both are active members of Victoria Lawn Bowling Club.—(Jus-Rite)

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Stokes To Reside in Vancouver

Of interest here is the recent marriage of Joan Elizabeth Taylor and Mr. Robert Marpole Stokes at the Canadian Memorial United Church, Vancouver.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh J. Taylor, Vancouver, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Stokes, 2789 Musgrave Street.

★ ★ ★

Rev. W. Stuart MacLeod officiated at the evening ceremony. Mr. R. Loney was organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a floor-length gown of white peau 'd ange with full train falling from the high waistline. Seed pearl embroidery highlighted the lace appliques on the bodice and matching lace appliques trimmed the illusion net veil which cascaded from a headpiece of silk organza roses. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Floor-length empire style gowns in moss green velvet and featuring floating back panels were worn by Mrs. I. Phillip Humphries, matron of honor, Mrs. Phillip P. Olsen, bridesmatron, and Miss Heather Lavey, bridesmaid, all of Vancouver. They wore velvet rose headdresses and veils and carried bronze chrysanthemums.

Mr. Richard Sparks of Victoria was best man. Ushering were Mr. Richard Stokes, Victoria, and Mr. Douglas Taylor, Vancouver, brothers of the principals.

Mr. D. C. Munro proposed the toast to the bride at the reception which followed in Hycroft University Women's Club.

For travelling on honeymoon to Harrison Hot Springs, the new Mrs. Stokes wore a red wool coat and dress ensemble and matching hat. A white rose corsage complemented her ensemble.

The newlyweds are now making their home in Vancouver.

Festive Fete At School

Campbell River Wins Buttle Testing Point

The Upper Island Health Unit was given the authority Friday to resume its regular pollution tests on Buttle Lake for the District of Campbell River.

It is understood the unit stopped taking its tests when it was advised some time ago that the Pollution Control Board, which gave Western Mines Ltd. permission to dump mine tailings and treated sewage into the lake, would be responsible for doing the tests.

Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell said he received a letter from the district of Campbell River protesting the decision to halt this function of the health unit.

The minister declined to say who has issued the instructions which the Campbell River board was objecting about, but he said he took steps to see that Dr. G. A. Gibson, director of the health unit, is advised to continue taking the tests.

"We want to make sure all the cards are on the table, and the contamination tests will take place," Mr. Campbell said.

The minister said he sent the following telegram to the Campbell River boards:

"Following discussions I received the immediate co-operation of the minister of health to restore the right of the Upper Island Health Unit to test the waters of Buttle Lake on a continuing basis and at any time requested to do so by the Greater Campbell River Water Board."

Mr. Campbell also said, "There is no pollution of Buttle Lake up to now, and his (Dr. Gibson's) tests have shown this. These tests should continue on a continuing basis."

* * *

The whole thing began last week, when Campbell River council received correspondence from Upper Island Health Unit reporting that the unit has been told Pollution Control Board will be exclusively responsible for doing the tests.

* * *

"The Pollution Control Board are setting themselves up as judge and jury," complained Coun. Mrs. Isobel Sandberg. "They want to be watchdogs over their own inspections."

After that council unanimously voted to request tests of the lake be continued by Upper Island Health Unit.

Esquimalt

Fire Pact Denied

Esquimalt policemen have a letter from associate defence minister Leon Cadieux stating no written agreement will be entered into for the naval fire division to help fight fires in Esquimalt.

Commenting on a story in Friday's Colonist that Esquimalt council is expecting a formal agreement to be completed within a few days, policeman's union president Frank Bell said Friday this did not coincide with his information.

AUGUST LETTER

"Speaking for the union executive," he said, "we have a letter dated last Aug. 9 which says there will be no such agreement.

"Even if there is it will not alter our position one iota.

"We still don't want to be in the position of combining police and fire protection. We have to be firemen and ambulance drivers, and respond to all alarms."

DEFENCE PROPERTY

The spokesman quoted the letter from Mr. Cadieux as saying written protection would not be given, nor could a firm assurance be given that the naval fire division would be able to respond to alarms that did not threaten defence property.

The spokesman did not feel costs of separate fire protection needed to be too high.

"We have made recommendations that would have come within $25,000 of the existing budget, but whatever we come up with we are always turned away," he said.

Same Old Thing?

An angry housewife Friday night charged Esquimalt municipal council with bluffing the entire interview in which Coun. Edward DeCosta said the municipality was "just days away" from an agreement with the federal government to use its navy firefighting equipment.

Mrs. Mary Fraser of View Royal said that, with municipal elections just a week away, the council was using its "usual tactics" in order to make the municipality seem more appealing for its proposed amalgamation with the Panhandle.

"They thought there wouldn't be time to receive an answer before the municipal elections," she said when told of Mr. Cadieux's letter.

"I get so mad at these darn tactics of theirs," she said. "And they're going to use more."

Disaster Test Shocking Affair

Assignment for makeup artist Miss S. Gould, 303 Vancouver, was to turn student nurse Wendy MacLean into paled and shocked victim of mock marine disaster which sent 50 "patients" to St. Joseph's Hospital Friday night. All were admitted and underwent preliminary diagnosis in less than one hour during test of hospital's disaster plans. —(William E. John)

Archivist Ireland Man of the Year

Willard Ireland, provincial archivist and librarian, Friday night was named British Columbia's Man of the Year.

The award, made by B.C. newspaper editors and radio and television news editors, went to a man who probably knows more about this province's past than any other person.

It went to a man who frequently has said he's a little fatigued by all of B.C.'s centenaries. But he has never seemed fed up with history.

THREE CHILDREN

Mr. Ireland, married with three children, lives at 184 St. Charles.

Born in New Westminster, he seems to have acquired his taste for history as a boy. His father was a Methodist minister and the family lived in many parts of the province.

From the University of B.C. he obtained a Bachelor of Arts degree, majoring in history, and went on to the University of Toronto, where he earned his Master of Arts degree in the same specialty.

Mr. Ireland taught high school in South Burnaby before he was appointed provincial librarian in 1940.

After that, he took a leave of absence and joined the RCAF. On his return from the Second World War, he was given the additional appointment of archivist.

As head of the provincial library and archives, he has been responsible for a huge collection that many historians describe as a provincial treasure.

Mr. and Mrs. Ireland have a daughter, 22, a 20-year-old son, and a second daughter, 14.

The award is sponsored by the Newsmen's Club of B.C.

Ex-Teacher Dies at 79

A former mathematics teacher at St. Margaret's school, Mrs. Nellie Whitney-Griffiths, 3981 Metchosin Road, died Thursday at 79.

Born in England, Mrs. Whitney-Griffiths came to Canada 40 years ago and taught for a while at St. Margaret's school.

She is survived by her husband, William, one son and three grandchildren.

Funeral services will take place at 1 p.m. Monday at St. Mary's church in Metchosin.

Interference Call

PORT ALBERNI — Jim Spencer, vice-president of Local 593 of the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers, has accused another labor leader of interfering in the affairs of his union.

* * *

Mr. Spencer attacked Syd Thompson, president of the Vancouver local of the International Woodworkers of America, who had called on the provincial Labor Relations Board to reconsider its decisions in a battle between the International Brotherhood and the rival Pulp and Paper Workers of Canada.

Mr. Thompson also called for the resignation of Pat O'Neal from the executive of the B.C. Federation of Labor because of his part in the bugging of a Vancouver hotel room occupied by the Canadian union during a recent convention.

Mr. O'Neal is also an official of the International Brotherhood.

* * *

The Port Alberni union leader said in an interview Mr. Thompson "has absolutely no right to call on the Labor Relations Board to reconsider its decision against a vote of the Harmac pulp mill employees to decide which union they want to represent them."

Month's End Awful

The weatherman says November wasn't a bad month for Victoria at all — if you can forget those last seven days.

Compared with previous Novembers, it was warmer, drier and less windy, despite the fact almost two-thirds of the 2.93 inches of rainfall came on the last seven days of the month.

The average temperature for the month was 46.2, up 1.3 degrees over the average of other Novembers.

The maximum temperature was 55.3 Nov. 1, while the minimum was recorded Nov. 11 at 36.3 the average November high and low temperatures were 53.6 and 39.8.

* * *

This past month was duller than normal. Hours of bright sunshine totalled 74 compared to 81 for November averages.

There was no snowfall during the month, while previous Novembers recorded an average of 0.7 inches.

The average hourly windspeed for the month was 10.9 miles an hour as compared to the normal of 11.3. The highest hourly speed was 43 miles and hour and the highest gust was 71.

Fog was reported on three days.

Accumulated precipitation since Jan. 1 now stand at 18.97 inches, which is 3.35 inches below the normal of 22.32.

The 2,051 hours of sunshine are well below the normal of 2,140.7 hours.

'Why Shabby Trick?'

A Vancouver man was sentenced in central magistrate's court Friday after pleading guilty to a charge of attempting to obtain cash by false pretences.

A city detective said Donald Dixon, 24, of 871 Granville Street in Vancouver, had tried to refund a set of drapes worth $35.65 including tax at a downtown department store Thursday night.

SHORT OF CASH

He told store officials the drapes had been purchased a week earlier for his girl friend, but later in a signed statement Dixon claimed he had found the drapes in the washroom of a city hotel, and had been short of cash.

After hearing Dixon's record, Magistrate William Ostler noted the accused had been committing crimes since a juvenile, and asked if he was working. Dixon told court he was employed as a desk clerk at a Vancouver hotel.

"If you are working why did you try this shabby trick?" the magistrate asked as he passed sentence.

Brian Scott, 20, of 4042 Douglas, was fined $50 after he pleaded guilty to a charge of being a minor in possession of liquor.

George Gibbon, 19, CFB Esquimalt, was fined $35 when he pleaded guilty to a charge of being a minor in possession of liquor.

Bernard Dumesnil, 19, 835 Burdett, was fined $35 and $5 costs after pleading guilty to a charge of being a minor in possession of liquor, and failing to appear.

Two Port Alberni youths were given jail terms by the magistrate. Both had been charged with two counts of breaking and entering.

Two Saanich service stations, Trans-Canada Texaco station at 480 Burnside West and Pacific 66 at 3445 Douglas, were broken into Nov. 20 by 20-year-old James Perry while his partner Reginald Kelly, 24, waited outside in a stolen car.

Perry was sentenced to one year definite and six months indefinite in the Oakalla young offenders unit and Kelly was sentenced to 30 days and fined $500.

"You are a menace on the highway," Magistrate Ostler told Robert Nye, 416 Springfield, and fined him $500 and prohibited him from driving any place in Canada for three years.

The accused had been charged with impaired driving Nov. 6 after he had driven over the Johnson Street Bridge in the oncoming traffic lane, and had been observed weaving across the centre line on Esquimalt Road. A breathalyzer test showed .25 per cent blood alcohol.

He had been charged with impaired driving four years ago.

Kenneth Arnold, 1215 Lockley, was fined $50 and $75 after pleading guilty to two counts of obtaining money by false pretences.

He was charged after cashing a $30 cheque at a Victoria furniture store, and gave a $44 cheque to an Oak Bay restaurant to pay for food and liquor. Both cheques had been returned from the bank.

The accused told the court the cheques now had been made good.

He said he had a drinking problem and thought there had been enough money in his account to cover the cheques.

"Drinking gives one expensive feelings, and if you keep on drinking you will keep on writing cheques," warned Magistrate Ostler.

Fined in traffic court were: Johannes Vandercep, 82 Burnside West, $40, careless driving; John Prior, 1286 Derby, $100, failing to remain at the scene of an accident; Stanely Chipps, Becher Bay Road, 100, driving while right to obtain a licence was under suspension, $25 for using another's drivers licence.

Victoria Honors Sisters

The City of Victoria will make "presentations" Monday evening to two sister municipalities which are celebrating their diamond anniversaries this year.

Acting Mayor Cecil Parrott and aldermen will arrive at a meeting of Saanich council at 7:30 p.m., congratulate the adjacent community and make the "presentation," after which they will journey to Oak Bay, arriving at 8:30 p.m. to perform the same function.

Just what the "presentations" will be was a City Hall secret Friday.

Nuclear Blast Planned Monday

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission Thursday rescheduled for Monday a nuclear test blast in the Tatum Salt Dome near Hattiesburg, Miss. The underground detonation, equivalent to 350 tons of TNT, will be set off as part of efforts to improve detection, identification and location of underground explosions by other countries.

Road Peril Rises in Month

There was a substantial increase in the number of traffic accident victims treated at St. Joseph's Hospital in November, over the same period last year.

During November this year, 71 people were treated in the emergency ward, as a result of traffic accidents, an increase of 24 over last year.

In the emergency ward a total of 1,443 were treated during the month, an increase of 85 over last year.

Of the total, 905 required surgery and 538 were medical cases.

The majority — 1,225 — of the cases were released after treatment, and 206 were admitted for further treatment.

This is Debbie Jacks.
She hates Cunninghams.

Normally, some of our best friends are kids.

Debbie Jacks certainly was.

She always thought Cunninghams was a great place to get ice cream and candy. Then one day she got a tummy ache and discovered our real reason for being in business.

Prescriptions. Drugs and medicines and other things that kids hate.

At Cunninghams we stock the biggest selection of pharmaceuticals in the province. And every store is managed by a graduate pharmacist who knows exactly what your doctor has in mind.

It's been our number one reason for being in business for over fifty-five years. Which is why more people use Cunninghams prescription service than any other drug store in B.C.

Like we've always said, Cunninghams Care means a lot to you and your family.

But you won't get Debbie Jacks to swallow it.

At Cunninghams we care.

In City Churches

Christmas Spirit Spreading

Victoria churches, at the beginning of the second week of Advent, are continuing the spirit of the coming Christmas, with carols, Advent wreaths, White Gift services and some special presentations.

This Sunday is also Bible Sunday in some churches.

Christmas is more than gifts and carol singing and snow upon the roof or candlelight or greetings, or the chime of church bells across the silent night, says Dr. Emma M. Smiley of Victoria Truth Centre.

"Christmas is your love for those who love you, your faith that you are one with God. It is your star, not in the night above you, but shining in your heart."

TWO SERVICES

Dr. Smiley will speak on Creative Prophecy at 11 a.m. Sunday and her subject at 7:30 p.m. will be You Cannot Stay Young. Divine Guidance is the subject for the meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

The monthly Prosperity meeting will be held at 3 p.m. Thursday. The Men's Club will continue the discussion course on Dr. Maxwell Maltz's book Psycho-Cybernetics at 8 p.m. Dec. 12.

* * *

At Emmanuel and Stevenson Memorial Baptist Churches for the next few Sundays, Rev. N. K. Archer will base his sermons on Biblical characters of Christmas. At 9:30 a.m. in Stevenson and at 11 a.m. in Emmanuel this Sunday he will talk about Mary. At 7:30 p.m. in Emmanuel he will give a sermon on Joseph. Christmas anthems will be sung by the choir. At the close of the morning service, the ordinance of the Lord's Supper will be observed.

* * *

At Centennial United Church the Advent theme will be continued with a presentation at the evening service of a recording of Dickens' A Christmas Carol by a cast of actors headed by Sir Ralph Richardson. The recording will be illustrated by a film strip.

* * *

At St. Luke's Parish Church the annual White Gift service will be held at 9:30 a.m. The Sunday school will attend with parents and the children will offer their gifts. Children in the various missionary districts and local organizations arranging Christmas gifts for needy families will be given the white gifts.

RECTOR PREACHES

At 11 a.m. the rector, Archdeacon C. E. F. Wolff, will preach on The Church and The Bible in accordance with the Anglican Church's observation of Bible Sunday.

Rev. Dr. K. M. King will preach on Science and, The Bible at the evening service, and will deal with the alleged conflict between the Bible and science.

* * *

At St. John's Anglican Church Sunday the family service will deal with the Advent wreath and its use as a reminder of our need for preparation of ourselves for Christ's coming. The 50-voice children's choirs will sing a plainsong melody Hark, A Herald Voice Is Calling.

At 11 a.m. the rector, Canon Grahame B. Baker, will preach on the importance of the Bible for man today and the great work carried on by the Bible Society. The senior choir under the direction of Donald Woodworth will sing.

* * *

Pastor Emeritus, Dr. J. B. Rowell, will preach at both services in Central Baptist Church. At 11 a.m. his topic will be The Mind of Christ and at 7 p.m. he will answer the question Saved Today, Lost Tomorrow? using the scriptures as his authority. The Lord's Supper will be observed after the evening service.

Dr. Rowell, who was pastor of the church for 31 years, will take all Sunday services in December. He will also speak at the Leper Mission in the church at 3 p.m. Friday.

* * *

Bethlehem — Village of Love is the subject for Rev. Robert J. D. Morris in First United Church at 9:30 and 11 a.m. services Sunday. At 7:30 p.m. Rev. Marvin G. Fowler will speak on The Continuing Incarnation. Rino Elverhoy will sing The Penitent at the 11 a.m. service.

Two Flagons Relics Stay Put

LONDON (AP) — Should a vicar sell the church treasures to raise funds for repairs to the building?

Rev. Robert McIntyre, 58, vicar of St. Cuthbert's in the Somerset market town of Wells, thought he should. So, when renovation of the church windows required more money than his parishioners could raise, he decided to sell two 300-year-old silver flagons.

EXPERT VALUE

An art expert had valued them at £4,000.

That raised a storm he never expected. The sale was opposed by the city council and the governors of a school founded by one Ezekiel Barkham, who presented the flagons to the church before his death in 1641.

The issue became so controversial that the Bishop of Bath and Wells, Rt. Rev. Edward Henderson, stepped in to appoint a consistory court to give a ruling.

ANXIOUS WAITING

Rectors and vicars all over Britain watched to see which way the decision would go. Most had some church plate stored away but little money in their restoration funds.

Just how much treasure the Church of England has is a matter for conjecture. One expert has set its value at £20,000,000.

Father McIntyre's flagons stand about two feet high and look like drinking mugs with hinged lids. They are never used.

ONE TO ANOTHER

"They lie in the bank vault from one end of the year to another," the vicar said.

When the consistory court met in Wells for what was expected to be a two-day hearing, 47 objectors turned up. But the court adjourned after only five minutes and gave no decision.

It was announced the vicar had withdrawn his application to sell the flagons and the hearing was closed. Another way was found to raise the money.

Vancouver Island Christian Science Churches will have as their lesson-sermon this Sunday, God The Only Cause And Creator.

Scriptural readings include Matthew's account of Jesus' healing of the insane boy who fell "ofttimes . . . into the fire, and oft into the water," and Jesus' admonition to his disciples, "If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you."

'GOD WILL HEAL'

"Our master cast out devils (evils) and healed the sick," reads a correlative passage in the denominational textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy. "It should be said of his followers also, that they cast fear and all evil out of themselves and others and heal the sick. God will heal the sick through man, whenever man is governed by God. Truth casts out error now as surely as it did 19 centuries ago."

* * *

"In four weeks we will be celebrating Christmas," says Rev. John A. Watson of First Baptist Church. "Advent must be more than a date on the calendar. We must be prepared for it. We must open our hearts and minds to the truth of the central fact of all history."

He will speak on the theme God Became Man at the Sunday morning service, using texts from Isaiah 40 and John 1. "And the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it."

BEARS WITNESS

"There was a man sent from God, whose name was John. The same came for a witness, to bear witness of the Light, that all men through him might believe."

In the evening Mr. Watson's topic will be An Overwhelming Joy with scripture readings from Amos 5 and Acts 1. Carol Hayward will be guest soloist in the morning.

* * *

In Fairfield United Church Sunday morning, Rev. H. W. Kerley will take as his subject Sufficient Grace. The choir will sing Come, Thou Almighty King and Mrs. Gwen Cramer will be soloist at both services.

* * *

Rev. Marvin D. Evans of The Unitarian Church of Victoria will give the second sermon — The Dynamics of Change — in the series on The Open and Closed Mind at 9:30 and 11 a.m. Sunday in Servetus Hall, 108 Superior. He will repeat the sermon at 8:30 p.m. Thursday.

A party will be held at 8:30 p.m. today in the lounge and an open house will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. Wednesday.

* * *

Rev. Dr. L. W. McLean will preach at both services in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Sunday. His topic in the morning is A Leader to the People and in the evening, God With Us.

John Bray will sing a solo, My Prayer, and the choir will sing Hark, A Thrilling Voice Is Sounding, in the morning. In the evening the choir will sing the anthem Cherubim Son.

* * *

St. Aidan's United Church, which for the past few months has been holding Sunday evening services at 7 p.m., is reverting to the former time of 7:30 p.m. Rev. A. G. MacLeod will preach on Road Signs at the 11 a.m. service. Guest soloist will be Mrs. Betty Moyls, who will sing He That Dwelleth In the Secret Place. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Vera Barclay, will sing Praise. At the evening service, teachers and officers of the Sunday school will be installed.

Students Stage Organ Recital

The Victoria chapter of the Royal Canadian College of Organists will hold a student organ recital at First Baptist Church at 8 p.m. today. The recital is open to the public and will be given by Peter Bishop, Mrs. J. Yeats, Mrs. Mary Errington, Elizabeth Chinnick, Lynn and Donna Dougan, James O'Reilly, Richard Raglin and William Dyson.

Order of Nuns Ends Tradition

ST. AGATHA, Ont. (CP) — The Carmelite order of nuns here has broken a 400-year tradition by permitting the public to witness the solemn profession of final vows by a cloistered Carmelite nun.

* * *

Mary Moffit of Brantford became Sister Mary Eileen as friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony in the Carmelite Monastery chapel in this community, 10 miles west of Kitchener.

It was the first time in Canada that people outside the Carmelite community had been allowed to see the ceremony, from which even novices and postulants of the order had previously been excluded.

* * *

Christmas Music Sunday

A program of religious Christmas music will be given at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in St. John's Anglican Church on Quadra Street by the Don Kyle Singers and the Orpheus Ensemble of Victoria.

The program will be sponsored by St. Peter's Lake Hill Anglican Church senior choir. The choral groups will be conducted by Don Kyle, choirmaster of St. Peter's.

A collection will be taken in aid of the building fund of St. Peter's.

Island Catholics To Talk Council

Bishop Remi De Roo has invited 200 Roman Catholic laymen from points on Vancouver Island to discuss the formation of a pastoral council. A meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday in St. Joseph's Parish Hall, 745 West Burnside.

Msgr. M. T. O'Connell said Friday the purpose of the council is threefold, and would be concerned with consultation, research and the promotion of organized action at the diocesan level, providing channels of communication between the bishop and the people.

"The council is recommended by the Vatican council," he said. "It would be broader in scope than a parish organization, because it would include the whole diocese."

Announcement of the intention to explore the possibility of the formation of the council of the people came on the heels of the establishment of a senate of priests to share with Bishop De Roo the governing of Victoria diocese.

ISLAND COUNT

There are about 30,000 Catholics in the Victoria diocese, which covers all of Vancouver Island.

The senate of priests will represent the clergy of the diocese. The Vatican Council ruled that all dioceses should have such a senate. Pope Paul recommended that the senate should have only a consultative vote. But Bishop De Roo has given the senate a role in the making of decisions.

He will share his authority with the presbyterate which is the whole body of priests in the diocese.

Formation of the pastoral council will be one of the first issues before the senate.

Mother Didn't Notice

Often we are so engrossed in the preparation for Christmas, including all the chores that a modern Christmas celebration dictates, that we have little time to think of spiritual preparation for a spiritual event.

There is the story of a mother who is Christmas shopping with her son. She is tired and her patience has worn thin. The boy has stopped in front of a window and is staring at a manger scene.

Anxious to get on with her shopping, the mother rushes to the boy, grabs his hand and pulls him away from the window.

"Come along," she says. "We don't have any time for THAT!" (From United Church calendar)

In City Gallery Seven Years

Dieppe Church Art Gift

An oil painting of a church in Dieppe, France, is part of the permanent collection of the Art Gallery of Greater Victoria.

The painting is the gift of Mrs. J. C. Hibbard and Mrs. R. W. Braide, who gave it to the gallery in 1959 to commemorate the 100th anniversary of their families, the Kers, in Victoria.

The painter, Walter Sickert, was born in Munich in 1860 of English parents. While studying in Paris, he was noticed by Whistler, through whom he met Manet and Degas. He was influenced by the French impressionists and through him impressionism was introduced to London.

About 1885 he visited Dieppe for the first time and was so intrigued by the landscape that he returned many times. He painted this scene in 1924.

★ ★ ★

Sickert is considered one of the greatest English artists of his time. He died in 1942, the year of an unsuccessful attempt by Canadian forces to invade France at Dieppe.

Priest Well Known on Island Dies Suddenly in Ontario

★ ★ ★

Lemmens

A well-known figure on Vancouver Island — Rev. William Lemmens of the Montfort Fathers — has died suddenly in Eastview, near Ottawa, at the age of 87.

Father Lemmens spent the greater part of his priestly life on the Island. He was the nephew of Most Rev. J. N. Lemmens who was bishop of Victoria from 1887 to 1897. His brother Henry, also a member of the Montfort Fathers, was pastor of St. Edward's parish in Duncan from 1926 to 1934.

NEW MISSION

Father Lemmens came to the Island in August, 1903, one of the first two priests sent by his order to take over their new mission in the Cowichan district.

Living at Tzouhalem, he taught school on the Somenos reserve during the week and on Sundays attended to congregations at Cobble Hill, Mount Sicker, Crofton and Chemainus.

In September, 1904, the Montfort Fathers assumed responsibility for St. Louis College in Victoria. For the next two years, Father Lemmens taught there and acted as missionary to the Songhees Indians.

In 1906, he returned to Tzouhalem and the next year was appointed teacher at Kuper Island School. He went back to Tzouhalem in 1909 as superior of the residence and was instrumental the next year in the building of the rectory which still stands near the Old Stone Church.

In 1912 he was back at Kuper Island and in 1913 became principal. Two years later he went to Huberdeau, Que., as superior of an orphanage.

VICTORIA DIOCESE

From 1923 to 1932, Father Lemmens was pastor of the parish of St. Mary, Gate of Heaven, in Brooklyn. He was made superior of the Montfort Fathers in Victoria diocese in 1912 and in 1938 he was transferred to Tzouhalem as superior. He went back to Brooklyn from 1945 to 1948 and returned again to Tzouhalem.

He retired 10 years later to Eastview.

Born in Schimmert, Holland, Jan 26, 1879, Father Lemmens studied in Holland and France before entering the Montfort order.

OTTAWA ORDINATION

He came to Ottawa for philosophy and theology studies and was ordained there in 1902.

As a priest, he was devoted to every congregation he had. He spent many years with the Indians and their devotion to him was shown when he last left Vancouver Island.

He has a serene attitude which enabled him to consider quietly and objectively any situation or problem, a colleague said at his death. "His decisions were dispassionate and he carried out any project with calm and effectiveness."

Mutchmor Joins In Special Issue

A special Canadian centennial issue of the magazine Christianity Today will be published March 31, 1967.

One of the contributors will be Rev. James Mutchmor, former moderator and secretary of evangelism and social service of the United Church of Canada. The magazine, which has headquarters in Washington, D.C., has recently opened an office in suburban Toronto.

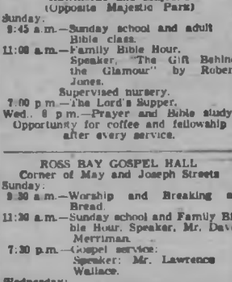
'Thrilling Experience'

Three Sects End Study With Special Communion

★ ★ ★



Walker

Quite a thrilling experience is the way Rev. Gordon Walker described a course of Bible study which has just ended in St. David-by-the-Sea Fellowship Hall.

The three groups that took part will hold a demonstration parish communion at 7:50 p.m. Sunday in St. David's Church, 5182 Cordova Bay.

Order of service will be according to the Book of Common Prayer of the Anglican Church and a group of singers and instrumentalists from the University of Victoria will accompany the service with the music of Geoffrey Beaumont's 20th Century folk mass.

LOVING CONCERN

"This particular demonstration to emphasize the willing offering of ourselves, helpful conditions for those who would communicate, loving concern for others and personal involvement in this corporate action of the church," said Mr. Walker.

Representatives of the discussion groups will give expression to these values as they read lessons, present bread, wine and collection at the offertory and take part in the prayers and responses, he said.

DYNAMIC DRAMA

In final sessions of the Bible study, entitled Dynamic Drama of the Bible, the 45 Anglicans, United and Presbyterian members struggled with the problem of restoring broken relations between men and God and amongst men, said Mr. Walker, who organized the discussions.

The study was sponsored by the Victoria Council of Churches and the Anglican diocesan board of religious education.

Although the course has been given before, this is the first year it has been an inter-church project.

DEEPER COURSE

"There was a lot of reading and study in connection with it," Mr. Walker said. "It limited the number of people who could take part but it was, because of the research, a deeper course."

Members of the group were particularly concerned about the divisions within the one Church of God, he said.

"They felt these divisions alienated many persons and were a stumbling block to the church's witness. They expressed a desire for direction in their search for unity and called for action."

WHEEL IN SOCIETY

At their last session the Sunday evening young people's group reported it saw the church as a slow-moving wheel in a fast-moving society. They suggested moving toward union with the Roman Catholics.

"These young people found themselves confronted with lack of communication, with gaps between symbols of authority and the participants and between ideals and behavior.

"To them, man seems determined to keep up his own traditions. It was difficult for them to discern where the will of God was and where the will of man was."

The adult group expressed the need to seek unity in Christ Himself. They saw Christ's victory, as the decisive victory because it provided the turning point for mankind.

They reported that, since "God accepts us with forgiving love regardless of our worthiness, so should we accept others."

DECISIVE VICTORY

They saw the final victory as a "state where all life was recognized as sacred; and would be found only in the unity of all mankind ... but an individual can win a decisive victory for himself."

J. C. Lort, Mabel Sadler and Win Life chaired the three groups. Discussion leaders were Faith Newberry, Christopher Howland, Alan Newberry, Rev. Gordon Faraday and Rev. Leslie Wallwork.

Rhodesia and Asia Topics for Visitor

An official of the United Church of Canada who served the church in Rhodesia will speak at two Victoria churches Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Rev. Maynard Booth of Toronto, who is with the department of information and stewardship, will preach at 11 a.m. in Oak Bay United Church and at 7:30 p.m. in Fairfield United.

★ ★ ★

Although he is scheduled to talk about the church in Asia, many will have questions on the present situation in Rhodesia. Mr. Booth was secretary of the British and Foreign Bible Society there for a number of years.

★ ★ ★

He has recently returned from an extensive tour of Africa and the Far East. Last year he visited Pakistan, India, Ceylon, Thailand, Malaysia, the Philippines, Borneo, Taiwan, Korea, Japan and Hong Kong.

He will address a luncheon meeting of the Victoria Council of Churches at noon Monday in the YMCA.

Perry Opens Vocational Wing

VANCOUVER (CP)—Dr. G. Neil Perry, deputy minister of education, opened the new $1,000,000 vocational wing at Sir Charles Tupper Secondary School here. He said schools must produce thinking members of society because "democracy . . . can hardly survive when people stop having ideas."

9 IN MEMORIAM

GLOVER — In fond memory of Harry Glover, who passed away December 4, 1964.
The pearly gates were opened.
A gentle voice said, "Come."
And with farewells unspoken,
He gently entered home.
—Always remembered by his wife, Winnifred; daughter, Phyllis, and son, Roy.

Winning Contract

By HOWARD SCHENKEN and RICHARD L. FREY

The player who enjoys bridge most—and deservedly—is the fellow who can be gracious about an opponent's good play. It isn't easy to be pleasant to the fellow who has tried to fool you — and succeeded. But if you can admire a god play even when it costs you, you'll get more fun — and a reputation for being a nice guy.

Opening lead: Club queen

A contract of six diamonds would have presented no problems, but South landed in the excellent heart slam and got an opening club lead, which he ruffed in dummy. Declarer then led the trump nine from the table and let it ride. Realizing that the only chance to pull the rug out was by deception, West played low without flickering a muscle.

South fell into the trap. He naively took another trump finesse and this time West gobbled up the trick. West's club return sank the contract, for dummy was out of trumps and could not ruff.

South tried to minimize West's achievement. "I guessed he was holding out on me with the trump queen," he muttered. "In that case," snarled North, "you might have taken the trouble to look for a safety play. Having won the first round of trumps, you are absolutely cold for twelve tricks regardless of the trump situation. Simply rattle off the diamonds. No matter who ruffs, it will be the defense's last trick, for dummy still has a trump to cope with a club return, and you can easily draw the two outstanding trumps."

A mature home, upgraded in many interesting ways, on a quiet cul-de-sac. Unsuited to a family with small children. Could be very interesting to a couple with a teen-age son or daughter who, in these enlightened days, desire their own degree of privacy. This home would also meet the requirements of a couple who have in-laws with them. It is in a residentially zoned area and is not one that can be rentably duplexed. It is an adaptable home, there are two full bathrooms, you can have 2, 3 or 4 bedrooms according to your needs. It is a home which cannot be described verbally. A personal viewing is essential. If the foregoing brief details create an interest in your mind please phone Mr. Simpson, 384-8126 or Res. 385-7309. We can at least discuss this rather unique property.

HOW'S YOUR VISION? 100%
VALLEY AND VALE MOUNTAIN AND LAKE
110 Acres—8-Mile Circle
Really, one would have to be blind not to realize the potential worth of this 110-acre plot of four parcels — 2 x 30 acres; 1 x 6 ac. and 1 x 4 ac. — with two road frontages. If you have only 80% vision then get a partner. This could be one of the finest tourist attractions with care in planning, as you could create a Chalet-type development with walks, bridal paths — sorry bridle paths; 2 to 3 acre lake. Mountain-side cottages, hilltop lodge which could overlook the Straits, Esquimalt Harbour, City proper and adjacent valleys. The view is exhilarating and reminds one of standing on the North Shore looking over the City of Vancouver (and just think of what those hilltop lots sell for now over there). There are sufficient usable roadbeds through the acreage so one could divide it into 10-acre holdings with a possible worth of about $350,000 in all. Where else could you find 110 acres so close in with great possibilities? For viewing phone F. WELLS, 386-4271. Oh yes, forgot to mention — Asking $80,000 on terms and this includes a reinforced concrete building on the mountain that would make a fabulous hilltop home. J. H. Whittome & Co. Ltd., 708 Fort St.

COUNTRY ESTATE
Beautiful secluded site for country estate is this 25 acres within 20 miles from City Hall, 15 acres cleared level land, remainder beautifully treed with lovely setting for good home. 730 ft. of river frontage. Embassy Phones Were Monitored

* * *

Baker Case Expose

* * *

By DAVID KRASLOW
The Los Angeles Times

WASHINGTON — The FBI tapped telephone wires of the Dominican Rebublic embassy in Washington from time to time during at least the last three administrations — and Presidents Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson all knew it.

Exposure of this sensitive national security wiretapping operation is an outgrowth of the Bobby Baker bugging controversy.

The FBI, it was further understood, also tapped the telephone of Juan Bosch in Puerto Rico where the former Dominican president, then in exile, was residing during the Dominican rebellion in the spring of 1965.

OFFICIALS DISTRESSED

Officials are distressed that a secret intelligence undertaking affecting U.S. foreign relations has been hit by fallout from the Baker case. Uncovering of the FBI wiretapping activities could complicate U.S.-Dominican relations.

It is because Baker, then the influential secretary to senate Democrats, telephoned the Dominican embassy several times in 1961 that the FBI wiretapping operation has now been compromised. The tap monitored all calls to the embassy, including Baker's.

It was understood that Baker, whose many-faceted extra-curricular activities later led to his downfall, telephoned the embassy in connection with some of his business interests — including a meat-packing plant in Haiti.

Baker has since been indicted on federal larceny, tax and conspiracy charges. Baker's lawyers are seeking in federal court here to have the charges killed, claiming that illegal electronic eavesdropping by the FBI contaminated the evidence against Baker.

CALLS MONITORED

The government has admitted that Baker conversations in Las Vegas and Washington were monitored by the FBI during electronic surveillance of some Baker associates in an organized crime investigation.

But in at least the public portion of pre-trial hearings before U.S. District Judge Oliver Gasch last month, there was no mention of Baker calls having been monitored in the wiretapping of the Dominican embassy. This information has now leaked.

IN PRIVATE

It is believed the government discussed the wiretap in private with Judge Gasch in the presence of Baker's attorneys. The government reportedly asked the judge to seal this information because of the national security implications.

Justice department lawyers contended in the hearings that no information obtained by bugging was used to build the criminal case against Baker.

Wet Month Predicted

Above normal temperatures and heavy precipitation are in store for Victoria and the rest of Vancouver Island according to the 30-day outlook of the United States weather bureau.

Safety in Home Firebook Theme

A revised edition of Fire Safety in the Home has just been published by the fire prevention branch of the federal department of public works.

On sale for 25 cents through outlets of the Queen's Printer, the booklet lists hundreds of tips in fire prevention and safety.

The branch has estimated that 600 Canadians die every year as a result of fires—47 per cent of all fires being caused by careless smoking.

Other major fire causes are faulty heating equipment (16 per cent); rubbish and trash (12 per cent) and faulty electric wiring (10 per cent).

The booklet contends that death by fire is almost always preventable.

Most of the 600 who die annually in Canada are children, the booklet says.

Century Hymn Heard

OTTAWA (CP)—The official Centennial hymn had its first public rendition before a gathering of the press Friday in the studio of its composer, Rex Le Lacheur.

Mr. Le Lacheur sang the melody in a rich baritone and Rev. Kenneth Moyer of Niagara Falls, Ont., who wrote the English words, joined in.

Ronald Dupres, an Ottawa translator and author, drafted the French version of the three original English verses. He was represented at the presentation by his translation-business partner, Paul Patenaude.

The hymn was selected from 50 entries submitted to the Canadian Interfaith Conference, a gathering of 32 religious groups sponsored by the centennial commission.

Conference chairman Lavy Becker, a Montreal businessman, said about 19,000 copies of the hymn would be sent to every church, synagogue and and mosque in Canada before Christmas.

Following are the words of the hymn:

O God our Heav'nly Father
We lift our hearts to thee,
In thankfulness and gladness
We sing from sea to sea;
For Thou hast richly blessed us
With countless gifts of love,
And always Thou hast showered us
With mercies from above.

Our fathers in Thee trusted,
And never were dismayed,
Thy statutes they respected,
Thy righteous laws obeyed;
Thy goodness came upon them
Thou wast their strength and stay,
Thy providence sustained them,
And led them on their way.

Our leaders Thou directed
To build in this fair land,
A nation with a purpose,
In thoughtful vision planned;
That all of our endeavors
May be of lasting worth,
That even as in Heav'n above
Thy will may rule on earth.

LSD Trip Banned In Manitoba

WINNIPEG (CP) — There was a call for volunteers for an experiment in "psychedelic experiences," but the trip is off.

The warden of St. John's College, the Anglican college of the University of Manitoba, has forbidden an assistant psychology professor from going ahead with his research plans.

The warden, Dr. G. C. Landon, said his instructions to psychology teacher John Botterill, 28, were relayed through college dean G. L. Brodersen.

* * *

Mr. Botterill said that, before receiving word of the veto, he had not made up his mind whether to go ahead with the experiment after initial screening of volunteers.

He had never told anyone an LSD experiment would take place.

"This is not intended as a class project and has no relationship to any course I am teaching at this college," Mr. Botterill said.

His proposed experiment came to light Tuesday when the Manitoban, the university newspaper, carried an advertisement asking for male volunteers over 21 who would be interested in a psychedelic experience.

Girl Can Hear Electric 'Ticker'

* * *

TORONTO (CP) — A young medical scientist has won a seven - week - long race with death by building a new, powerful machine to keep a five-year-old girl's heart beating after it had stopped 31 times.

Dr. Keith Ivey of Toronto's Hospital for Sick Children devised the life - saving pacemaker for Rosemarie O'Halloran of nearby Pickering when an ordinary pacemaker failed its task.

Rosemarie, one of six children of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Halloran, had a hole in her heart. Last July, doctors mended it in an open - heart operation and implanted an electronic pacemaker developed by Yale University.

SENDS IMPULSES

The pacemaker device sends tiny electronic impulses that stimulate the heart to keep it beating.

Soon after the operation, however, Rosemarie developed an almost - total heart blockage and the pacemaker wasn't powerful enough to do its job.

The pacemaker was disconnected and replaced by connections with a powerful generator, but doctors said the arrangement could last only seven weeks.

After that, the doctors would have to operate again to plant new wires in the girl's body, and they feared the operation would put too much strain on the heart.

Then Dr. Ivey, a 30-year-old graduate in engineering and mathematics, took over.

"I guess I was at Sick Kids Hospital for 16 hours every day for those seven weeks," he said.

CLOSE RACE

The race was so close that doctors during the final week prepared for the operation the next Monday. Saturday night, the machine passed workbench tests and a few hours later it was installed.

Home again, Rosemarie is living an active life.

"She can run after her puppy, climb stairs and play with the other children," Dr. Ivey said.

SPECIAL BATTERIES

Her parents keep a special supply of batteries on hand at all times, changing them very four days. Every morning they check her heart beat with a stethescope.

The pacemaker is similar to but larger than other radio-frequency models now in general use. The receiver portion, about the size of a pocket-watch, is imbedded in the body, while the one-pound transmitter is carried in a special vest.

The transmitter is about four inches wide, five inches long and half an inch thick.

Doctors say the girl will always have to wear the device or some refinement of it.

Rosemarie can't remain too long under high - voltage wires because the current will interfere with her electronic equipment.

ONE REMINDER

The O'Halloren family has one constant reminder of Rosemarie's condition. Every time the radio is turned they hear a loud, regular ticking.

It's Rosemarie's electronically-paced heartbeat.

Expert Advises

Economic Policies Should Be Set For Stability

MONTREAL (CP)— Dr. Arthur J. R. Smith, director of the Economic Council of Canada, says Canada should have a group of federal monetary policies to ensure "reasonable" price stability.

These policies would more effectively maintain stability in the economy than the guidelines used in Britain and the U.S.

Dr. Smith spoke Thursday to delegates to the 13th annual congress of the Commerce Students of Quebec. The theme of the congress this year is inflation.

NOT APPROPRIATE

Economic guidelines "would not be appropriate" for Canada because of regional differences and the openness of the Canadian economy, exposed to external pressures which no incomes policy could be adapted to meet.

A range of measures was needed, including steps for improving productivity, strengthening competitiveness, facilitating adjustments to technological and other changes and for increasing manpower training and mobility.

"Since the inception of its work the council has placed a very heavy emphasis on the importance of these policies," he said.

They were policies "which have not been as effectively developed and used in Canada in the past as they should have been."

'Burned' Captives Shown

KINSHASA, The Congo (AP)— The leader of the defeated Katangan mutiny and 22 other officers were shown to the press in Kinshasa Friday in an denial of Belgian press reports that the men had been burned alive.

Jean - Jacques Kande, high commissioner for information, accused the "reactionary, colonialist and racist" Belgian press of printing the burning claim as presented by the Belgian League for the Defence of Human Rights.

Thursday three Belgian publications—the Brussels daily paper La Libre Belgique and two magazines Pourquoi Pas and l'Europe — were banned from The Congo because of the story.

Kande said the officers and a former social affairs ministry official, Emery Luther Katteng, will go on military trial Monday on charges of high treason and mutiny.

Student Aid All Right But Not in B.C. Now

The fight for equalization grants to post-secondary level students enlisted a noncommittal warrior Thursday as Education Minister Peterson told a delegation of nine University of students he felt it self-evident the grants were needed.

He said he spoke in favor of [illegible] a recent federal-provincial conference in Ottawa, but added he felt the B.C. economic situation at present makes achievement of such grants difficult.

Mr. Peterson's statement to the students from the Education Action Committee offered little in the way of concrete encouragement to the delegation, headed by co-chairmen John Lunam and Rhys Phillips.

Student proposal calls for a grant up to $75 a month, based on a means test, for students living away from home while attending a post-secondary institute.

WITHOUT AID

But the statement was slightly more encouraging than Mr. Peterson's September answer to a student's query as to whether the government would provide equalization grants without federal assistance.

At that time, his answer was "no."

The committee has had favorable reaction from NDP leader Robert Strachan and Liberal leader Ray Perrault.

CLEAR CUT

Mr. Strachan said the tax structure of the province could afford the grants right now. Mr. Perrault said the program is clear cut and well within the tax structure of B.C.

Some MLA's reactions to the grant were:

- Grayce McCarthy (SC, Vancouver-Little Mountain) — "I will appreciate hearing more on your equalization grant."
- Patricia Jordan (SC, North Okanagan) — "I assure you I am not unsympathetic to your requests and shall endeavor to expand my knowledge on all sides of the question."
- Hunter Vogel (SC, Langley) —I am most interested in the information and opinions you have submitted in support of some sort of equalization fund."
- Don Phillips (SC, Peace River South) — "This (equalization grant) is naturally very important to this area and I look forward to finding out more about your proposal."

U.S. Airline Avoids Walkout

NEW YORK (AP)—A strike threatened against the Pan American World Airways, largest U.S. international carrier, was averted Friday night when tentative agreement was reached on a work contract with the Transport Workers Union.

The agreement is subject to ratification by union membership.

The agreement came after hours of negotiations during which the strike, originally set for 9 a.m. PST Friday, was set back on an hour-to-hour basis.

Matthew Guinan, international president of the union, announced the agreement but did not spell out terms.

Tories Ahead, Behind

LONDON (Reuters) — Two opinion polls Friday showed a slump in the Labor government's popularity.

During the last two weeks the opposition Conservatives reduced Labor's lead from 7.1 per cent to 4.4. per cent — lowest since the March general elections, the latest national opinion poll published in the Conservative Daily Mail says.

A Daily Express poll of public opinion says the Conservatives had moved into a 2.25-per-cent lead over Labor.

Support for Labor since the last poll in July dropped by 4.2 per cent, the Conservative newspaper says.

Big Boeings Bound For Britain

SEATTLE (AP) — British Eagle International Airlines has ordered two 707-320C intercontinental jet transport planes from the Boeing Co. at a cost of about $7,300,000 each. it was reported Friday.

Harold Bamberg, British Eagle chairman, said the line hopes eventually to operate at least five of the big passenger-cargo jetliners.

The two on order are to be delivered to the British carrier next year.

Stalled Cars May Go Up

HAUPPAUGE, N.Y. (AP)—A sky hook to lift stalled autos from traffic bottlenecks has been proposed to a state legislative committee. Sol Wachtler, supervisor of the town of North Hempstead on Long Island, told the joint legislative committee on metropolitan affairs that helicopter lifting lines could be attached to a disabled car and hoist it out of the way to let traffic flow past.

Hobby on the Rocks

By M. V. CHESNUT

I don't suppose there is any branch of our beloved hobby which holds so much fascination for its devotees as that of rock gardening, especially when really choice alpine plants are grown. It is a real challenge to our skill to bring these subjects through the winter safely, for our climatic conditions are just about as far removed from their natural habitat as you could find anywhere in the world.

Here we have plants from the high, lone mountainsides, growing in nature in vertical rock crevices or in granite or limestone rubble. They are accustomed to thin, clean air, brilliant sunshine intense but very dry cold in winter, and a thick covering of light, fluffy snow. We take these mountain dwellers and try to grow them in a sea-level atmosphere, in rain, soggy wet soil, city smut and fog.

* * *

The greatest enemy is the damp. Frost and low temperatures hold no dangers to alpine plants and, when we have our inevitable failures, it is nearly always due to persistent winter wet, especially dampness around the collar of the plant.

Good drainage is a must, of course, and this is usually accomplished by growing our alpines in a rock garden raised above the surrounding terrain, or possibly in crevices in a rock wall, where there is no possibility of the soil remaining soggy and stagnant around the roots. Even in such a position, there remains the problem of dampness around the plant stems at soil level.

* * *

One good way to combat this is to tuck a good handful of stone chips around each plant, mounding them up around the collar and pushing a few in under the lower leaves to prevent moisture settling in this vulnerable spot. Use granite chips for the plants that dislike lime and limestone chips for the lime-lovers such as the campanulas, sempervivums, saxifrages, sedums, thymes and dwarf irises. The lime content of the chips will make for better flowering next year.

The collar is not the only vulnerable spot. As a general rule, any plant with fuzzy or woolly leaves has a violent dislike to dampness on its foliage, and such plants tend to die off in an excessively rainy winter. Such plants as the lewisias, origanum, androsace, dictamus and the cobweb sempervivums fall in this category as well as many of the true alpines.

The trick here is to rig up some kind of transparent umbrella over such woolly-leafed plants. It needn't be anything elaborate — a simple small sheet of glass supported on stakes and held with spring clothes pegs six inches above the plants will do the trick. It isn't a good thing to cover alpine plants completely, as with cloches or inverted jam jars, for these subjects demand plenty of fresh air. What is wanted is simply a small glass roof to keep the rain off, with no walls at all.

* * *

Speaking of dampness, winter pansies and violas often take quite a beating from fungus infections at this time of year, and as dampness favors the spread of such pansy sickness, a helping hand is needed here as well as for the alpines.

For instance, it is a good idea to scratch a little coarse pulverized limestone around each plant, and dust periodically through the winter with a good fungicide such as ferbam or phaltan; most of the dusts formulated for use on roses will contain one or the other of these fungicides. While you're at it, better put down a few slug pellets, as the slug is a notorious carrier of pansy diseases.

Art Collector All Greek to Russians

George Has the Last Laugh

By PETER WORTHINGTON
From Moscow

George Costakis has become something of a legend in Moscow.

Especially among Canadians.

He's a burly man of Greek origin who has lived all his life in Moscow, and who now works as office manager for the Canadian Embassy.

But this isn't what makes him a Moscow legend.

It is his paintings.

* * *

He happens to own what is widely acknowledged as being the finest and most valuable collection of Russian modern art in the Soviet Union.

Nowhere is there such a collection.

Its value is estimated at from $1,000,000 to $3,000,000, but really it is invaluable because it is irreplaceable.

The official Soviet view on modern, or abstract art is well known. But in the early days, when Russian painters were enthusiastically searching for fresh styles of expression, there was a short but intense period of artistic creation.

And George Costakis was on hand to collect an impressive amount of it.

* * *

"When I first started collecting I had a couple of old Dutch masters," Mr. Costakis recalls. "But I realized I could never compete with museums in this line. Anyway I was interested in Russian painters, so I decided to get rid of the 'masters' and to concentrate on the new artists."

Though his foresight is envied and admired today, it wasn't always. He was regarded as a fool to waste his time on "junk."

He recalls one official saying: "If this stupid fellow wants to spend all his money on trash, then he'll wind up without enough to pay for his coffin!"

* * *

Now art connoisseurs who visit Moscow make a point of trying to wrangle an invitation to visit Costakis' three-room apartment to see his collection.

The apartment is an experience in itself.

He not only collects modern art, but also virtually anything that catches his fancy.

On his living room wall is what must be one of the finest private collections of icons in the country. Some exquisite pieces date back to the 13th century.

* * *

He has Russian Eskimo art, dating back 1,000 years, and he has a collection of old Russian toys that has been shown in exhibitions.

There is barely any living space in his apartment. Every inch of wall space seems covered with paintings, and the left-overs are stacked in corners.

"I picked up most of the paintings fairly cheaply," he admits cautiously. "And now they're fairly valuable."

So valuable in fact, that whenever they leave the country on periodic exhibitions, the Soviet government insists they be insured to the hilt.

Costakis hopes some of his collection may still make the long trip to Canada next year for Expo 67. It would give North Americans a rare look at what was beginning in Russia, before the Soviet Realism nipped it in the bud.

* * *

What eventually will become of those paintings?

"When I die I would like my collection to remain in Russia. It is part of Russian history, and I would like to someday see these paintings become a sort of historical tribute to the early artists."

It's just as well he feels so strongly about this.

The Soviet authorities, despite their official objection to such decadent art forms, have given notice that they aren't anxious to lose this precious collection to some foreign market.

* * *

Many of the Costakis artists are now dead.

Some, like Marc Chagal, emigrated and became famous in the West as "modern" artists. Others stayed in the Soviet Union, and switched their early styles to conform with the approved realism trend.

Guy Dupuy, Commissioner General of Expo 67 and former Canadian ambassador to France is a man of some artistic experience.

He wrote in Costakis' guest book: "Your collection is among the best I've seen. It should not remain a secret. It could show the world how Russian painters are an essential and vital element of modern art!"

It's with fitting irony the Soviet Union, whether it realizes it or not, owes an artistic debt of gratitude to George Costakis — the man they once laughed at.

Star, Musical Slain by Critics

By SHEILAH GRAHAM

BOSTON (NANA)—"I'll be afraid to go into Sardi's. Everyone will be looking at me and saying, 'poor girl'," said Mary Tyler Moore the day her musical, Holly Golightly, with Richard Chamberlain closed in Boston. They were all leaving for New York with new determination, new rehearsals, and a new name, Breakfast at Tiffany's, for the David Merrick musical based on the Truman Capote best-seller. They were slaughtered by the critics of Philadelphia and more so by the reviewers of Boston with Miss Moore being the most murdered of them all. And when I had tea with her, she was still bleeding.

* * *

"I've got to clear my name," she told me fervently. "It's been the roughest time of my life. On the opening night in Philadelphia, I had bronchial pneumonia. The critics thought it was my natural voice. I'm only just recovering from their reviews, and I'm not sure I'll ever recover from the Boston reviews. One man in particular. What a sadist he must be. They tell me that one day I'll look back and laugh, but that won't be for years.

* * *

"We were a month in Boston. It seemed like 14. You can imagine how I felt having to go on every night when I read that Tammy Grimes or Diahann Carroll would replace me. Tammy was never in Boston waiting to take over as reported. And Miss Carroll was the original choice for the part. The whole thing was a press agent's dream — for them — for me it was a nightmare . . . they asked me to play Holly when I was making Thoroughly Modern Millie in California and I was delighted and excited at the challenge. The whole trouble with the play is that no one seemed to understand what Holly Golightly was supposed to be.

* * *

When someone like Audrey Hepburn plays the part as she did in the film, they accept the interpretation. In Philadelphia, they made her very tough. The critics rapped us for that, so in Boston we made her sweet and they rapped us for that. Then I played her as a child image, then a sort of sister of charity. Then as a hillbilly who acquires a veneer of sophistication when she comes to town.

* * *

"As you know Edward Albee was brought in to rewrite the show and we have a new director, Joseph Anthony. It was terribly difficult rehearsing all day and putting in different scenes and doing the show at night. In New York, we are cancelling out everything so we can learn the play from scratch. It is no longer a musical; it's a play with music. Three numbers are being dropped and three added.

* * *

"This has been my first real failure. We had such success for five years with the Dick Van Dyke show that it was hard to take, everyone writing how bad I was. My husband (Grant Tinker, a top executive at NBC) came up every weekend, and after the show I'd fling myself into his arms and cry and cry. The stage is one of the most primitive mediums but it helps one as a person and as an actress. I hope to make more movies but I must lick this first.

* * *

"I thought it was hard work on the Dick Van Dyke show, but nothing in my life has been as hard as this. I'm still dazed. It would have been worse only David Merrick has been wonderful to me. With those reviews, I'm sure other producers would have replaced me. It's funny. We came to the conclusion that the people in Philadelphia had seen the movie but hadn't read the book, and the people in Boston had read the book but had not seen the movie . . . it will be even harder for us in New York."

B.C. Claims Continental Shelf

Offshore Squatters Foiled

By JACK FRY
Legislative Reporter

The provincial government Friday laid claim to the vast continental shelf lying underwater off the coast of B.C.

In an unprecedented move, the executive council passed an order establishing a Crown reserve on all the mineral and natural resources of the sea bed and subsoil of the continental shelf.

★ ★ ★

British Columbia has always claimed control of offshore mineral rights. The order, signed by Lieutenant-Governor Pearkes, Premier Bennett, Mines Minister Brothers and acting resources minister Eric Martin, formally recorded this claim in writing.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile Attorney-General Bonner's reaction Friday night to a challenge by Prime Minister Pearson that changing of provincial boundaries is a federal right was blunt.

"Who has changed the provincial boundaries?" the attorney-general asked.

Asked if the federal government stand would hold weight in a dispute between the two levels of government, Mr. Bonner said simply: "I'm not interested in federal reaction."

Did the federal stand surprise him?

"Nothing the federal government does surprises me."

He said he had anticipated reaction against the move but refused comment about the reaction.

"I've never seen an assertion that hasn't been challenged," he said.

The Attorney-General said earlier in an interview the

Hearing Next Year

OTTAWA (CP)—A cabinet-ordered reference to the Supreme Court of Canada concerning ownership of offshore mineral rights in British Columbia probably won't be heard until February, it was learned Friday.

William Burke-Robertson of Ottawa, who is to plead the B.C. case in the Supreme Court of Canada, said he wasn't aware of Friday's B.C. claim but added it was entirely consistent with the act of ownership.

"It will have no effect on the case going ahead."

'Federal Right' — Pearson

HAMILTON (CP) — Prime Minister Pearson Friday challenged British Columbia's right to take over the continental shelf off the B.C. coast on grounds that the changing of provincial boundaries is a federal right.

Mr. Pearson, here to deliver an address to a Liberal dinner, noted that the matter of provincial ocean boundaries is before the Supreme Court of Canada.

"The decision of the Supreme Court will take precedence over any of Mr. Bennett's orders-in-council," he said in an interview. He declined further comment.

Labor Minister on Scene For Dockside Emergency

By The Canadian Press

Labor Minister Nicholson was in Vancouver today in another attempt to resolve a dispute that has tied up West Coast shipping and developed into what The Commons agreed is a national emergency.

The minister, replying to opposition demands for immediate action, said an amendment to federal labor legislation may prove the only answer.

The B.C. Maritime Employers' Association has stopped calling out longshore gangs because of what it calls slowdown tactics. The dispute started Nov. 17.

In Vancouver, a spokesman for 200 dock foremen whose strike for recognition as a union, said Friday the foremen are ready to return to work as soon as the Maritimes Employers' Association agrees to open negotiations.

CALLED TALKS

Max Hearn, president of the foremen's local of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, made the statement at a news conference.

The foremen and longshoremen called the conference to outline their positions in the dispute which has brought shipping at British Columbia ports to a standstill and threatened hundreds of workers in other industries with layoffs.

LINES DRAWN

A Canada Labor Relations Board ruling says that the foremen, because they are supervisory personnel, can't be given rights to bargain collectively.

"The lines are drawn," Mr. Nicholson said grimly in outlining the situation to the Commons during an emergency debate sparked by Howard Johnston (SC - Okanagan-Revelstoke).

Mr. Johnston said that by next week 10,000 forestry work-

40 Reported Involved

MPs' TV FEES SHAKE SEATS

OTTAWA (CP) — A number of MPs may have jeopardized their seats in Parliament by accepting CBC fees for broadcasting appearances and thus possibly breaking provisions of the Senate and House of Commons Act.

One published report, a story by Patrick Nicholson in the Oakville, Ont. Journal-Record, says 40 MPs may be involved.

The report said a general election next Feb. 6 "looms as more than a probability" because of the situation.

★ ★ ★

Opposition Leader Diefenbaker said Friday there is reason to believe some MPs may have acted in this way and some feel the government should introduce legislation to regularize their status.

"Retroactive legislation of that kind can't be justified in any way," he said.

The CBC is a publicly-owned corporation, financed partly by funds voted by Parliament and partly by revenues from broadcast advertising.

★ ★ ★

The Senate and House of Commons Act has provisions which originally were aimed at preventing governments from buying the votes of private MPs by making payments to them.

The penalties involved forfeiture of the MP's seat and $200 a day for every day he sits in Parliament after taking government money other than his regular salary as an MP.

A spokesman in Prime Minister Pearson's office said Mr. Pearson is aware of the whole problem associated with MPs and broadcasting fees but not of the specific situation described in the Oakville report.

★ ★ ★

The spokesman said he knows of no action planned in connection with it.

The situation has been simmering for months on Parliament Hill in the wake of questions asked last May 16 by Dr. Lewis Brand (PC — Saskatoon) but unanswered by the government.

Dr. Brand asked:

"Has any member of the present cabinet, during the past three years received an honorarium or fee from the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation

B.C.'s Bank Passes House of Commons

OTTAWA (CP) — A private member's bill incorporating the Bank of British Columbia won passage in the Commons Friday after a stormy ride through Parliament that began in 1964.

Passed earlier by the Senate, the bill now requires royal assent to make the new chartered bank legal.

Prisoner, Chief Killed in Jail

IRONTON, Ohio (AP) — The police chief of this Ohio River city of 16,000 and a prisoner were shot and killed Friday during a jailbreak that flashed into a wild gun battle.

A patrolman and another prisoner were wounded.

Only one prisoner escaped after the quarter-of-an-hour melee around the Lawrence County brick jail and courthouse.

The fugitive, 28-year-old Carl E. Halleck, surrendered Friday night about eight hours after the shooting of Police Chief Walter Eugene Markel, 41.

Police said he turned himself in to a private citizen.

Halleck, who was armed with a deputy's revolver when he fled, had been in jail on a charge of assault with intent to kill. After Friday's shooting, a charge of first-degree murder also was lodged against him.

Halleck and William (Jim) Bailey, also 28, were identified as the men who shot Markel and Patrolman Charles Jiles, 30, at close range when they entered the jail to answer a call for help.

Bailey, jailed Monday as a parole violator, started the jailbreak. He grabbed a gun when he was taken from his cell to use a telephone to call his lawyer.

He freed other prisoners. He and Halleck took guns from the officers and forced Henry to give them a submachine-gun with one clip of ammunition.

Over Talks

Cabinet Unrest In Rhodesia

SALISBURY (Reuters) — Reports of discontent inside the Rhodesian cabinet and the ruling Rhodesia Front party spread Friday as Premier Ian Smith and British Prime Minister Wilson held their Mediterranean summit talks.

The conference also was attacked by Negro politicians.

Many hard-line members of Smith's white-minority government were said to be worried just how far Smith was prepared to go in pacifying the British.

They wondered how far Smith would shift toward acceptance on British demands over the nature of the Rhodesian constitution and guarantees that advance to Negro majority rule would not be impeded.

Some reports said tough words were spoken at a special cabinet meeting earlier this week when Smith disclosed his plan to meet Wilson.

But the government officially denied reports that the law and order minister, Desmond Lardner-Burke, was hurrying to Salisbury from vacation.

Lardner - Burke, one of the strong men of the cabinet, was usually to be seen at Smith's elbow during previous parleys with the British. But he was out of town during Anglo-Rhodesian negotiations at the beginning of this week.

China Blocks Way For Russian Arms

LONDON (UPI) — Peking has blocked the trans-shipment of all Soviet war supplies to North Viet Nam through Communist Chinese territory, diplomatic sources said Friday.

The blockade reflects a further worsening of relations between Moscow and Peking, they said. Russia has been pushing for a world summit conference to drum Communist China out of the Communist camp for its "splitting" tactics and rejection of efforts for a unified aid program for the Hanoi regime.

Military supplies from Russia and other Communist countries henceforth must be shipped by the more hazardous sea routes to Haiphong, North Viet Nam's major port city on the Gulf of Tonkin.

Only a few isolated deliveries have managed to get through China to North Viet Nam recently, but only after Hanoi had pleaded their importance and urgency with Peking, the sources said.

The latest Chinese move followed Peking's ban on the overflight of Chinese territory by Soviet planes a month ago.

Gem Bag Vanishe In Flight

LONDON (CP)—Somewhere between London and Hong Kong a mail bag with $210,000 worth of diamonds has disappeared, British Overseas Airways Corp. reported Friday.

The consignment of cut and polished gems arrived in London from Johannesburg, South Africa, on a BOAC flight Nov. 25 and was put aboard the Hong Kong flight a few hours later.

The plane touched down in Frankfurt, Rome, New Delhi and Bangkok en route. In Hong Kong, BOAC officials could not find the mail bag and turned the case over to security officers.

They're Still At Sea

GIBRALTAR (Reuters) — British Prime Minister Harold Wilson and Ian Smith, breakaway Rhodesian leader, will resume their discussions today aboard a British cruiser in the Mediterranean as they seek a way to settle the year - old deadlock over Rhodesian independence.

After cruising in choppy seas all day, the cruiser Tiger slipped briefly back into the outer harbor here Friday night and was met by a launch, probably carrying urgent mail flown from London.

Agency Picks 500

56,170 Cents All for Needy

The Colonist 500 Fund rolled up another record day of collections for the current year Friday as 36 separate donations brought in $561.70.

It was the highest one-day total to date and brought the fund to $3,317.05.

"Would appreciate some information as to how the recipients (the 500 most needy families in the area) are chosen," said one contributor.

In answer, the 500 families are selected by the Christmas Bureau, a Community Chest agency, from recommendations made by welfare agencies.

★ ★ ★

And there are no administration costs. Every cent of the fund goes to those who need it.

When this year's fund, the 10th annual 500 Fund, has been equally shared among the recipients, a total of 5,000 families will have benefited over the years.

When it is considered that the average family includes about four people, then it can be readily seen the fund will have been instrumental in brightening 20,000 Christmases.

People wishing to join this yuletide war on hunger and poverty may bring in or mail donations to The Daily Colonist, 2631 Douglas, or drop them off at the Avis Rent-A-Car office, 800 Douglas.

The Avis parking lot is avilable to those wishing to make a donation, and the office is open Sundays.

These people who made Friday the most victorious battle of the current campaign are listed on Page 2.

Tories Ignore Camp

Caucus Calls Policy Shots

By RON COLLISTER
Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — Alvin Hamilton, a leadership candidate on the rise, Friday nudged rebel leader Dalton Camp aside and asserted the power of the parliamentary caucus to make Conservative party policy.

★ ★ ★

He announced that the parliamentary caucus will hold a two-day policy-making session, in private, in Ottawa next weekend, Dec. 10-11.

Then he would go to Toronto, Montreal and Vancouver for meetings with policy liaison committees that he himself has organized.

★ ★ ★

And, in the spring, there may be a western provinces policy meeting at Banff.

To some, it was a naked attempt by Hamilton to push himself into the leadership vacuum caused by the decision of the national meeting to call a leadership convention.

★ ★ ★

Hamilton denied it. His concern, he said, was policies for the party, and he would drop the whole thing if people thought it was anything else.

Policy is usually initiated at the grass roots, at the national meeting of the party.

But, because of the leadership mess, the meeting scarcely touched policy. So, under Hamilton, policy will be initiated from the top, from the caucus.

There was a vacuum, he explained, because of the lack of policy dicussion at the national meeting.

★ ★ ★

"There is no discussion across the country of what the Conservative alternative is to the present government.

"We are trying to fill that vacuum."

It was the third caucus rebuke for the national meeting:

● The first was a petition signed by 71 MPs asking Mr. Diefenbaker to stay.

★ ★ ★

● The second was the purge of the party's national executive of nearly all the rebel MPs.

Downtrend Continues

TORONTO (CP) — The market continued lower in slow trading, as industrials slumped for the fourth consecutive session.

Royal Bank dropped [illegible] 67, General Motors 2 to 72, Woodward A 1 to 23¼ and Algoma Steel ½ to 21.

Base metals sagged. Denison fell 1⅞ to 54⅝, Hudson Bay ⅝ to 63⅛ and Roman Corp., whose chief asset is Denison shares, ½ to 13⅜. Dome advanced 1 to 41 in golds.

Rise for Endako

VANCOUVER — Trading was again active but prices presented a confused pattern.

Among the mines making good gains were Endako at 12.00 up .75 and Lornex at 5.40 up .30. Atlas, Cariboo Bell and Silver Arrow were among the main losers.

Steels Weaken

MONTREAL (CP) — Investors showed little active buying interest and prices continued to drift.

Senior mines and steels led the decline. Denison dropped 2 points to 55⅜ and Algoma Steel 1 to 21. Cominco was off ⅛ at 30⅛ and Hudson Bay ⅝ at 63⅛. Brinco dropped five cents to $4.00.

Westcoast Transmission, a heavy loser in recent sessions, was up ⅝ at 24⅝.

Prices were generally lower on the Canadian Stock Exchange. Midepsa fell 48 cents to $1.90 and East Sullivan 20 cents to $5.80. Peace River declined 30 cents to $7.00 and Greenburg five cents to $4.10.

Motors Respond

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market seemed hesitant to move and the result was a small loss — the fifth in as many sessions.

Motors had a good day with General Motors and Chrysler advancing 1 and ⅞, respectively. Ford tacked on ⅛ and American Motors remained unchanged. Steels also showed promise with Allegheny Ludlum jumping 1¼. Bethlehem and Republic each rose ⅛ but U.S. Steel gave up.

Chemicals moved lower in most cases. Eastman Kodak paced the losers, falling 1⅝, but Du Pont bucked the trend with a pickup of ⅛.

Airlines met demand, led by Pan American which rose 2⅛. Braniff advanced 1⅜. United 1⅛.

Good to Poor

Metals Look Ahead

By HARRY YOUNG
Business Editor

What does the future hold for Canada's vast mining and metals industries?

The outlook is good for nickel and copper, reasonable for aluminum and steel, and poor for lead and zinc.

The ratings come from leading metal executives who were participating in a University of Toronto business outlook forum.

MODERATELY TIGHT

R. H. Waddington, senior vice-president of International Nickel of Canada, said nickel and copper would continue to be in moderately tight supply during 1967. He expected lead and zinc production would be capable of meeting all requirements and prices might further soften.

Aluminum demand should remain adequate and prices might be revised upward during 1967.

CONSUMPTION DOWN

H. M. Griffith, president of Steel of Canada said steel production in Canada in 1967 was expected to rise two per cent to 10,400,000 tons but consumption would be down 2.6 per cent to 11,300,000 tons (including imports). This year it was estimated steel production would be 10,200,000 tons, up 3 per cent from 9,900,000 in 1965.

Mr. Waddington said that, if softness shows in the general industrial picture, the metals industry would be among the last to be seriously affected.

MOLY'S NEW OWNERS

Scurry Rainbow Ltd., one of the independent oil companies with extensive interests in the Rainbow-Zama Lake oilfields of Northwestern Alberta, has announced the acquisition of Cascade Molybdenum Ltd. for an undisclosed price.

The move came as a surprise despite the fact Scurry has recently been diversifying its interests, and is involved in a big potash development in Saskatchewan.

SUSPENDED TWICE

Cascade Molybdenum holds the dubious distinction of having had its shares twice suspended from trading on the Vancouver Stock Exchange.

It was bought several months ago by a U.S. group, which later fell foul of the Vancouver Stock Exchange when it announced it planned to purchase Vancouver Iron and Engineering Works for Cascade.

NEW RUMORS

When the purchase plans were dropped, Cascade was reinstated to trading on the Vancouver Stock Exchange, but it again fell under the ban of that organization when new financing rumors came into circulation.

The U.S. group now has retired from the Cascade Moly board and been replaced by Scurry Rainbow nominees.

Cascade Moly has a molybdenum property near Rossland.

STRIKE SETTLED

A wildcat strike which began Wednesday lasted only 24 hours at the Endako Mines Ltd. molybdenum mine west of Prince George. The men objected to the shift system employed in the open pit mining and returned to work pending arbitration.

President Charged With Theft

TORONTO (CP) — Joseph Beniot Brien, 51, president of Prudential Finance Corp. Ltd. and secretary - treasurer of O'Brien Gold Mines Ltd. was arrested Friday on five charges following an investigation by the Ontario Securities commission into the collapse of the finance company.

* * *

He was remanded on $10,000 bail to Dec. 8.

Harry Bray, a director of the OSC, said one of the charges is of the theft of 24,000 shares of Dominion Glass Co. The shares sold recently on the Toronto Stock Exchange at about $13 each.

* * *

Mr. Bray said other charges include uttering false documents, forgery, making false financial returns to Wood Gundy Co. and making a false statement to Metropolitan Trust Co., appointed trustee for Prudential Finance's 8,500 creditors after the company ran into difficulties two weeks ago.

Prudential Finance's losses were first estimated at $3,500,000, but Metropolitan Trust said Nov. 30 they would be substantially higher.

THE WORLD POPULATION WILL DOUBLE IN 36 YEARS
Obviously this will be good for our young Canadian economy, calling on its huge untouched resources to meet the ever-increasing demands of all countries.
In the resulting flush of enterprise antiquating services will diminish — ventures based on new services will appear. Some will lose, some will win and stay on to become institutional. Many businesses, old and new, will continue as before to experience the irregular ebb and flow of success in their respective classes and in the "long haul" provide a reasonably assured growth for the investor.
But, through it all, the Mortgage business will carry on within its own sane, protective sphere — unheralded — non-dynamic — punching out its above-average yield year after year.
It is for the investor who requires, economically or psychologically, the assurance of a steady income or growth, without fluctuation, that mortgage investments serve best.
Victoria Mortgage Corporation offers 7½% on 5-year debentures; 7¼% 2½ years; 7% 1 year: (all payable before maturity in event of death). Interest paid quarterly (or compounded on request). Current Mortgages average 20% of appraised security. Share Capital further secures the debenture holder. No acquisition cost. For prospectus to be mailed to you, phone Douglas [illegible] EV 6-7138.

Party Line Reflected in Story

Russian Views Football

The Los Angeles Times

MOSCOW (LAT) — Soccer is the big spectator sport in the Soviet Union. The Russians call it "Foot-ball."

Among Soviet soccer fans there is some curiosity about American football.

One year ago a group of Soviet "cultural workers" touring America was taken to see a professional football game in Chicago. The mayor arranged front-row seats for them.

One of them, Sergei Vasilyev, a prominent Soviet writer and poet, who hews closely to the Communist party line, never writing anything controversial, has now published his impressions.

The account indicates that Vasilyev never got straight on how touchdowns are scored.

No matter. His account accurately reflects the Soviet party line on American football (and boxing). They are manifestations of a cruel, ruthless capitalist society in which even the contestants are creatures of the heartless ruling class.

Although the teams that Vasilyev saw were racially integrated, he managed to find a racial angle.

Vasilyev's account follows:

"American football ... reminds one of a bloody battle. ...

"Experts will say this is rugby. Nothing of the kind. In comparison with what I have seen, rugby is like pingpong in a kindergarten.

"The ball is made of leather, but it is melon-like—oblong rather than round.

"There are no (soccer) gates as such on the green field. Instead, there are special white stripes over which the attacking players have to throw the ball.

"The players, white and Negro, are youths of athletic build and gigantic size — not less than two meters (six foot, six inches) tall. Their shoulders are protected with pads. They wear cork hats with rubber protectors for their skulls. Thanks to this protective equipment, the players become taller and wider and resemble fantastic beings from some other world.

"Football is not just a sporting game. Football is a commercial enterprise. Each player is bought from the very beginning. On his performance depends his future.

EVEN AFTER WHISTLE

"After the whistle the adversaries are coming near so that they could get possession of this melon. Not coming nearer, but rushing nearer. And even not rushing nearer but smashing one group into another. But still more correctly, perhaps I should say, biting one group into another.

"Everything is allowed: to strike one's foot into the groin, to clutch at the throat of the opponent, to twist his arms back, to knock one's head into somebody's stomach, to cripple, crush down, to break everything, to crawl on one's hands and knees, to heap up the whole group onto one player.

"Players sniff, growl, bellow: in a real sense of the word ribs are cracking. Sweat and blood are shed ...

VISIONS RACED

"Through my mind raced visions of bulls killed by toreadors and gladiators fallen ... under the stroke of a sword, and wolves during the round-up.

"The stadium was very noisy. People were stamping their feet, waving umbrellas and sticks, screaming, whistling, shouting and the Negro player, hardly conscious with his pain, was lonely in the shouts, lonely like one who has lost his way in the desert ..."

Prolonged Win Streak A Must for Chinooks

Victoria Chinooks, who have to get started soon if they are to make the Inter-City Junior Men's Basketball League playdowns, get tonight one of the few breaks they have had all season.

Winless in their last six games, several of them close affairs, Chinooks may be out of the running for the league title but if they can get a winning streak started a playoff spot is still possible.

FULL STRENGTH

Not only did Chinooks show signs of old form in their last two games but they expect to be at full strength tonight for their game against Killarney Municipal Centre at Central Junior High School.

Will Killarney winless after eight games, Chinooks have every chance to get their second win. And for the rest of the season they will have Mike Taafe, former Courtenay high school star, to bolster their late bid.

UBC WINS AGAIN

Last night in Vancouver, UBC Jayvees won their second game in as many nights and their eighth without defeat this season by trimming Killarney, 106-29.

Ron Inrig and Sam Vandermeulen led the winners with 23 and 21 points, respectively.

On friday night, the Canadian champions defeated Kerrisdale, 65-53, to move into a first-place tie with the Merchants.

Thunderbirds Roll To 6-2 Victory

Kevin McGladery picked up two goals and an assist as he paced UBC Thunderbirds to a 6-2 win over University of Victoria Vikings in an exhibition hockey game at Esquimalt Friday night.

The Vikings grabbed the first goal. Paul Bion unassisted at 2:57 of the first period, and were then swamped by the powerful Thunderbirds.

McGladery's goal nearly three minutes later tied the game and his assist came on the winning goal scored by Mick McDowell at 8:20 of the first period.

McDowell was also hot, getting two assists on top of his goal.

VANCOUVER—UBC Jayvees bounced back into a first place tie with Kerrisdale Merchants in the Inter-City Junior Men's Basketball League last night by defeating the Merchants, 65-53.

Rick Ingrid and Sam Vandermeulen each scored 13 points to lead the Canadian champions to their seventh straight victory without a defeat.

Doug Dougan also scored 13 points to top Kerrisdale scorers.

Skagit Squad Upsets Uvic Vikings

University of Victoria Vikings opened a three-game basketball home stand Friday night with [illegible] loss to Skagit Valley Cardinals.

The Vikings will play the Cardinals again at 2 p.m. today and the Harlem Stars in the Gordon Head gymnasium at 8 p.m. today.

The Cardinals led 56-35 at half-time and then held off a Viking comeback. Ken Jackson, Al Glover and Jack Noonan were prominent for the Vikings and Mitch Adams headlined for the Cardinals.

The Harlem Stars will be led by Showboat Buckner into a routine of class basketball and tomfoolery.

Juniors Out To End Win Streak

Victoria Juniors will be trying to bring New Westminster Royals' undefeated string in Inter-City Junior Soccer League play to an end Sunday when they meet the mainlanders at Carnarvon Park at 2 p.m.

Royals have accounted for a half of the goals scored against league-leading goalkeeper Jerry Lister when the teams battled to a 3-3 draw at the start of the season.

Victoria ended the first half of the season in third place just one point behind co-leaders Columbus and Royals.

Bowling Roundup

Expo Trip Being Eyed

By BRIAN DOHERTY

Victoria bowlers are swinging these days hoping for a trip next spring to Expo '67 in Montreal and a chance at a mammoth prize list.

The subject is the Tournament of Roses, sponsored by an Eastern Canada bowling firm.

It includes tenpins, fivepins, candle pins and duck pins. Bowlers are rolling off now in their leagues and the top 50 per cent of the leading scores will go on to the house roll-offs.

That top 10 per cent will go onto the zone roll-offs and from these the leading 10 per cent will get an expenses-paid trip to Expo.

The tournament is open to all league players at all centres. Capital City is holding a 25-game play-off Sunday with entry into the tournament the first prize.

Mayfair hosted six teams from Nanaimo last week and will return the visit Sunday. Doris Sedola of Nanaimo scored a triplicate 171 to earn an ABC award.

Also at Mayfair, Peggy Trickett had an all-spare game of 183 Monday in the women's unity league ... Mayfair has its fourth annual Christmas men's, women's and mixed doubles tournament Dec. 21.

* * *

Fred Waters had a 920 at Town and Country and Norm Goldie a 909 ... Vi Squires rolled 824 and Hugh Cowan had a single game of 388 in fivepins.

Town and Country is holding every Friday, Scotch triples for men and women.

Leafs' Country Cousins Come Calling Tonight

Have Victoria Maple Leafs retained last season's ability to come up with their best game when the challenge is the greatest.

At least part of the answer will be made at Memorial Arena tonight when Portland Buckaroos, threatening to make a cakewalk of the Western Hockey League race, pay their second visit.

Weakened by injuries to Larry Keenan and Fred Hucul, the Leafs missed a great chance to stay in the race for the league championship with seven games against Seattle Totems and Vancouver Canucks.

	GP	W	L	T	F	A	Pts
Portland	18	15	2	1	101	57	[illegible]
Vancouver	20	13	6	1	74	[illegible]	[illegible]
Los Angeles	24	9	13	2	84	102	20
Oakland	19	8	9	2	83	64	18
Seattle	22	8	11	3	[illegible]	67	19
VICTORIA	20	6	10	4	61	62	16
San Diego	20	6	13	1	61	80	13

Next games: Tonight — Portland at VICTORIA, San Diego at Los Angeles, Vancouver at Oakland.

But the Leafs managed to lose all seven games and now enjoy (or is that the right word) sole possession of sixth place in the seven team league.

UP FOR GAME

So, tonight provides the challenge.

If it turns out to be like last season, the Leafs will be "up" for this one. The Buckaroos have always brought out the best in the Victoria club, and it has cost them dearly.

Last season, the Leafs were the only club that held an edge on the defending league champions. The Islanders won five of six games at Memorial Arena and got a win and two ties in Portland to win the season series, 6-4-2. And they followed that up with a 4-3 win in the best-of-seven playoff final.

JINXED THIS YEAR

Nor did it end there. This season, the Buckaroos took a 5-0 calcimining on their first visit here and then settled for a 1-1 tie on their home ice in the only other game the clubs have played this season.

But the Buckaroos could be quite a different outfit this time out. They had a November which brought them nine victories and four ties in 14 games, and they scored 65 goals and yielded only 29 in the 14 games.

GOOD MIXTURE

It took a veteran and a relative newcomer to the WHL to sink the Leafs last night in Seattle.

Guyle Fielder got the tying goal and Earl Heiskala scored the winner as the Leafs lost, 4-3.

Victoria took a 2-0 first period lead and appeared headed to victory. Seattle came back with Don Chiz scoring early in the second period. Chiz was set up by Jim Powers and Jean Gauthier and Leaf goalkeeper, Al Smith had no chance to stop the shot.

Bruce Carmichael widened the Victoria margin to 3-1 in the third period.

Larry Lund scored midway through the third to again put the Totems back in the game and Fielder sent the game into overtime with his goal at the 14:29 mark of the last period.

With just 2 minutes 48 seconds gone in the ten-minute overtime period Heiskala fired the winning goal past Smith.

Another Win For Canucks

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Vancouver's Canucks ran over the California Seals 5-3 Friday night for their seventh Western Hockey League win in a row and their 12th of the season.

The victory gave them a six-point hold on second place ahead of Los Angeles. The loss was the Seals' eighth and evened their season record at 8-8-3. The Seals remain in fourth place.

Gord Vejprava of Vancouver opened the scoring only 20 seconds into the first period. It was the 14th time this year against all opposition in which Vancouver had scored the first goal.

Seal Tom Thurlby tied it up at 9:09 but Ken Block put the Canucks back in the lead at 17:06.

Vancouver ran in three more consecutive goals, by Larry Popein in the second and by Ray Brunel and Bob Cook in the third. Cook had two assists in addition to his goal.

Too late, the Seals added two, by Charlie Burns and George Swarbrick.

More Lopsided Win Hope of O'Keefes

Soccer is a winter game—as Victoria O'Keefe's and St. Andrew's of Vancouver will find out today in the Pacific Coast League clash at Macdonald Park.

This week's rain has turned the pitch into a mudhole which, however, shouldn't do anything to dampen O'Keef's fire. The Victoria squad wants to improve on the 1-0 defeat it handed St. Andrew's last outing.

Concerned over their lack of cohesion in recent games between the backs and forwards, coach Frank Grealy and the O'Keefe's will be putting much of the load on the link men Tom Waster and Peter Brett.

With centre-forward Jim Schulz away on a training session with the army for two weeks O'Keef's will feature a four-two-four system with Ike MacKay and Jim Menzies as strikers.

Dunc McCaig and Marty Taylor are probable starters on the wings with Don MacIntosh, Bill Hamilton, Dave Stothard and George Paul lining up in front of Barry Sadler.

WIN A MUST

A win is a must for O'Keefe's if they are to stay in first place North Shore also plays on Saturday, meeting Burnaby Villa and the fast rising Columbus meets UBC on Sunday.

Also on Sunday Firefighters play at New Westminster. All games start at 2 p.m.

League-leading Tally-Ho meets Red Lion in a district league first division match at Bullen Park Sunday.

Tally-Ho is bolstered by two commuters from Ladysmith, right half-back Jim Irvine and right-wing Ralph Marwood. Marwood is coming back to form after a lay-off.

Cliff Will Join Island Teammates

John Cliff will be in two races today. Firstly, he will race from his job to Colwood and then he will race to Naden gates.

Cliff, this year's provincial marathon champion and last year's Canadian crosscountry titleholder, will be anchor man for the Islanders in today's Nanaimo-Victoria road relay race.

Cliff was uncertain whether he would be able to compete but Friday told coach Ollie Sarakannas he will finish work at 4 p.m. and head for the race.

He will cover the final 4.2 miles of the 68-mile centennial race. First runners are expected to finish at about 4:30 p.m.

Rawlings Lose Another

Victoria Rawlings lost their first game, to UBC 50-41, in the women's basketball matches in Vancouver Friday to select British Columbia's representative at next year's Winter Games.

Disaster hit Rawlings when Sylvia Campbell reinjured her knee ligaments after the first four minutes of play and couldn't continue. Rawlings trailed 24-13 at halftime and at one stage in the second spell trailed by four.

In the other game, Molsons beat Mt. Pleasant 51-27. Rawlings play again tonight and Sunday.

UBC (50) — Williams 4, Johnston 8, Webster 2, Douglas, Barr 2, Wells, Gensick 16, Stewart 4, Ross 5, Stevens, Pederson, Petersen 9.

Rawlings (41) — Moody 2, Tribe 4, Turner 4, Campbell 2, Reid, Coutts 27, McHattie, Johnson, Bourne, Bonner 2.

Brierly Rewarded For Contributions

The Victoria and District Cricket Association held its annual banquet Friday night. Guest speaker was Dr. Ted Allen who spoke about South Africa.

Cowichan was presented with the Colonist Cup for winning the league championship, and the Knockout Cup.

Tom Brierly of Cowichan received the Gillespie Trophy for contributing most to cricket.

Cowichan and Albions shared the Holiday Trophy for the Wednesday evening league.

Trevor Holgate got back the ball he used in a hat-trick last September. It was presented to him incorporated in a desk set.

Red Lions Prepare With Sweep

Red Lions, getting ready for the senior "B" men's basketball season, swept a doubleheader last night at Mount View High School.

They defeated the Mount View school team, 84-32, in one game and bested the Pedagogues, a pick-up team of teachers, 90-68, in the other game. Only Dave Emery, Terry Kochems and Willie Wong played in both games.

Jim Cunningham scored 28 points against the Pedagogues, who got 26 points from Mike Taafe. Robin Allen led the senior "B" club against the students with 20 points. John Lane topped Mount View with 12 points.

Campbell River Wins Buttle-Testing Battle

The Upper Island Health Unit was given the authority Friday to resume its regular pollution tests on Buttle Lake for the District of Campbell River.

* * *

It is understood the unit stopped taking its tests when it was advised some time ago that the Pollution Control Board, which gave Western Mines Ltd. permission to dump mine tailings and treated sewage into the lake, would be responsible for doing the tests.

Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell said he received a letter from the district of Campbell River protesting the decision to halt this function of the health unit.

* * *

The minister declined to say who has issued the instructions which the Campbell River board was objecting about, but he said he took steps to see that Dr. G. A. Gibson, director of the health unit, is advised to continue taking the tests.

"We want to make sure all the cards are on the table, and the contamination tests will take place," Mr. Campbell said.

* * *

The minister said he sent the following telegram to the Campbell River boards:

"Following discussions I received the immediate co-operation of the minister of health to restore the right of the Upper Island Health Unit to test the waters of Buttle Lake on a continuing basis and at any time requested to do so by the Greater Campbell River Water Board."

Mr. Campbell also said, "There is no pollution of Buttle Lake up to now, and his (Dr. Gibson's) tests have shown this. These tests should continue on a continuing basis."

* * *

The whole thing began last week, when Campbell River council received correspondence from Upper Island Health Unit reporting that the unit has been told Pollution Control Board will be exclusively responsible for doing the tests.

* * *

"The Pollution Control Board are setting themselves up as judge and jury," complained Coun. Mrs. Isobel Sandberg. "They want to be watchdogs over their own inspections."

After that council unanimously voted to request tests of the lake be continued by Upper Island Health Unit.

Two 4-H Members Rewarded by Trip

By MARIE CADORETTE

DUNCAN—Head, Heart, Hands and Health—they're the four familiar ingredients of the swinging 4-H crowd.

And sometimes they mean a lot—like a cross-Canada trip for two Duncan girls.

Lorraine Jameson and Beverley Skeet, both 17, made the trip as guests of the Canadian Councils of 4-H Clubs. They were among 14 from British Columbia.

Each of the provinces participates in this 35-year-old event by sending 14 delegates to a three-day Ottawa conference.

In addition to these, this year there were also eight delegates from United States and four from Northwest Territories.

The 14 B.C. delegates all started off in Victoria, where they were guests of the department of agriculture.

From B.C.'s capital city they flew to Vancouver, then to Toronto, and again by plane to Ottawa.

One of the more exciting aspects of their Ottawa stay was the presentation of Canadian citizenship certificates by the deputy federal minister of agriculture.

BACK TO TORONTO

Then came their trip back to Toronto, where they not only stayed at the posh and plush Royal York Hotel, but also saw Ice Capades at Maple Leaf Gardens.

"Every meal was like a banquet," Beverley recalled enthusiastically.

Another big thrill was visiting Niagara Falls.

"When we took a look at the falls at night, they were lit up in all sorts of colors."

IN CHAIR

She said B.C.'s Bob Stanlake of Cloverdale chaired one of the banquets on the trip.

"He was the only one to speak in both French and English," Beverley said. "That was something for B.C."

All B.C. representatives were dressed alike, girls wearing dark-blue suits which they made themselves and boys having special jackets. The material was provided by the government.

FRENCH PROBLEM

Some of the Quebec delegates didn't speak English, Beverley recollected.

"I guess the kids from the Maritimes speak more French than we do," she said.

Students tried to overcome language barriers, but these are not easy to overcome.

"Most of them laughed at our French and we laughed at their English," Beverley admitted candidly.

Still it was an experience the girls say they will not forget.

"I did not have much use for French Canadians before," Beverley conceded.

"I used to think they wanted to go on their own, but when I got there (to the conference), most of them were really nice.

"Most of them are proud of being part of Canada."

The girls felt all the delegates were concerned about Canada's future and the French Canadian problem.

Neither of the girls plans a career in 4-H as home economists.

"I like animals and I like working with them, but that is mainly a male field," Beverley pointed out.

"I think it should be left that way."

NURSING HOPES

She hopes to continue working with the younger 4-H members, even aofter she becomes a practical nurse.

Lorraine plans to go to University of Victoria next year to study education.

But she'll also continue in the 4-H movement.

"I often have thought of specializing in the field of agriculture," she said.

After a trip like the two just made to Ottawa, she might try just that much harder.

Angel Stays With Tot

LAKE COWICHAN — Two-year-old daughter of Lake Cowichan resident Magar Singh Dhalian suffered superficial cuts to her neck when her father lost control over his car.

* * *

Police said the auto left the Cowichan Lake road east of the village and turned over Friday noon.

Damage was estimated at $100.

* * *

No one was injured in a two-car collision in the village one hour later.

Drivers were Quinto Venier and Mrs. Lorraine Pawlik, both of Lake Cowichan.

Damage was about $350, police said.

Charlie Bags Permit

NANAIMO — It took Charlie Crutchley half a century to do it, but he got his learner's permit Thursday.

* * *

Mr. Crutchley, 71, drove without any kind of licence for 50 years.

But two weeks ago, he was caught for the first time by police and fined $20.

* * *

Although he had some troubles with colors, Mr. Crutchley passed his written, oral and reaction tests.

"I got through all right though," he said cheerfully.

One Car Wasn't Enough

NANAIMO — A young man threw away all efforts to rehabilitate him with two thefts within as many weeks.

Loudian Wilson Mahon, a vocational training school student, was given nine months for a break-in at Malaspina Hotel, and 18 months for the theft of two cars this week.

* * *

Appearing before Magistrate Eric Winch on the first offence, he had been treated with extreme consideration, due to possible extenuating circumstances.

At that time he was on parole, with three months to serve, from an earlier offence which had resulted in a six-month sentence.

* * *

Wednesday night he stole a car from General Auto Sales, drove it through a fence, and took another car.

The first car was found in the court house parking lot, and the other in the nearby area.

Gabriola

Accident Talks Declined

NANAIMO — Gabriola Island ratepayers have failed to act to stop future deaths of their teenagers.

Nov. 4, Bruce William Cox, 17, and Douglas Melvin Jenkins, 16, died as a result of drinking and speed, according to a coroner's jury.

The jury heard testimony that weekly drinking parties and speeding were common occurrences.

Dayrell Bates, ratepayers' association president, tried to get some form of discussion into the minutes of the Thursday night meeting but was not supported.

The meeting followed presentation of safety films.

Present were Magistrate Stan Wardill and George Stevens of Nanaimo Traffic Safety Committee.

Neither the films shown by Mr. Stevens, nor the words spoken by Magistrate Wardill precipitated any action.

Instead, they enquired about the possibility of having Attorney-General Robert Bonner provide a policeman for the island.

Pollution Battlers Stress Criticism from Citizens

By MARY TAYLOR

PORT ALBERNI — "As long as there is a pollution problem there will be a pollution battle, and there will be two blue moons in the sky before we shut up about it."

George McKnight, public relations chairman of the Alberni Valley Citizens' Committee on Pollution, gave this reply to comments by Mayor Fred Bishop of Alberni directed at committee chairman Colin Wilson for criticizing regional district chairman Charlie Blair.

Mayor Hammer of Port Alberni had already blasted Mr. Wilson earlier.

"Why such an explosion should follow our very mild letter to the council is more than we can comprehend," Mr. McKnight said. "Our letter merely drew the attention of the council to the fact that several phone calls had come from citizens who were protesting the increasing fallout and asking council to investigate the progress of anti-pollution measures taken and report to the community what could be expected this coming winter.

PLEDGES SUPPORT

"The letter also pledged support to council in any anti-pollution campaign they might decide to undertake," Mr. McKnight said.

"Several of the citizens who phoned the committee also phoned Ald. Blair, regional district chairman, and received sympathetic response from him and recognition of the increasing problem. However, when Ald. Blair spoke publicly at the Alberni council meeting, he spoke much differently and that is why Mr. Wilson called on him to either fight pollution or resign."

Mr. McKnight said the pollution committee is concerned about all forms of pollution and intends to carry the battle not only against fallout but also against water pollution in the Alberni Canal and the chemical discharges into the air and many other similar problems.

"In other Island cities," Mr. McKnight said pointedly, "fishermen and conservationists are the most active pollution fighters and we need the same kind of people in office here."

Some members of the 30-man executive of the citizens' committee also took exception to Mayor Bishop's referrals to the group as the "Wilson-McKnight committee," contending the group grew from a mass meeting of more than 300 local citizens who gathered to protest when conditions were exceptionally bad early in the year.

"If Mayor Bishop chooses to pretend that this group is active now solely because Mr. McKnight is running as an aldermanic candidate in Port Alberni, he is at liberty to do so.

"But citizens know that the pollution committee was formed to force some kind of action at a time when frustrated citizens could get no direct answers of action from either city council. We've struggled to get action week in and week out since the committee was formed, and we are no more vocal now than we have been in the past."

Interference Call

PORT ALBERNI — Jim Spencer, vice-president of Local 592 of the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers, has accused another labor leader of interfering in the affairs of his union.

* * *

Mr. Spencer attacked Syd Thompson, president of the Vancouver local of the International Woodworkers of America, who had called on the provincial Labor Relations Board to reconsider its decisions in a battle between the International Brotherhood and the rival Pulp and Paper Workers of Canada.

Mr. Thompson also called for the resignation of Pat O'Neal from the executive of the B.C. Federation of Labor because of his part in the bugging of a Vancouver hotel room occupied by the Canadian union during a recent convention.

Mr. O'Neal is also an official of the International Brotherhood.

* * *

The Port Alberni union leader said in an interview Mr. Thompson "has absolutely no right to call on the Labor Relations Board to reconsider its decision against a vote of the Harmac pulp mill employees to decide which union they want to represent them."

UBC Trip Biology Main Topic

NANAIMO—"Excellence of instruction" are the bywords for Nanaimo school teachers, from primary to senior school levels.

Today will see teachers Roger Desprez, S. T. Futton, E. Miller and T. Quelch in Vancouver to take part in a biology symposium at University of British Columbia.

A view of Biology 11 and 12, with the opportunity to ask questions about the course will be afforded.

A geographical departmental seminar will be conducted there at the same time, with the local teachers from the senior and junior high schools.

* * *

Changes in curriculum and methods have necessitated a retraining program, and the opportunities to do so have been grabbed by local teachers.

Since October, language teachers, librarians, English teachers and elementary teachers have been attending workshops.

Not restricted to Nanaimo only, the workshops have numbered close to 1,500 in attendance, from the Island and mainland.

Drama Group Failure: Plays Lacked Vitality

By ARNOLD OLSON

NANAIMO—Thursday's opening-night presentation of three one-act plays was disappointing, and only one play was indicative of the high-calibre productions expected of Yellow Point Drama Group.

The others, smooth-running and well-rehearsed, lacked vitality.

The high point of the evening was the last play, Brothers in Arms.

CREATE LAUGHS

Directed by Audrey Schofield, the characters were closest to the spirit of the play and managed to create the laughs that were intended, when it was written.

All possibilities were not developed, as misinterpretations by cast and director existed.

However, this could be attributed to first-night jitters.

FINE TEAM

Ron and Audrey Butler, new to Nanaimo stages, were a delightful team of husband and wife.

She a dizzy female, and he a blustering, frustrated businessman, both English and new to Canada (1922).

Don Wilson and Hector Richmond as the Canadian frontiersmen were delightfully confusing and nonchalant.

The set was right for the play and looked like a scruffy cabin in the bush.

The other two plays, with five award winners or honorably-mentioned actors, were far beneath their capabilities.

Breeches from Bond Street, directed by Joan Morgan, got no more than a dozen laughs throughout.

For a play that should have broken the audience up, that isn't enough.

BEAUTIFUL

Pat Jepson, a beautiful young thing, breathed the only life there was into the play, but she couldn't salvage the production by herself.

Actors dropped their voices, anticipated actions and lost their (attempted) accents or dialects.

It could be a worthwhile entry into the coming drama festival but director and cast both would have to study the play and the characters more thoroughly.

The Happy Journey to Camden and Trenton was interesting.

Like Thornton Wilder's other play, Our Town, this needs accomplished actors who are familiar with every facet of the actor's craft or art, or precision direction.

Mime, so important that it replaces sets, props, and crowds of people, must be precise.

It wasn't.

GEAR SHIFTS

Gear shifts were backward; they steered the car in circles because they never straightened the wheel; the roof of the car, and the doors must have been 5½ feet high; because people stood straight up, hot dogs were a quarter-inch thick.

This was by far the most difficult play of the three, and showed promise for future excellence—way off in the future.

A member of the audience made the comment, "They should have rehearsed in a car, or a mock-up of one."

PART OF ANSWER

This could be part of the answer.

It was one of the most worthwhile plays this group has attempted in the last six years, but should have had the most accomplished cast available.

Plays end tonight at Cedar Community Hall.

With Few Misgivings

Referendums Get Blessing

By KLAUS MUENTER

DUNCAN — Despite some misgivings members of city of Duncan and North Cowichan councils are endorsing the three school referendums to be voted on Dec. 10.

The three referendums totalling $2,425,758 were the topic discussed by councils' members and Cowichan school trustees.

* * *

City of Duncan Mayor Jack Dobsons wanted to know why the three money bylaws "were thrown at us rather hurriedly?"

He was told they had been held up by the provincial department of education since last August and the school board only had a very short time to prepare them.

Definite details and figures were not released to the public until Nov. 28.

Board chairman Will Dobson told the mayor that to hold the referendum vote later than Dec. 10 would mean loss of precious time and some of the accommodations included in the bylaws will be needed by next September.

He said construction on some of the projects should start in March.

North Cowichan Reeve Donald Morton said, "I am scared stiff, and I don't think 10 days are enough to acquaint the public with all the facts."

Trustee Joseph Frumento said, "It really doesn't matter how long a period of time is given prior to the vote."

* * *

Ald. Jim Saunders wondered how much the new bylaws will cost the taxpayers.

He was advised a resident with a $5,000 assessment would have to pay an additional tax of $7.50 per year.

Board chairman Dobson said the construction of a classroom in 1960 cost $14,500, and six years later it jumped to $18,000.

He said to build an activity room in 1960 cost $27,000, but now the cost for the same project has reached the $40,000 mark.

Heavy Snow Awaited

Skiers Seek Slopes

COURTENAY — While a number of people have already begun skiing on the Forbidden Plateau area, skiers in Courtenay in general are waiting impatiently for heavy snow to fall so that the season will open officially with the tows going into operation.

* * *

The ski instructors, clinic and the Christmas Ski Week are scheduled for Dec. 27-31. It is generally expected that skiing will begin around the middle of the month.

Ski fitness classes which have been run regularly since Oct. 17, have ended. The first locally held ski fair took place recently at the Courtenay Recreation Association hall.

More than 150 people attended to view films, slides and equipment for skiing and receive information on skiing.

* * *

Last week three local instructors, Herb Bradley, Don Bool and Wolf Clar, returned from the ski instructors' school at Banff where Mr. Bradley and Mr. Bool were among the 55 out of 135 participants who managed to get through the course.

Brannan Lake Boys Fix Santa's Toys

By ARNOLD OLSON

NANAIMO — Young enough to remember, old enough to do something about it, Brannan Lake students are once again helping Santa's elves.

They are trading "new toys for old," but not yelling about it in the streets.

Possibly more like the original St. Nicholas, who did his deeds in the night, they have been quietly rebuilding toys for needy children of the Nanaimo area.

They have been doing this for the past 12 years, and indications are they will continue doing so, as long as there are children who need their help.

They start their elf-like work around October, when toys are being collected in schools, through service clubs and anyone who will help.

They finish when the last needy child, or last toy, comes up — with hopes that the two meet.

Oddly enough, these much-maligned youths all want in on the project, and they serve on shiftwork, so that as many as possible can get in on it.

150 OF 175

Out of 175 students, 150 are engaged in the work.

The toys are cleaned up and the easiest repaired first.

Dents are corrected, missing parts are found or made.

Soldering, glueing, welding or sewing is done if it is possible to repair a toy.

TAKING TOLL

Last year about 5,000 toys were repaired, but the age of plastics is taking its toll and has reduced that count.

Plastics are much harder to repair.

After the glue has dried, or the last screw, rivet, or nail is in place, the toy gets its professional-looking paint job.

Some of the repairs are fantastic, in that the finished product looks as though it was just uncrated from the factory.

SERVICE CLUBS

Kiwanis and Lions service clubs help as well in the pick-up and packaging.

Depots are maintained by Shell service stations, who also supply some of the paint used.

Between Christmases the boys are engaged in any community project that needs help.

The Wellington Centennial Hall project has been one area of activity recently.

GIVE HELP

The boys have helped there to start the foundation, do some of the cement work, carpentry work, and anything else.

They help to clean beaches in the area, and in the fall help to clean up around Exhibition Park and repair the fences after the fall exhibition.

This fall they have collected about 700 bushels of seeds from cones, to aid in reforestation program with one of the logging companies.

TOY CAMPAIGN

It is felt the toy campaign is helpful to the boys, in that they get the experience of helping someone else.

Some of the boys who are allowed to assist in the delivery come to realize that they, themselves, are not as badly off as others.

They all realize this, one way or the other.

Some of the boys, products of broken homes or no homes at all, can remember doing without toys in Christmases past.

Perhaps, after all, they are getting the best gift of all — the knowledge that they have given a truly appreciated gift.

Tall Tales Count

PARKSVILLE — Trophies for fishing and hunting and the much-anticipated Tall Tales trophy for the best fiction story of a fishing or hunting experience will be awarded to members of Parksville Fish and Game Association at the annual smorgasbord banquet and dance to be held at the Inland Hall Hotel tonight.

Guest speaker will be T. A. Walker of Qualicum Bay who will illustrate his address with color slides.

Auxiliaries

Work Sans Pay

By MARIE CADORETTE

DUNCAN — They are sworn-in peace officers but they don't get paid. These are the auxiliary police — a group of dedicated men who help enforce the law.

They usually go out with a regular peace officer, assist in traffic control and do other routine duties.

"They also help out on Halloween or anything special," said E. C. Bolin, civil defence coordinator.

* * *

The men are part of the civil defence operations.

Previously all uniforms were supplied by this organization.

In 1963 auxiliary police went under RCMP training.

The men study provincial and city law, learn first aid and attend lectures. They are constantly in training.

* * *

These men are found throughout B.C.

A small group is located in Duncan and Chemainus.

These men work on a part-time basis — usually weekends, holidays and extra busy days.

* * *

They accompany regular RCMP officers and have the same powers of arrest.

It takes a special type of personality to do the job. A person must be at least 21 and in sound physical condition.

* * *

He must be mature and responsible as much of a policeman's work is confidential.

"They (Auxiliary officers) go in and take a course," said Mr. Bolin, adding each is "well screened."

Arena Still Favorite Topic

Candidates Stir Two A's

By KLAUS MUENTER

CROFTON — The two As that occasionally cause some excitement in North Cowichan were briefly touched when Crofton Ratepayers' Association heard six candidates for three council seats in the Dec. 10 election.

The first "A", which stand for arena at Fuller's Lake Park, was mentioned by council candidate Joseph Haddock when he made his pitch.

Incumbent Coun. George Whittaker, who seeks re-election, remarked on the second "A", amalgamation.

The proposed $330,000 ice arena at Fuller's Lake became a hot issue when Mr. Haddock and another resident from the southern portion of the municipality contested a respective bylaw's validity in court to have it quashed.

APPEAL FOLLOWS

Mr. Justice J. G. Ruttan dismissed the motion to quash the bylaw but the arena bylaw is still before the court because Mr. Haddock appealed the judge's decision.

After a composite recreational bylaw for the entire municipality failed, North Cowichan council formed a special recreational area earlier this year, which gained support from Chemainus and Crofton.

Construction costs for the arena in the meantime had risen from the originally estimated $300,000 to $330,000.

HIS SPEECH

In making his speech seeking support for the municipal election Mr. Haddock told the Crofton taxpayers, "I do not dislike people and I know the Fuller's Lake Arena has made me unpopular."

He said it is not a personal matter but one of economics. The Fuller's Lake Arena would be too far removed from the densely populated area of North Cowichan, "and in the southern part thousands and thousands of children still have nothing."

He said he would be in favor of an arena at Chemainus and another one in the southern end.

DISAGREES

Veteran Coun. George Whittaker, who has served on council a total of nine years, said he disagreed with the Fuller's Lake Arena and the proposed location of a new municipal hall, which would be about three to four miles north of Duncan.

Commenting on recent suggestions from the city of Duncan to annex part of the municipality of North Cowichan, Coun. Whittaker said, "This would make a very poor location for the new municipal hall."

AMALGAMATION

He said an amalgamation between North Cowichan and the city of Duncan at some time in the future would "produce a magnificent municipality."

Coun. Smith also seeks re-election. He has been on council for the past eight years.

He said during his time in office the budget for recreation jumped from $2,000 to $80,000 in the provisional budget for next year.

PRUNED BACK

It had to be pruned back considerably, he added.

Third incumbent councillor who is running again this year for another two-year term, Dennis Hogan, said, "We have a long-range plan for Maple Mountain Park and it will not be used for anything but a park."

He said recreation was his platform when he entered municipal politics a few years ago and it still is.

ACTIVE RATEPAYER

Fifth councillor-candidate, Earl English, said he always had been interested in municipal politics and for many years has been active with Chemainus ratepayers and citizens' associations.

"I think North Cowichan is the best municipality in British Columbia," he said.

Mr. English ended by saying, "I do not wish to come up with a platform.

"I have little experience but I can devote a lot of time to this job."

TWO PROBLEMS

Last councillor candidate Tom Burge said there are different problems which face the municipality in the wake of growth and development.

He said two of the problems are not planning far enough ahead and lack of communication between council and the taxpayers.

Research First

Teachers Eye Aid Program

COURTENAY — A teachers' aides research program to commence in District 71 early in 1967 has been recommended by a committee of the school board which has been studying the matter.

Dr. Dennis Bullen made the report this week. Mrs. Betty Moore was the second member of the committee.

The report points out the general acknowledgement that the most impressionable period for teaching children is under eight years of age.

AN INVERSION

It adds that in the past there has been an inversion of emphasis, the elementary grades not receiving as much acknowledgement of their educational importance as the secondary levels.

The report states, "Further, there seems to be a need to reduce the average class size, particularly at the elementary levels."

The committee has said the need is to find out how to reduce the effective class size and prove the need for provincial support. This they claim can be done by a properly-planned research project.

JUST EXPERIMENT

The report, in urging the approval of a teachers' aides research program, emphasizes the project would be on a strictly experimental basis.

The program is seen to operate at the Grades 1, 2 and 3 levels and kindergarten. The work of the aides would be governed by guidelines set by the research committee. The teachers whose assistants they become would be required to make objective reports to the research committee.

MONTH TO MONTH

Hiring of aides would be on a month-to-month basis for six hours or less per day. They would perform clerical and marking duties, supervise recess and lunch periods and in general allow the professional teacher more time for actual teaching.

At the start of the program qualifications are to be high school graduation and an interest in children. It is also noted the program might prove an incentive for those contemplating a teaching career.

SOME EVIDENCE

It is the feeling of the committee the objective of the program would be to gain some evidence whether help of this kind for teachers of primary grades would result in a better start for their pupils.

The committee also expressed the hope supporting grants would be available from the B.C. School Trustees' Association, B.C. Educational Research Council, B.C. Teachers' Federation and perhaps even the department of education. Representation on the research committee would be proportionate to the funds donated.

STILL HELPFUL

If indications show the program to be beneficial its extension might be justified. But in the opinion of the committee if after testing, it seems of little value, an analysis of the program would be helpful to other school districts and other organizations interested in education.

The board took no action on the committee recommendation for reservation of funds for the project in the 1967 budget. However, the budget committee of the board could include an amount in the provisional budget with a recommendation to the incoming board or leave the matter entirely to the trustees taking office in 1967.

FUNDS NEEDED

The committee repeated a previous suggestion that funds be allocated in 1967 for purchase of a video-tape recorder and auxiliary apparatus for experimental use in senior grades.

The report concluded with these remarks, "This program to test the use of teachers' aides may produce outstanding educational improvements, without a large increase in local taxes."

Councillor Helps Teen Town

Water System Improvement Ahead

NORTH COWICHAN — Council here has decided to pass a motion whereby existing water systems in the southern portion of the municipality will be improved within three years but possibly sooner if it is economically feasible.

Reeve Donald Morton noted if funds are available in the $315,000 bylaw it could be possible the Maple Bay system could be improved immediately.

The reeve said there would be a meeting concerning the forthcoming water vote at the Maple Bay Yacht Club next Wednesday.

Meanwhile, a delegation from the Somenos Road area, who would like to be included in the newly-proposed Southend water area, was told the request would be studied by the municipality's consulting engineer.

* * *

The reeve said council will consider the request if the bylaw passes the last hurdle at Maple Bay.

The petition brought along by the delegation contained signatures of 90 per cent of the people in that area.

On Teen Town, Coun. Gerry Smith decided to reach in his pocket to advance Duncan Teen Town $1,000.

Coun. Smith fulfilled the pledge he gave to Teen Towners at a meeting at Duncan Tuesday night.

Then he said he would ask council to make a $1,000 grant towards the purchase of a Teen Town building.

Council wants to make this grant in 1967, and Coun. Smith offered to advance the money because Teen Town will need it before the end of this year.

* * *

Coun. Dennis Hogan said the North Cowichan Recreation Commission does not favor the purchase of the building because it would interfere with the commission's development plan toward a recreation complex.

"I am not expressing my own views, but the views of the commission." He is chairman of the commission.

Coun. Margaret Robertson said the building Teen Town wants to buy never would lose its value and it could be five or six years before a recreational complex is built in this area.

Council referred to the public works committee a suggestion from councillors Smith and Reginald Clegg to set up a special bridge fund for the rebuilding of the Chemainus River bridge on old Chemainus highway.

In a letter from the provincial highways department, council was advised the bridge should be renewed and its approaches straightened out.

The entire project would cost $100,000 and the provincial department would pay half.

The Chemainus fire department advised council it would be willing to supply fire protection for the Saltair district. The existing equipment would do the job but next year the department would need a new truck.

The reeve said the mill rate for the Saltair area would be about the same as it is now for the Chemainus fire protection district — three mills.

Council also:

- Decided to give a $25 donation to the B.C. Centennial relay road race from Nanaimo to Victoria today;
- Agreed to the erection of a sign for the Cowichan Valley Forest Museum;
- Was advised by the Duncan Rotary Club the club will have no further obligation regarding a proposed swimming pool for which it had earmarked the initial $25,000 if the municipality and the city of Duncan paid the balance, and council also decided to hire an expert for the professional planning of the Fuller's Lake Park.

In City Churches

Christmas Spirit Spreading

Victoria churches, at the beginning of the second week of Advent, are continuing the spirit of the coming Christmas, with carols, Advent wreaths, White Gift services and some special presentations.

This Sunday is also Bible Sunday in some churches.

Christmas is more than gifts and carol singing and snow upon the roof or candlelight or greetings, or the chime of church bells across the silent night, says Dr. Emma M. Smiley of Victoria Truth Centre.

"Christmas is your love for those who love you, your faith that you are one with God. It is your star, not in the night above you, but shining in your heart."

TWO SERVICES

Dr. Smiley will speak on Creative Prophecy at 11 a.m. Sunday and her subject at 7:30 p.m. will be You Cannot Stay Young. Divine Guidance is the subject for the meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

The monthly Prosperity meeting will be held at 3 p.m. Thursday. The Men's Club will continue the discussion course on Dr. Maxwell Maltz's book Psycho-Cybernetics at 8 p.m. Dec. 12.

* * *

At Emmanuel and Stevenson Memorial Baptist Churches for the next few Sundays, Rev. N. K Archer will base his sermons on Biblical characters of Christmas. At 9:30 a.m. in Stevenson and at 11 a.m. in Emmanuel this Sunday he will talk about Mary. At 7:30 p.m. in Emmanuel he will give a sermon on Joseph. Christmas anthems will be sung by the choir. At the close of the morning service, the ordinance of the Lord's Supper will be observed.

* * *

At Centennial United Church the Advent theme will be continued with a presentation at the evening service of a recording of Dickens' A Christmas Carol by a cast of actors headed by Sir Ralph Richardson. The recording will be illustrated by a film strip.

* * *

At St. Luke's Parish Church the annual White Gift service will be held at 9:30 a.m. The Sunday school will attend with parents and the children will offer their gifts. Children in the various missionary districts and local organizations arranging Christmas gifts for needy families will be given the white gifts.

RECTOR PREACHES

At 11 a.m. the rector, Archdeacon C. E. F. Wolff, will preach on The Church and The Bible in accordance with the Anglican Church's observation of Bible Sunday.

Rev. Dr. K. M. King will preach on Science and The Bible at the evening service, and will deal with the alleged conflict between the Bible and science.

* * *

At St. John's Anglican Church Sunday the family service will deal with the Advent wreath and its use as a reminder of our need for preparation of ourselves for Christ's coming. The 50-voice children's choirs will sing a plainsong melody Hark, A Herald Voice Is Calling.

At 11 a.m. the rector, Canon Grahame B. Baker, will preach on the importance of the Bible for man today and the great work carried on by the Bible Society. The senior choir under the direction of Donald Woodworth will sing.

* * *

Pastor Emeritus, Dr. J. B. Rowell, will preach at both services in Central Baptist Church. At 11 a.m. his topic will be The Mind of Christ and at 7 p.m. he will answer the question Saved Today, Lost Tomorrow? using the scriptures as his authority. The Lord's Supper will be observed after the evening service.

Dr. Rowell, who was pastor of the church for 31 years, will take all Sunday services in December. He will also speak at the Leper Mission in the church at 2 p.m. Friday.

* * *

Bethlehem — Village of Love is the subject for Rev. Robert J. D. Morris in First United Church at 9:30 and 11 a.m. services Sunday. At 7:30 p.m. Rev. Marvin G. Fowler will speak on The Continuing Incarnation. Rino Elverhoy will sing The Penitent at the 11 a.m. service.

Two Flagons Church Relics Stay Put

LONDON (AP) — Should a vicar sell the church treasures to raise funds for repairs to the building?

Rev. Robert McIntyre, 58, vicar of St. Cuthbert's in the Somerset market town of Wells, thought he should. So, when renovation of the church windows required more money than his parishioners could raise, he decided to sell two 300-year-old silver flagons.

EXPERT VALUE

An art expert had valued them at £4,000.

That raised a storm he never expected. The sale was opposed by the city council and the governors of a school founded by one Ezekiel Barkham, who presented the flagons to the church before his death in 1641.

The issue became so controversial that the Bishop of Bath and Wells, Rt. Rev. Edward Henderson, stepped in to appoint a consistory court to give a ruling.

ANXIOUS WAITING

Rectors and vicars all over Britain watched to see which way the decision would go. Most had some church plate stored away but little money in their restoration funds.

Just how much treasure the Church of England has is a matter for conjecture. One expert has set its value at £20,000,000.

Father McIntyre's flagons stand about two feet high and look like drinking mugs with hinged lids. They are never used.

ONE TO ANOTHER

"They lie in the bank vault from one end of the year to another," the vicar said.

When the consistory court met in Wells for what was expected to be a two-day hearing, 47 objectors turned up. But the court adjourned after only five minutes and gave no decision.

It was announced the vicar had withdrawn his application to sell the flagons and the hearing was closed. Another way was found to raise the money.

Vancouver Island Christian Science Churches will have as their lesson-sermon this Sunday, God The Only Cause And Creator.

Scriptural readings include Matthew's account of Jesus' healing of the insane boy who fell "ofttimes . . . into the fire, and oft into the water," and Jesus' admonition to his disciples, "If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you."

'GOD WILL HEAL'

"Our master cast out devils (evils) and healed the sick," reads a correlative passage in the denominational textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy. "It should be said of his followers also, that they cast fear and all evil out of themselves and others and heal the sick. God will heal the sick through man, whenever man is governed by God. Truth casts out error now as surely as it did 19 centuries ago."

* * *

"In four weeks we will be celebrating Christmas," says Rev. John A. Watson of First Baptist Church. "Advent must be more than a date on the calendar. We must be prepared for it. We must open our hearts and minds to the truth of the central fact of all history."

He will speak on the theme God Became Man at the Sunday morning service, using texts from Isaiah 40 and John 1. "And the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it."

BEARS WITNESS

"There was a man sent from God, whose name was John. The same came for a witness, to bear witness of the Light, that all men through him might believe."

In the evening Mr. Watson's topic will be An Overwhelming Joy with scripture readings from Amos 5 and Acts 1. Carol Hayward will be guest soloist in the morning.

* * *

In Fairfield United Church Sunday morning, Rev. H. W. Kerley will take as his subject Sufficient Grace. The choir will sing Come, Thou Almighty King and Mrs. Gwen Cramer will be soloist at both services.

* * *

Rev. Marvin D. Evans of The Unitarian Church of Victoria will give the second sermon — The Dynamics of Change — in the series on The Open and Closed Mind at 9:30 and 11 a.m. Sunday in Servetus Hall, 106 Superior. He will repeat the sermon at 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

A party will be held at 8:30 p.m. today in the lounge and an open house will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. Wednesday.

* * *

Rev. Dr. L. W. McLean will preach at both services in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Sunday. His topic in the morning is A Leader to the People and in the evening, God With Us.

John Bray will sing a solo, My Prayer, and the choir will sing Hark, A Thrilling Voice Is Sounding, in the morning. In the evening the choir will sing the anthem Cherubim Son.

* * *

St. Aidan's United Church, which for the past few months has been holding Sunday evening services at 7 p.m., is reverting to the former time of 7:30 p.m. Rev. A. G. MacLeod will preach on Road Signs at the 11 a.m. service. Guest soloist will be Mrs. Betty Moyls, who will sing He That Dwelleth In the Secret Place. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Vera Barclay, will sing Praise. At the evening service, teachers and officers of the Sunday school will be installed.

Students Stage Organ Recital

The Victoria chapter of the Royal Canadian College of Organists will hold a student organ recital at First Baptist Church at 8 p.m. today. The recital is open to the public and will be given by Peter Bishop, Mrs. J. Yeats, Mrs. Mary Errington, Elizabeth Chinnick, Lynn and Donna Dougan, James O'Reilly, Richard Raglin and William Dyson.

Order of Nuns Ends Tradition

ST. AGATHA, Ont. (CP) — The Carmelite order of nuns here has broken a 400-year tradition by permitting the public to witness the solemn profession of final vows by a cloistered Carmelite nun.

* * *

Mary Moffit of Brantford became Sister Mary Eileen as friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony in the Carmelite Monastery chapel in this community, 10 miles west of Kitchener.

It was the first time in Canada that people outside the Carmelite community had been allowed to see the ceremony, from which even novices and postulants of the order had previously been excluded.

* * *

Sister Mary Eileen was the first Ontario resident to make her final vows at the monastery, and she becomes the 12th member of the only English-speaking Carmelite order in Canada, established in 1952.

Christmas Music Sunday

A program of religious Christmas music will be given at 3:30 p.m. Sunday in St. John's Anglican Church on Quadra Street by the Don Kyle Singers and the Orpheus Ensemble of Victoria.

The program will be sponsored by St. Peter's Lake Hill Anglican Church senior choir. The choral groups will be conducted by Don Kyle, choirmaster of St. Peter's.

A collection will be taken in aid of the building fund of St. Peter's.

Island Catholics To Talk Council

Bishop Remi De Roo has invited 200 Roman Catholic laymen from points on Vancouver Island to discuss the formation of a pastoral council. A meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday in St. Joseph's Parish Hall, 745 West Burnside.

Msgr. M. P. O'Connell said Friday the purpose of the council is threefold, and would be concerned with consultation, research and the promotion of organized action at the diocesan level, providing channels of communication between the bishop and the people.

"The council is recommended by the Vatican council," he said. "It would be broader in scope than a parish organization, because it would include the whole diocese."

Announcement of the intention to explore the possibility of the formation of the council of the people came on the heels of the establishment of a senate of priests to share with Bishop De Roo the governing of Victoria diocese.

ISLAND COUNT

There are about 30,000 Catholics in the Victoria diocese, which covers all of Vancouver Island.

The senate of priests will represent the clergy of the diocese. The Vatican Council ruled that all dioceses should have such a senate. Pope Paul recommended that the senate should have only a consultative vote. But Bishop De Roo has given the senate a role in the making of decisions.

He will share his authority with the presbyterate which is the whole body of priests in the diocese.

Formation of the pastoral council will be one of the first issues before the senate.

Mother Didn't Notice

Often we are so engrossed in the preparation for Christmas, including all the chores that a modern Christmas celebration dictates, that we have little time to think of spiritual preparation for a spiritual event.

There is the story of a mother who is Christmas shopping with her son. She is tired and her patience has worn thin. The boy has stopped in front of a window and is staring at a manger scene.

Anxious to get on with her shopping, the mother rushes to the boy, grabs his hand and pulls him away from the window.

"Come along," she says. "We don't have any time for THAT!" (From United Church calendar)

B.C. Claims Continental Shelf

Offshore Squatters Foiled

By JACK FRY
Legislative Reporter

The provincial government Friday laid claim to the vast continental shelf lying underwater off the coast of B.C.

In an unprecedented move, the executive council passed an order establishing a Crown reserve on all the mineral and natural resources of the sea bed and subsoil of the continental shelf.

* * *

British Columbia has always claimed control of offshore mineral rights. The order, signed by Lieutenant-Governor Pearkes, Premier Bennett, Mines Minister Brothers and acting resources minister Eric Martin, formally recorded this claim in writing.

* * *

Meanwhile Attorney-General Bonner's reaction Friday night to a challenge by Prime Minister Pearson that changing of provincial boundaries is a federal right was blunt.

"Who has changed the provincial boundaries?" the attorney-general asked. (See right.)

Asked if the federal government stand would hold weight in a dispute between the two levels of government, Mr. Bonner said simply: "I'm not interested in federal reaction."

Did the federal stand surprise him?

"Nothing the federal government does surprises me."

He said he had anticipated reaction against the move but refused comment about the reaction.

"I've never seen an assertion that hasn't been challenged," he said.

The Attorney-General said earlier in an interview the

'Federal Right'—Pearson

HAMILTON (CP) — Prime Minister Pearson Friday challenged British Columbia's right to take over the continental shelf off the B.C. coast on grounds that the changing of provincial boundaries is a federal right.

Mr. Pearson, here to deliver an address to a Liberal dinner, noted that the matter of provincial ocean boundaries is before the Supreme Court of Canada.

"The decision of the Supreme Court will take precedence over any of Mr. Bennett's orders-in-council," he said in an interview. He declined further comment.

Hearing Next Year

OTTAWA (CP)—A cabinet-ordered reference to the Supreme Court of Canada concerning ownership of offshore mineral rights in British Columbia probably won't be heard until February, it was learned Friday.

William Burke-Robertson of Ottawa, who is to plead the B.C. case in the Supreme Court of Canada, said he wasn't aware of Friday's B.C. claim but added it was entirely consistent with the act of ownership.

"It will have no effect on the case going ahead."

Labor Minister on Scene For Dockside Emergency

By The Canadian Press

Labor Minister Nicholson was in Vancouver today in another attempt to resolve a dispute that has tied up West Coast shipping and developed into what The Commons agreed is a national emergency.

The minister, replying to opposition demands for immediate action, said an amendment to federal labor legislation may prove the only answer.

The B.C. Maritime Employers' Association has stopped calling out longshore gangs because of what it calls slowdown tactics. The dispute started Nov. 17.

In Vancouver, a spokesman for 200 dock foremen whose strike for recognition as a union, said Friday the foremen are ready to return to work as soon as the Maritimes Employers' Association agrees to open negotiations.

CALLED TALKS

Max Hearn, president of the foremen's local of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, made the statement at a news conference.

The foremen and longshoremen called the conference to outline their positions in the dispute which has brought shipping at British Columbia ports to a standstill and threatened hundreds of workers in other industries with layoffs.

There are no ships at Ogden Point awaiting loading

LINES DRAWN

A Canada Labor Relations Board ruling says that the foremen, because they are supervisory personnel, can't be given rights to bargain collectively.

"The lines are drawn," Mr. Nicholson said grimly in outlining the situation to the Commons during an emergency debate sparked by Howard Johnston (SC - Okanagan-Revelstoke).

Mr. Johnston said that by next week 10,000 forestry work-

Fees Questioned

TV SHAKES 40 SEATS

OTTAWA (CP) — A number of MPs may have jeopardized their seats in Parliament by accepting CBC fees for broadcasting appearances and thus possibly breaking provisions of the Senate and House of Commons Act.

One published report, a story by Patrick Nicholson in the Oakville, Ont. Journal-Record, says 40 MPs may be involved.

The report said a general election next Feb. 8 "looms as more than a probability" because of the situation.

* * *

Opposition Leader Diefenbaker said Friday there is reason to believe some MPs may have acted in this way and some feel the government should introduce legislation to regularize their status.

"Retroactive legislation of that kind can't be justified in any way," he said.

The CBC is a publicly-owned corporation, financed partly by funds voted by Parliament and partly by revenues from broadcast advertising.

* * *

The Senate and House of Commons Act has provisions which originally were aimed at preventing governments from buying the votes of private MPs by making payments to them.

The penalties involved forfeiture of the MP's seat and $200 a day for every day he sits in Parliament after taking government money other than his regular salary as an MP.

A spokesman in Prime Minister Pearson's office said Mr. Pearson is aware of the whole problem associated with MPs and broadcasting fees but not of the specific situation described in the Oakville report.

* * *

The spokesman said he knows of no action planned in connection with it.

The situation has been simmering for months on Parliament Hill in the wake of questions asked last May 16 by Dr. Lewis Brand (SC — Saskatoon) but unanswered by the government.

Dr. Brand asked:

"Has any member of the present cabinet, during the past three years received an honorarium or fee from the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation

B.C.'s Bank Passes House of Commons

OTTAWA (CP) — A private member's bill incorporating the Bank of British Columbia won passage in the Commons Friday after a stormy ride through Parliament that began in 1964.

Passed earlier by the Senate, the bill now requires royal assent to make the new chartered bank legal.

Over Talks

Cabinet Unrest In Rhodesia

SALISBURY (Reuters) — Reports of discontent inside the Rhodesian cabinet and the ruling Rhodesia Front party spread Friday as Premier Ian Smith and British Prime Minister Wilson held their Mediterranean summit talks.

The conference also was attacked by Negro politicians.

Many hard-line members of Smith's white-minority government were said to be worried that how far Smith was prepared to go in pacifying the British.

They wondered how far Smith would shift toward acceptance on British demands over the nature of the Rhodesian constitution and guarantees that advance to Negro majority rule would not be impeded.

Some reports said tough words were spoken at a special cabinet meeting earlier this week when Smith disclosed his plan to meet Wilson.

But the government officially denied reports that the law and order minister, Desmond Lardner-Burke, was hurrying to Salisbury from vacation.

Lardner - Burke, one of the strong men of the cabinet, was usually to be seen at Smith's elbow during previous parleys with the British. But he was out of town during Anglo-Rhodesian negotiations at the beginning of this week.

They're Still At Sea

GIBRALTAR (Reuters) — British Prime Minister Harold Wilson and Ian Smith, breakaway Rhodesian leader, will resume their discussions today aboard a British cruiser in the Mediterranean as they seek a way to settle the year - old deadlock over Rhodesian independence.

After cruising in choppy seas all day, the cruiser Tiger slipped briefly back into the outer harbor here Friday night and was met by a launch, probably carrying urgent mail flown from London.

China Blocks Way For Russian Arms

LONDON (UPI) — Peking has blocked the trans-shipment of all Soviet war supplies to North Viet Nam through Communist Chinese territory, diplomatic sources said Friday.

The blockade reflects a further worsening of relations between Moscow and Peking, they said. Russia has been pushing for a world summit conference to drum Communist China out of the Communist camp for its "splitting" tactics and rejection of efforts for a unified aid program for the Hanoi regime.

Military supplies from Russia and other Communist countries henceforth must be shipped by the more hazardous sea routes to Haiphong, North Viet Nam's major port city on the Gulf of Tonkin.

Only a few isolated deliveries have managed to get through China to North Viet Nam recently, but only after Hanoi had pleaded their importance and urgency with Peking, the sources said.

The latest Chinese move followed Peking's ban on the overflight of Chinese territory by Soviet planes a month ago.

U.S. LOSES SIX JETS IN DAY

SAIGON (UPI) — The United States lost six jet fighter - bombers Friday in raids against North Viet Nam, American military spokesman said today. All 11 airmen aboard five F4 Phantoms and one F105 Thunderchief were reported missing.

The loss fell short of tying the single day's record for the number of U.S. aircraft downed over North Viet Nam.

Heavy anti-aircraft fire was blamed for the losses as air force and navy jet fighter-bombers lashed targets near Hanoi.

Spokesmen said ground fire knocked down four of the jets. The other two crashed due to unknown causes.

Prisoner, Chief Killed in Jail

IRONTON, Ohio (AP) — The police chief of this Ohio River city of 16,000 and a prisoner were shot and killed Friday during a jailbreak that flashed into a wild gun battle.

A patrolman and another prisoner were wounded.

Only one prisoner escaped after the quarter-of-an-hour melee around the Lawrence County brick jail and courthouse.

The fugitive, 28-year-old Carl E. Halleck, surrendered Friday night about eight hours after the shooting of Police Chief Walter Eugene Markel, 41.

Police said he turned himself in to a private citizen.

Halleck, who was armed with a deputy's revolver when he fled, had been in jail on a charge of assault with intent to kill. After Friday's shooting, a charge of first-degree murder also was lodged against him.

Halleck and William (Jim) Bailey, also 28, were identified as the men who shot Markel and Patrolman Charles Jiles, 30, at close range when they entered the jail to answer a call for help.

Bailey, jailed Monday as a parole violator, started the jailbreak. He grabbed a gun when he was taken from his cell to use a telephone to call his lawyer.

He freed other prisoners. He and Halleck took guns from the officers and forced Henry to give them a submachine-gun with one clip of ammunition.

Agency Picks 500

56,170 Cents All for Needy

The Colonist 500 Fund rolled up another record day of collections for the current year Friday as 36 separate donations brought in $561.70.

It was the highest one-day total to date and brought the fund to $3,317.00.

"Would appreciate some information as to how the recipients (the 500 most needy families in the area) are chosen," said one contributor.

In answer, the 500 families are selected by the Christmas Bureau, a Community Chest agency, from recommendations made by welfare agencies.

* * *

And there are no administration costs. Every cent of the fund goes to those who need it.

When this year's fund, the 10th annual 500 Fund, has been equally shared among the recipients, a total of 5,000 families will have benefited over the years.

When it is considered that the average family includes about four people, then it can be readily seen the fund will have been instrumental in brightening 20,000 Christmases.

People wishing to join this yuletide war on hunger and poverty may bring in or mail donations to The Daily Colonist, 2631 Douglas, or drop them off at the Avis Rent-A-Car office, 800 Douglas.

The Avis parking lot is available to those wishing to make a donation, and the office is open Sundays.

These people who made Friday the most victorious battle of the current campaign are listed on Page 2.

Tories Ignore Camp

Caucus Calls Policy Shots

By RON COLLISTER
Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — Alvin Hamilton, a leadership candidate on the rise, Friday nudged rebel leader Dalton Camp aside and asserted the power of the parliamentary caucus to make Conservative party policy.

* * *

He announced that the parliamentary caucus will hold a two-day policy-making session, in private, in Ottawa next weekend, Dec. 10-11.

Then he would go to Toronto, Montreal and Vancouver for meetings with policy liaison committees that he himself has organized.

* * *

And, in the spring, there may be a western provinces policy meeting at Banff.

To some, it was a naked attempt by Hamilton to push himself into the leadership vacuum caused by the decision of the national meeting to call a leadership convention.

* * *

Hamilton denied it. His concern, he said, was policies for the party, and he would drop the whole thing if people thought it was anything else.

Policy is usually initiated at the grass roots, at the national meeting of the party.

But, because of the leadership mess, the meeting scarcely touched policy. So, under Hamilton, policy will be initiated from the top, from the caucus.

There was a vacuum, he explained, because of the lack of policy discussion at the national meeting.

* * *

"There is no discussion across the country of what the Conservative alternative is to the present government.

"We are trying to fill that vacuum."

* * *

It was the third caucus rebuke for the national meeting.

- The first was a petition signed by 71 MPs asking Mr. Diefenbaker to stay.
- The second was the purge of the party's national executive of nearly all the rebel MPs.

Closed Vote Caps Witty Seizure

By A. H. MURPHY
City Hall Reporter

In its most decisive action yet in the acquisition of parkland, the capital district regional board has given third and final reading to a bylaw to expropriate 40 acres of land owned by the Witty brothers.

The reading occurred Thursday and was disclosed Friday.

The action to expropriate came as a climax to months of negotiation between the board and the brothers, Stanley and Leslie, members of a pioneer family which has owned land in the district for generations.

The regional board, which already owns eight acres of sandspit and on Witty's Lagoon, has offered $100,000 for the 44 acres.

The offer was refused by the brothers who say they have already received an offer of $175,000 for the valuable property. The Wittys' asking price for the land was reported Friday to be well above $175,000.

The decision to expropriate was made by the regional board meeting in camera, in committee-of-the-whole, following the regular board meeting Thursday.

Reeve Hugh Curtis of Saanich, the board chairman, said the decision was made on the unanimous vote of the board. There were no dissenters or abstainers among the directors.

He pointed out, however, expropriation proceedings could be halted at any time if hope is revived that the matter might be settled by negotiation.

A 'Death' Sentence And Where to Go?

"I feel as if I have received my death sentence," was the reaction of Stanley Witty to the news that the regional board had acted to expropriate his property for parkland.

"I have worked for years to be able to come back here and retire.

* * *

"I sold my logging business in Terrace, but I left my young son up there. He wants to come and live on the family property, but I don't want to bring him into this mess," he said.

Mr. Witty said that, when he first returned to Metchosin, he thought of building a trailer park on the property but gave up the idea when he saw public opinion was against him.

* * *

"The board has taken the full 44 acres, without any consideration as to where the family will live.

"It was the Wittys who looked after that land," added Mr. Witty, "so that it is coveted today."

Metchosin Opinion:

Odd Way To Hail Pioneers

By NANCY BROWN

Expropriation of a family's land is a strange way to honor pioneers in a centennial year, angry Metchosin residents say.

Land which had belonged to the Witty family for 101 years was ordered expropriated for park purposes by the capital regional board Thursday.

"The rest of B.C. is honoring its pioneers, but here in Metchosin we are taking their land away," was the comment of Mrs. Anna Ranns.

"We are not gaining anything —anyone has been free to go onto their property at any time. How could the board do such a thing?"

MITCHELL CRITICIZED

The treasurer of the Metchosin ratepayers association, Dan Stansall was perturbed at the action of Metchosin representative Geoffrey Mitchell in voting for expropriation.

"He was at a ratepayers' meeting here Monday, and he heard our opinion. Nearly everyone at that meeting voted against expropriation.

"Mr. Mitchell should represent us on that board, whatever his personal feelings might be."

NO ONE SAFE

"This expropriation can set a precedent right across B.C. No one will be safe. They can go ahead and take anything they want."

Mr. Stansall expects the ratepayers' group to take its story to other organizations so residents of other areas can realize the danger.

TIMING STRANGE

Another long-time resident said she felt the timing was strange.

"Other districts are going all out to honor their pioneers, and here in one of the oldest settlements we are taking away the birthright of ours.

"Desirable though the property might be for parkland, this was the wrong time and the wrong method."

Centennial Ball Features Fiddling Trio

By BERT BINNY

There were hi-jinks all the way at the Oldtimers' Centennial Ball Friday night at the Victoria Ballroom.

As a matter of fact the ballroom itself hadn't seen a crowd anywhere near as large for years. Close to 500 oldtimers (65 or older) were present and the dance floor was crowded all the time.

Polkas, waltzes, minuets, two-steps, squares and the rest occupied the whole evening except for the intermission when the crowd was thoroughly entertained by three fiddlers, all entrants in next year's fiddling contest.

* * *

The youngest of the forthcoming contestants was John Rigby. John is 14 and one of his rivals, Bert White, is just five times as old — 70.

Bert, incidentally, performed on a rather unorthodox fiddle manufactured from a chocolate box, a broom handle and a length of discarded fishline. Also he played a regulation instrument behind his back.

* * *

John received prolonged applause for his Reel de Grandmere, Humming Bird Waltz and the Orange Blossom special.

The third performer was Fred McDermott who likewise thoroughly pleased the audience with his spirited polka, Don Messer reel and waltz.

* * *

It was quite a floor show. The hall was delightfully decorated by the Chinatown Lions Club, led by Ed Chow. Music was supplied in the proper vein and spirit by the Pioneers' Orchestra led by Geoff Venables.

The whole affair was a thorough going success and a resplendent feather in the cap of the Victoria Centennial Society.

* * *

However, there was one asset which the society could not suply and this was the enthusiasm and terrific energy displayed by the Oldtimers themselves.

Ogden Nash speaks of the "forgoten glee" which the older citizens bequeath to the younger. Certainly 500 of Victoria's older citizens proved beyond doubt that they haven't forgotten how to be gleeful.

Fluoridation

Renters Vote Too

Everyone on the voters' list will have a voice next week in Oak Bay's fluoridation referendum.

Dr. Harold R. Carter said Friday the Dec. 10 fluoridation referendum is unlike money bylaws, on which only property-owners are qualified to vote.

NARROW MARGIN

He said he proposed the issue be taken to the people again this year because of the narrow margin by which it was defeated in 1965.

Last year's referendum fell short of the required 60 per cent majority by 17 votes.

ALL IN FAVOR

"Every councillor in Oak Bay has repeatedly voted in favor of fluoridating the water supply," said Dr. Carter.

He said the statements and inferences of anti-fluoridationists often are "outright misrepresentation" and he intends checking out each of their sources.

City Appeal Going All the Way

With success less than one percentage point away, the co-chairman of the United Appeal, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Noble, have decided to extend the campaign until the target of $452,000 is reached.

The appeal has raised $448,018 so far, just $3,982 short of the goal set for 1967 funds.

A final canvass will be made in an effort to reach the objective.

Hugh Stephen:

Sunday Sport Hardly an Issue

With jurisdiction entirely outside the municipal sphere, the question of Sunday sport is hardly an issue in the Victoria mayoralty election, Ald. Hugh Stephen said Friday.

* * *

One of three candidates for the top office, Ald. Stephen said that in any case he felt the matter of charging admission for Sunday sporting events was a matter for each person's conscience.

"I am certainly not in favor of wholesale commercialization of the Sabbath — a day meant for rest and repose — but if a referendum was held and 60 per cent of the voters wanted to alter the Municipal Act to make this possible, I, of course, would respect the decision at the polls," the alderman added.

* * *

Candidate Frank Hunter has come out against the charging of admissions for Sunday sport and Ald. Clyde Savage, also an aspirant, said legalizing Sunday sport was simply a matter of recognizing a condition which already exists.

For Carrier Robbers

$200 Reward Posted

Victoria Press Ltd. Friday offered a $200 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of two teen-agers responsible for the theft of $30 from a 13-year-old newspaper carrier.

* * *

Robbed of his collection money in the 400 block Garbally early Thursday evening was Brian Stewart, 454 Gorge Road East.

"Deep concern" at the incident was expressed by an official of Victoria Press Ltd. in offering the reward "to any person or persons giving information which leads to the apprehension and conviction of the guilty person or persons."

Chief Constable George Gregory of Victoria has agreed to assist Victoria Press in the proper allocation of the reward money.

Description of the two boys follows:

One, aged about 15, had long dark hair, was five feet eight inches tall, and was wearing tight grey pants and a brown leather jacket with fancy studs on it.

* * *

The second, also about 15, had long dark hair, was five feet five inches tall, and was wearing black cord pants and blue ski jacket.

Candidates Meet Tuesday

An Esquimalt all-candidates' meeting will be held in the Jubilee Hall on Fraser Street at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

The meeting will be sponsored by the Association of Women electors, and all six candidates for the three seats on council have been invited.

Although unopposed for his third term on the school board, Leslie Karagianis has also been invited to address the meeting.

Passengers Delayed

Crippled Queen Returns to Slip

B.C. Ferries' Queen of Saanich had a breakdown in her steering mechanism half-an-hour out of Tsawassen landing Friday night about 6:30 p.m. and returned to the landing to unload her Island-bound passengers.

Too late to catch the 7 p.m. sailing for the Island, her passengers were given priority in boarding the 8 p.m. sailing.

The priority was not needed however as the 8 p.m. sailing was able to accomodate both the stranded Queen of Saanich passengers and all vehicles intending to take the sailing.

Victorian Dies After Fire

Charles Dundas, 71, of 1216 Fort, found Friday in a room filled with smoke and some flame, was pronounced dead on arrival at Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Firemen found him in bed in the room and reports said he had been smoking. The firemen said they believe he was dead before they reached the scene. The landlady discovered the blaze.

December's Dark Days Still Carry Their Delights

These are grey days, damp days. December days, when headlights are needed by 4 p.m. and Victorians go to work and some home in the dark. Scene is wind and rain-swept Douglas Street. Safe-driving week, on right now, helps to point out hidden dangers. — (Kinsman)

But there are bright spots at midday when the sun breaks through and chrysanthemums bloom. Taking bright spot break in garden is University of Victoria student Wilf Nenzi, 2502 Garden.
